THE MAIN THING.

It is a great temptation to tell the boss all the details and processes by which you were able to get the results he was after. And in the telling of the story it is quite easy to infer your own cleverness and initiative and general capacity in the matter. Probably you are not "kidding" anybody except yourself. That's what we all do—fool ourselves and go away in the happy consciousness that we have fooled the boss. The fact is he is probably bored by your recital of details. He is less likely to get a good impression of you and to give you further promotion than he would be if you merely laid down the result and walked out on him.

BEING FAIR.

It would seem to be very simple and easy to be fair. No matter what our personal opinion about a thing may be it ought to be quite within reach of our powers to present a perfectly clear, fair statement of the case. But it is not so easy. Try it. Can you really appreciate and understand another man's viewpoint and sincerity about any issue? Can you really state the evidence without putting your opponent in an unfavorable light? If you can, you have an unusually fine, fair and analytical mind.

The latest returns from the Newfoundland elections indicates that the Alderice administration has been badly beaten. Returns from thirty of the forty constituencies give Sir Richard Squires the opposition leader, twenty-one members to nine for the government. There are ten constituencies yet to be heard from. Sir Richard Squires is undoubtedly the ablest man and most outstanding figure in the public life of the ancient colony and the efforts put forth to besmirch his character seem to have reacted in his favor. Premier Alderice announced a few days before polling that his policy was to keep Sir Richard Squires out of office. That policy however has failed to commend itself to the electorate.

The city of Boston gave Governor Al Smith the democratic candidate for president, a great welcome a few days ago. The governor in his tour of the eastern states is getting lots of cheers and applause, but this does not mean that he is going to get the votes on November 6th. Unless Smith can carry the State of New York he does not stand the ghost of a chance of winning. There are some forty-two million qualified voters, one half of whom are of the fair sex, and advices from over the line indicate that two-thirds of the female vote is solid for Hoover.

The Graf Zeppelin reached her hangar at Frederickshafen, Germany yesterday afternoon after having completed the voyage from Lakehurst, N. J., in 68 hours and 56 minutes. Naturally the Germans are very proud of this great achievement. The westward trip by the Graf Zeppelin consumed 111 hours.

Radio fans who listen in these days on American broadcasting stations are able to get the benefit of a lot of political buncombe, and it enters Canada free of duty.

The theory is that foot ball fits you for the game of life, and a well known ex-right tackle has just taken on a job as contact man for an advertising firm.

A bright genius on Capper's Weekly is of the opinion that "the hardest thing is starting work." There's another chap who must have his blue Mondays.

A Tennessee mountaineer whittled himself out a complete set of false teeth. Mounted in gumwood we assume.

Hockey rules are the same as last season's, it still being unethical to carve your full initials in the opposition, with skates.

Speaking from his own experience, the Great Orator says if you don't discover the word "whom" until you are 30, it is better to let it alone.

When everything is taken out of politics that the politicians demand be taken out of politics, there'll be nothing left in politics but politicians.

An extraordinary enterprise, the Graf Zeppelin's. There was a woman aboard, yet the builder and the pilot got practically all the publicity.

It seems to us that the term "common cold" is a misnomer. To the man who has one it's always extraordinary.

RIVAL CLANS OF GYPSIES IN A FIGHT

(Special cable to THE DAILY MAIL by the British United Press.)

Belgrade, Nov. 1.—Three gypsies were killed and twenty-seven were wounded here today, in a battle between rival clans.

Shot guns and revolvers were used in the fight which arose over a quarrel between two jealous women. Gendarmes finally succeeded in breaking up the fight and dispersing the combatants.

TO RAISE ARMY OF MODERN LADY TYPISTS

Constantinople, Nov. 1.—The abolition of the Arabic alphabet in Turkey and the adoption of the Western ABC's have opened a new profession to Turkish women, stenography.

Arabic writing is a very efficient kind of shorthand in itself, most words being written without the vowels, and no other form of shorthand has existed in Turkey. The adoption of Western characters, however, necessitates the creation of a Turkish stenographic and the education of pioneer stenographers.

AMHERST WINTER FAIR

Special low fares have been announced by the Canadian National Railways in connection with the Maritime Winter Fair to be held in Amherst, November 3rd to 9th. Tickets will be on sale November 2nd and are good to return up to and including November 11th. This fair is attracting a greater number of people every year and this year promises to surpass other years in the matter of attractions. Fuller information as to fares, trains etc., can be obtained from any Canadian National Railway agent.

