NO GENERAL ELECTION NEXT YEAR SAYS OTTAWA REPORT; THE HOUSE MEETS IN JANUARY

Ottawa, Nov. 25—More stir has been caused outside than inside by a report recently published in Quebec City to the effect that there would be a Federal general election next year and that, following the abolition at the coming session of Parliament of the income tax and some other spectacular tax reliefs, the appeal of the King Ministry to the people would be based on this lightening of the burden on the private purse. By creating an atmosphere of mystery about the hidden, but "dependable" source of the story, its author sought to cause a sensation.

No Quebec City cabinet minister would fly such a kite. Tax reliefs kites when flown, have their tethers not far from Valleyfield, but they are rare birds. In any case, there will be no Federal general election in 1929, and there will be no abolition of the income tax previous to that appeal.

Will Come Later.

The income tax rate is capable of reduction, which will come, but those reductions are so wrapped up in angularities of application that it is difficult for a parliamentary candidate to convince his supporters that it is either really a reduction or really an increase, that the present Government is more likely to try another means of ingratiating the taxpayers. It is more probable that within two years the sales tax will be abolished.

The present sales tax is three per cent. At this coming session Hon. James A. Robb, Minister of Finance, will announce a further reduction of one per cent, as has been his practice in the past two or three years. The rate will then be two per cent, a percentage which, it is held here, is not profitable to collect, so that when the time for an election appeal comes, in 1930, the Minister of Finance could safely promise the complete abolition of the tax at the subsequent session.

Dullness Promised.

The third session of the sixteenth Parliament will closely resemble the second, as to duration and dullness. It will probably open about the same time, the last week in January or the first week in February, and will extend into the early days of June. Transfer of natural resources to the prairie provinces, administration of the Canadian National Railways, immigration and the Tariff Board, are likely to be the central themes of the Opposition speeches and Government defence.

A Royal Commission, headed by Judge Turgeon, of Regina, has been set up to deal with the terms of the transfer of natural resources from the Dominion to Manitoba, and next month, Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta, will be here to confer with the federal government on the same subject.

C. N. R. Matters.

Renewal in a short time of the contract with Sir Henry Thornton, the commencement of the new hotel in Vancouver and near completion of the terminal project at Halifax, and the forthcoming report of Frederick Palmer on the question of a big terminal for the Island of Montreal will all serve to centre attention upon the Canadian National Railways during the session.

The tariff and the Tariff Board will receive more attention. The Minister of Finance will, when his budget is being prepared, have the Tariff Board's report on the completed hearings on coal, steel and cement. The Maritime Provinces, through their members, are likely to press for generous treatment of the demands of the British Empire Steel Corporation, but as a result of last week's disclosure of a real rift between the steel producers of the Maritimes and of Central Canada, a considerable fight is likely to be put up in the house against a surrender to Besco's demands.

Promised Support.

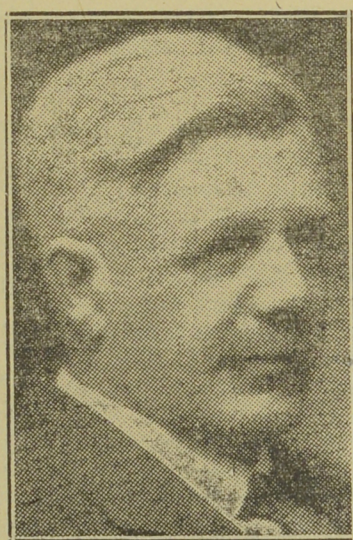

Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the opposition, has promised to pay attention to the activities of the Tariff Board, which has recently won from certain financial papers commendation for the fairness and thoroughness of its inquiries.

