TOO MANY $2 WORDS.

There will be large popular sympathy with Prof. Arthur O. Lovejoy of Johns Hopkins in his defiant repudiation of what he calls "$2 words." There was a time when the English language was almost wholly colloquial and, let the times move how they will there still exist persons who prefer plain and instantly comprehensible speech.

What aroused Prof. Lovejoy was a debate on the question "What is Judgment?"—as if anyone on earth can answer that. Some efforts were made to do so, however at the meeting of the American Philosophical Association. One speaker suggested that judgment is an unawareness; another denied that it could possibly be propositional; a third declared flatly that there is no such thing as "an intra-judgmental state of awareness."

With reference to the last speaker it is to be sincerely hoped that he is correct. It is almost as desirable that there be a minimum of wise men who seek to translate common ideas into a pseudo-scientific jargon. Obviously, scientific development, medicine even philosophy, call for new terms to define specific things conditions or ideas but there is a limit. Prof. Lovejoy will make a lot of friends for himself. He probably doesn't call himself a philosopher anyway. He sounds like a man of good sense.

THE MODERN GIRL.

It is only fair to say that alienists and psychiatrists are not the only experts to disagree.

Dr. Cecilia Dyer Mosher of Stanford University says that the modern college girl with her interest in sports made possible by her short dresses and loose clothing has improved her general well being so much as to put to shame her Victorian ancestor of the many petticoats and stiff stays.

Miss Louise Schumeyer head of the Butler University physical training department says that while Dr. Mosher may be right in theory she is too optimistic that it is far too soon to notice any great improvement and that another generation will be required to show real results.

The appointment of Mr. Ralph St. John Freeze barrister of Sussex to the office of Registrar of the Supreme Court and Deputy Attorney General the position vacated by the death of Dr. T. C. Allen will be well received throughout the province. Mr. Freeze is a graduate of the U. N. B. and was one of the first Rhodes scholars from New Brunswick. He is a young man of energy and exceptional ability and will undoubtedly make good in the new field to which he has been called.

We imagine a great criminal lawyer's idea of insanity is not to plead it.

Keeping one's nose on the grindstone often wears away that stiff upper lip.

How is the champion husband-caller on getting one back to put on his rubbers?

Another thing difficult to transplant in the spring time is that indoor golf form.

The chap who waits too long for something to turn up in the end gets turned down.

In auction bridge diamonds count less than hearts—in auction bridge y'unnerstan'.

Our idea of a very interesting specimen would be an actor who was suffering from an inferiority complex.

A little extra bedding for the dog these zippy nights would help some. A kennel is a cold place mates.

For that large class that is looking for the maximum of physical comfort we would suggest that an onion a day keeps the whole world away.

The only person in the world who gets along better by minding some one's else's business is an efficiency expert.

In an office full of new cigar lighters it is a little tough being the only old fashioned fellow with matches.

MR. W. J. SCOTT IS HOME FROM CALIFORNIA

Fredericton Man Head of a Company Which is Conducting Extensive Boring Operations for Oil in West.

Mr. William J. Scott, and his brother, Mr. Charles E. Scott returned at noon yesterday from a six weeks trip to Southern California. On the way west they stopped at Vancouver, B. C. and paid a visit to their sisters, Mrs. John Campbell and Mrs. W. A. Anderson. While in California Mr. W. J. Scott spent some time looking over his oil properties. Mr. Scott is the head of the Scott Petroleum Properties, Inc. which concern is now conducting extensive borings for oil at Rancon Ranch, in Ventura County. When interviewed in regard to prospects of making a rich strike, Mr. Scott declined to make any statement.

Mrs. W. J. Scott who accompanied her husband to the west will remain in California until spring with her son, Charles M. Scott, who is identified with the operations of the Scott Petroleum Properties, Inc.

Mr. Scott says that the weather in Southern California at this season of the year is delightful and that the place is overrun with visitors.

HICKMAN ILL

(Special to the Daily Mail by the British United Press)

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 20—The confessed slayer of Marion Parker, William Edward Hickman, today was ill in his cell from what doctors said was a result of examinations for traces of mental disorders.

Spinal punctures were made on the youth and this was believed to have caused his illness.

Admitted to Bail

Moncton Transcript: The case of Joseph Babineau, charged under the New Brunswick Liquor Act, which arose from the stopping of a car in Georgetown after shots had been fired by the Provincial Police, and in which 140 gallons of liquor were found, was adjourned until next Monday by Magistrate Steeves in the police court yesterday. The accused is represented by James Friel, K. C., with W. E. McMonagle conducting the prosecution. Bail of $1,000 was allowed.

Wedding At South Devon.

A wedding of interest took place yesterday at South Devon, when Lyla Harvey daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harvey was united in marriage to Loring Daley of Marysville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. C. Kaine of Devon. About fifty invited guests were present at the wedding.

Entertained at Dinner

Mrs. H. H. Gunter entertained at a very delightful dinner at her home on University Avenue last evening. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McLellan who plan to leave some time next week for Boston were the honor guests of Mrs. Gunter.

Convention a Success

Mr. Harvey Mitchell, deputy Minister of Agriculture who has been at Moncton attending the Farmers and Dairymen's convention returned home this morning. He reports that the gathering was a very successful one.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

A man would have to be pretty far gone in love to appreciate Tawail's one weird tune.

There is doubt of the wisdom of abolishing hell. It might deprive too many people of an objective.

Maybe the airplane can be made foolproof. Nothing of the kind however has happened to the automobile.

"Charlie Chaplin is to be filmed as Napoleon Bonaparte." Will there be a tank scene to represent Waterloo?

George Bernard Shaw: "Every man is the same sort of idiot when he is in love." Gallantry forbids mention of women.

Speaking of leap year Peggy Joyce "can't see why a woman would do such a thing as propose to a man." It really doesn't seem necessary.

Fanny Hurst says, says she: "The good, old fashioned wife and mother is one of the biggest monkey-wrenches in the wheels of progress." Fanny knows. Ask Papa.

When the water pipes in the plumber's home freeze and burst there is confirmation of the old tradition about the shoemaker's children always running around on their uppers.

Some Rough Weather

The storm which hovered over and raged about the city for a brief period this afternoon did not materialize into anything serious and within a half hour of its coming the bright sun cleared away the remnants of it and the remainder of the day was bright and cold. At one stage is looked as if the city was in for an old time blizzard.
