HUMAN RELATIONSHIP.

A wise man by the name of Hazlitt, a keen watcher of life, once remarked that "you can not expect people to be other than they are."
If you will think that over and say it over whenever you are losing your patience and your temper, you will save yourself a lot of worry and annoyance.
There is not a man or woman in normal life who is not faced with the problem of human relationship. The problem of living with fellow human beings is an exceedingly serious and difficult one. On the whole it is surprising how well we do it. We shall all do it better when we realize more fully the individual's right to his own personality, his own viewpoint, his own beliefs, his own behavior—so long as that behavior does not interfere with the rights of others.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS.

Miss Florence Sands, national vice-president of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, says too much rouge, lack of confidence in other women and lack of seriousness are high among the reasons why women fail in business. Some of us will be surprised to know that women fail in business. Most of us think women are successful in about everything they undertake. Miss Sands gives one reason more important than the rest—far more important. She says women lack confidence in other women. Success is based on confidence in those with whom you are associated. Without confidence there can be no business. There can be nothing. If women are going to do well in the work world they must learn to like and to trust other women.

The Provincial Police who have been working energetically on the Perth murder case since its discovery on December 31st, seem to have got their man. Today it is announced that Arthur DeMerchant, placed under arrest a week ago on suspicion, has confessed to the brutal crime. DeMerchant when arrested admitted having robbed Armstrong but denied all knowledge of the murder. A week's confinement in jail probably convinced him that the provincial police have the goods and that he might as well make a clean breast of it and tell the whole story. The clearing up of the Victoria County mystery reflects great credit on the provincial police.

Mr. Sterling, a British Columbia M. P., has given notice of enquiry in Parliament as follows: 1. The producer in British Columbia receives $2.35 for a box of Extra Fancy Delicious apples containing about 140 apples, and out of that sum he pays the costs of their production. The consumer is paying on the average, 7½ cents apiece today in Ottawa which is equivalent to $10.50. 2. What are the details of that spread?

Big convention of women cheered wildly when a speaker declared that men are the weaker sex, and tried to prove it by pointing out they feel bound to wear the ties their wives give them on Christmas. That, we think, is adding insult to injury.

According to a reply to an enquiry in Parliament a few days ago the upkeep of Rideau Hall, the official residence of the Governor General, has cost the taxpayers of Canada $2,517,247 during the last ten years.

The day is coming, it seems, when a family will be considered in a totally impoverished state, and a worthy object of philanthropy, if it finds itself unable to keep up the payments on the car.

A story is going around that troops of Gen. Tuchatschowski are in revolt in Moscow. After the story has gone around a while the name will not look anything like Tuchatschowski.

"What," asks some one, "is the key-note that makes for harmony in the marital symphony?" That's easy. A flat—the dub who plays second fiddle.

College students are being criticized for wearing coonskin coats and leaving the head unprotected, but it might be noted that exactly the same thing is done by the coon.

About the only difference between spinach and the old-fashioned spanking, as a punishment, is that nobody pretended spanking was rich in some kind of vitamins.

Judging from the way a lot of paragraphers have used that Skjellerup comet as a subject for skjesting, they must have the idea the whole thing is a skjoke.

It is a continual source of wonderment to us how a girl keeps her feet in those very sketchy pumps she wears, and what good they do her when she does.

Among the innumerable books waiting to be written by that sterling exposéur, Sinclair Lewis, is one on alienists for life.

Wilbur Glenn Voliva's theory about the world being flat seems much more plausible during the income-tax-paying season.

The expression "fraught with significance" has come into such common political usage that it is no longer fraught with significance.

Some of these very sheer stockings disclose the fact that beauty quite often isn't even skin deep.

It is sometimes only a matter of a few years until a dimpled darling becomes a dumpy snarling.

Hockey Stars Come

The management of the Fredericton Hockey Club have made final and successful negotiations to have the Regina Aces, reputed to be one of the fastest hockey clubs in Western Canada Amateur hockey, and finalists for the Allan Cup series to be played later this season, play an exhibition game at the Artic Rink on March 8th, against the local Capitol sextet. The Regina Aces are making a tour of the Maritime Provinces and will meet some of the best clubs in all of the provinces. It will be the first time Fredericton hockey fans will have the pleasure of witnessing one of the fastest Western Canada hockey clubs in action and with the reputation which staid club are bringing with them there should be a record crowd on hand to see what the local boys can do against an Allan Cup finalist.

The Love Mart at the Gaiety

There is plenty of exciting acts in "The Love Mart," the photoplay at the Gaiety Monday and Tuesday, with Billie Dove in the stellar role. The picture tells a story of those lively and teeming old days of the South when pirates and slavers made villiany the order of the hour. The star has a role that is ideally suited to her, and is supported by a well chosen cast. Gilbert Roland does some good kerk as Victor Jallot, a dapper gentleman of the time. Noah Beery gives flavor to the part of Captain Remy, a slave-runner. Armand Kaliz made a convincing figure of a Creole dandy, while Emile Chantard, Boris Karloff, Andre Lancy, and Raymond Turner are also seen in the production.

Keep Us Guessing

An old timer commenting on the mild weather last week, says that he does not want to be a pessimist, but he has seen several years when we got February weather in March. That the fascinating thing about the weather is how it keeps you guessing.

Back From Tour.

Charlie "Knucker" Irvine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Irvine of Devon who accompanied the Sussex hockey team on their recent tour of Prince Edward Island returned to the city on Saturday after having played with the team in the role of relief center in all of their games. The team was successful in defeating the Charlottetown Abegweits by the score of 7 to 4 on Thursday evening of last week. They split even in their other two contests taking one and dropping the other. Jack Howard of the Campbellton hockey club was used by the Colts as relief wing on the tour.

Will See N. B. Finals

Thomas Boyd and Niles Allan, two local young men are leaving tomorrow for St. John by automobile for the purpose of witnessing the N. B. hockey play-off between the Bathurst team and the St. John Fusiliers, at the St. John Arena tomorrow evening. Several other local persons will travel to the southern city to see the two finalists battle in the first clash of the play-off. Local hockey fans seem to think that the Fusiliers have a good chance to take the opening skidmish; but the northern entry will more than make up for it in the final battle at Bathurst.