Commencing with December the cabinet will meet frequently every week to consider estimates and prepare the sessional program. A number of appointments have yet to be made, including two Senators from Quebec and one from New Brunswick, the Radio Commission, a member of the Dominion Railway Board to succeed Hon. Frank Oliver and a member of the Tariff Board to succeed Hon. D. M. McKenzie.

dent and had stopped his car to investigate. Mr. Hoyt drove the Messrs. Scott to their homes in this city where they were given medical aid. Mr. Scott Sr., was found to be badly bruised but neither he or nor his son had received a scratch. This is considered most remarkable considering the fact that the glass was broken from the doors and windows and the machine was badly wrecked. Had they not been using a closed car both would undoubtedly have been killed.

Pleasing Organ Recital

At the close of the evening service of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church last evening a very pleasing organ recital was given by Prof. Pugh. A large number stayed to hear the recital and each rendition appreciated greatly by those present. The program consisted of the following numbers: Sonata Romanica, Pietro. A. Yon; The Bells of Aberdovey, Stewart; Solo, "Eye Hath Not Seen" sung by Dr. Russell Dakin Hymn Tune, "Sandon" with variations Smyth.

A wrecking car was sent to the scene and brought the damaged machine to the Scott Motor Sales garage on York street.

MARRIAGES FOR LOVE THE BEST SAYS FILMSTAR

Hollywood, Nov. 26—Love, marriages are the best, according to the opinion of Madge Bellamy film star. Giving her reason she says:

"With all due respect to a mother's wisdom and judgment," she declares, "I must take exceptions to marriage based on reason only, because love is not a matter of wisdom and judgment and reason. Love is an indefinable something that makes two people the whole world to each other. It is something that can't be bought with money nor replaced by fame.

"Of course, a love marriage sometime brings hardship and suffering into a woman's life. On the other hand a marriage of reason frequently brings the lines of discontent to her face. Sometimes a girl only 'thinks' she is in love when she is but carried away by the glamour of having a good time. At such times mother does know best.

"It all comes to this—there is no royal road to happiness. All a girl can do is to make sure that her love is sincere and true."

Dean Carney's Illness

The condition of Very Rev. Dean Carney today does not show very much improvement although he is reported to have passed a fairly comfortable night. He had a bad turn on Saturday evening but later rallied somewhat. His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc came up from St. John on Saturday and called upon the patient at the hospital. Today his sister in law, Mrs. James Carney and her daughter Mrs. Smith arrived from New York accompanied by Mr. Campbell Carney, a nephew. Bishop LeBlanc returned to St. John on Saturday evening. Yesterday players for the recovery of the esteemed rector were offered at St. Dunstan's Church.

M. O. Muir of Halifax is in the city today.

SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT GAIETY THEATRE

"The Whip" is the photo play at the Gaiety for Monday and Tuesday with Dorothy Mackaill and Ralph Forbes in the leading roles.

This one is all about high society in old England with lords and ladies and dukes and earls and villains and adventuresses and fiendish machinations and dastardly villainies and right and virtue on top at the end. One of the mellest of the mellerdrummers, it is.

The play gets its title, not as one might suspect from some instrument of torture employed by the villains but from the race horse which although missing from the cast of characters is an actor about which centers considerable of the story.

The evening clothes the lords and dukes wear in the picture will interest you. Marc McDermott veteran absent for long from the films makes a welcome return.

Missionary Heard

Rev. A. D. Matheson, returned missionary from India gave a very interesting discourse at the George Street Baptist church last evening which was listened to by a large congregation. Rev. Mr. Matheson has been in the foreign mission fields of India for seven years in the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board. His wife formerly Miss Grace Machum of North Devon is a member of the Baptist church here. The address given last night was an excellent one and dealt primarily with the missionary endeavors in these foreign fields. Following the address there was an appeal for funds for foreign mission work and the sum of $75 was raised.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26—A tract of land on the Mount of Olives facing Jerusalem is to be made into a garden for prayer. It has been given to the Travel Institute of Bible Research by a woman who prefers to keep her name secret. It is planned eventually to make a Protestant bible study centre there.
