THE MONTH OF AUGUST

August, now upon us, has never inspired much poetry, but it is not without beauty and delightful associations. The cornfields are waving a welcome to the new month, which has inherited richly from July. There is promise of a good harvest in the green and gold of all outdoors. The picture cannot be changed in a day by tearing a leaf off the calendar. Summer sweetness does not pass in a night.

When and if the year is ever divided into thirteen equal periods, as now advocated, the beauty of much that has been written of certain months will lose its identity. Perhaps the months themselves, under the proposed reform, would lose their names and become merely mathematical characters, as from 1 to 13.

Originally August had but thirty days. You know the story. July, named in honor of Julius Caesar, had thirty-one. Roman senators borrowed a day to add to the month of Emperor Augustus. It would never do to give Caesar's successor an inferior month. Thus political sentiment can be held partially responsible for the mixup modern calendar reformers are trying to remedy.

But re-labeling the months, taking from or adding to, cannot change the march of the seasons. Neither can human hand alter the blue of the sky nor human mind re-arrange the schedule of the sun. Upon nature's inalterable resplendence we may base our faith in the Infinite; to the music of the stars we may still tune our songs of hope.

The Financial Post announces that the International Paper Company of New York will commence construction on its $15,000,000 paper mill at Dalhousie, N. B. next month. It says that the plant will likely begin operating on a 250 ton basis and that this capacity will be extended at a later date. Great credit for this new industry must be placed at the door of Premier Baxter who since taking office three years ago has worked unceasingly for the promotion of industrial development in the province.

An Ottawa despatch states that Chief Commissioner McKeown will retire soon from the Railway Board to accept the Lieutenant Governorship of New Brunswick. When a report of this kind got circulated last year it was given a prompt denial by Hon. Mr. McKeown. Should the chief commissioner quit the railway board it is said that his successor will be Mr. Justice F. F. A. Turgeon of Saskatchewan, a New Brunswicker and son of Senator Turgeon of Bathurst.

It is said now that the vacant New Brunswick senatorship will not be filled until the next session of Parliament. The names mentioned in connection with the vacancy are those of Ex-Premier Foster and R. T. Kayes and W. E. Scully of St. John, Hon. J. F. Tweeddale, James Burgess of Victoria, Dr. D. H. McAllister of Sussex, Hon. D. W. Mersereau and R. B. Smith of Oromocto.

Hon. H. M. Marler of Montreal has had himself nominated as the Federal candidate for the county of Stanstead, Quebec. The acting members Mr. M. N. K. Baldwin a veteran in public life who has intimated his intention of retiring at the next election.

Premier Baxter in reply to an interviewer last week stated emphatically that there would be no provincial election in New Brunswick this year.

There is a feeling that the "talking movies" will eliminate subtitles.

It is assumed that "Came the Dawn" will be indicated by the sound of the milkman's horse.

It is best to look at the bright side of everything but if it happens to be something you are expected to buy turn it over and take a squint at the other side.

Chinese ideographs are now transmitted by radio, says a news item. So that's what we've been getting on our new set.

Smile: As hard to find as the results of the preliminary fights the morning after a Battle of the Century.

The world won't be perfect until some one invents a foot proof automobile a rain proof pants crease and a wind proof sailor straw.

We know a man who is urging his wife to diet under the impression it may reduce the weight of her arguments.

MORE BOOTLEG MONEY BUSY IN WALL STREET

New York, Aug. 6—Bootleg money is on the increase in Wall Street. That is the name given by some commentators to surplus money loaned on call by corporations and individuals and not subject to banking regulations.

Suppose Your Car Made it Necessary to Call an Ambulance

Public opinion and the police authorities are very severe with the motorist who causes personal injury to others. The fact that a pedestrian was careless seldom carries as much weight as the fact that he sustained injuries. That your car was the cause of the injury is worry enough. Judgments are usually heavy—see that you have adequate insurance.

We can protect you against law suits and expenses should your car be the cause of personal injury to others.