New Brokerage Office

Messrs. T. M. Bell & Co., of St. John, dealers in investment securities have opened a branch office at 68 Carleton Street in this city with Mr. W. E. Vail in charge. Mr. Vail will have associated with him Mr. Ralph McFadden of this city, a bond salesman of large experience. A cordial invitation is extended to all clients of the concern to make use of the many facilities available through the office.

Prank of Ghosts

Included in the pranks played on Hallowe'en Eve were the promiscuous ringing of doorbells, the sounding of the fire alarm and the shutting off of the light power of various houses by pulling meter switches. The fire alarm was rung at box 56 and was the only one of the evening.

Left Yesterday

Miss Helen Scott, B. A., left yesterday for Montreal en route to Los Angeles, where she will spend the winter with her aunt Miss Frances Everett.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Then there would be the inheritance tax to worry the poor man who might fall heir to a million.

Lima Beane thinks the grouchy man is that way because his liver has told him there isn't any more fun in the world.

One airplane tried to fly through a mountain but had no more luck than an automobile has with a trolley pole.

An out-of-town traffic officer says women are better auto drivers than men. Anyway, they are often given the benefit of the doubt.

One paragrapher says "the happiest people are those who don't amount to much and don't give a darn." Guess that's right, and about the only way to make them unhappy is to tell them they don't amount to much.

Hi Slocum says that if the hens in the Province only laid half as well as those at the Experimental Station, eggs would not be costing today sixty cents a dozen.

Died Yesterday

The death took place yesterday of George W. Chase, aged 62 years at his home at Clark's Corner. Deceased was popular in the locality in which he lived and his passing will cause general regret. He was the son of the Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Chase of that place and is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Ada B. Chase of this city; Mrs. Bessie Murray of Maquapit Lake, N. B.; Mrs. Joseph Libby, Newcastle; Mrs. Ralph Shedd, Auburn, Me.; two brothers Albert and Winslow of Clark's Corner. Several nephews and nieces also survive. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning from the late home at ten o'clock. Interment will be made at Lakeville Corner.

Sudden Death at Maugeville

The sudden death on Tuesday morning of George E. Lint, 92 year old farmer of Maugeville, has shocked the community in which he lived and sincere regret is felt over the elderly man's death. Deceased along with his wife, lived with his son, Joseph L. Lint at Maugeville and had been in the best of health up until his death. Deceased is survived by besides his wife, two sons Joseph with whom he made his home and Frederick of Presque Isle. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from the late home. Service will be conducted by Rev. M. H. Mason, of the George Street Baptist church and interment will be made in the Sunnybank cemetery.

Masquerade Enjoyed

The Hallowe'en dance and masquerade put on last evening at the Oddfellows Hall by the Oddfellows and Rebekahs, drew an enormous crowd of people and the wonderful contrast of costumes and the blending of the colors of the decorations caused gasps of appreciation from those present. Splendid music was furnished by McGinn's orchestra and a long program of dances conducted. Prizes were given for the most original and beautiful costumes; Mrs. Percy Long won the Ladies' prize while Mr. Arthur Beardsley captured the Men's Costume prize. The new hall was crowded to its capacity by interested spectators and patrons of the occasion.

Long Sleep Makes Baby Happy Again

"Our baby kept waking us several times a night, until we started giving him a little Castoria after his last nursing," says an Iowa mother. "He slept soundly from the first night and it made him look and feel wonderful better." Baby specialists endorse Fletcher's Castoria; and millions of mothers know how this purely-vegetable, harmless preparation helps babies and children, with colic, constipation, colds, diarrhoea, etc. The Fletcher signature is always on the wrapper of genuine Castoria. Avoid imitations.

NOWADAYS YOU PRESS A BUTTON

Or perhaps a switch, or some little gadget, and a lot of things happen around home that lighten labor and banish trouble.

A Whirling Fan brings a cooling breeze, and a little copper, dish-like affair throws out a sizzling blast that warms the room in no time.

Another button boils coffee, toasts bread and cooks waffles. Another does a better job than a broom. Another makes a happy laundress out of a dismal washwoman. Another one cools the ice-box. Another—but why go on?

Labor and time saving devices have come and are today within the reach of the humblest home.

And one of the chief reasons why they have come and why they are within the reach of the humblest home is the power of advertising.

Advertising has carried the news of these better ways of doing things to every home. It has created a desire to possess them, and countless thousands have purchased them, and live better because of them.

Reading advertising not only tells you about new, helpful mechanical devices for the home, but it is an unfailing guide to reliable products.

READ ADVERTISING REGULARLY. IT POINTS THE WAY TO BETTER LIVING.
