ARMISTICE DAY.

As the Toronto Globe points out, each year since the guns were silenced in the Great War at the eleventh month a two-minute sacramental silence has been observed at 11 a. m. on the anniversary of Armistice Day throughout the British Empire. The ceremony this year falls on a Sunday. The suggestion has been made by the Toronto Globe that the two-minute silence should commence church services with the congregations standing. It is no hardship for any one intending to go to church to make it a point of honor to be in his or her place a minute or two before 11 o'clock in order to participate in the simple act of remembrance for those who paid the supreme sacrifice in the war. It would be a good thing if ministers everywhere would take the opportunity on Sunday in the course of their announcements to request their congregations to come to church five minutes earlier on Nov. 11. Such a suggestion will no doubt have general approval.

A WAR HERO DEAD.

Hon. J. F. Cahan, former M. P. P. for Yarmouth, N. S., and member of the Nova Scotia government without portfolio, died at the Victoria General Hospital at Halifax yesterday. Hon. Mr. Cahan was severely wounded while serving in the great war and paralysis of the lower limbs was the outcome. He was elected to the Legislature in 1925 and was appointed a member of the government without portfolio, and also served as assistant Minister of Highways. In the election of October 1st he went down to defeat. It seems that the excitement of the political campaign brought a recurrence of his old trouble and death has been the result. Politics is a rough and tumble game and those who engage in it must always be prepared to take the bitter with the sweet. The great sacrifice which Capt. Cahan had made for his country was quite overlooked by a majority of the electors of Yarmouth in the excitement of the political campaign of a few weeks ago.

HERSHEY'S FUN.

Hershey, chocolate manufacturer, built a magnificent home in Hershey, Pa. He also had a golf course of 170 acres adjoining his grounds. Recently he gave away the golf course so that a community club might enjoy its advantages. And now it is announced that he will give away his magnificent home, so that it may serve as a club-house. This man has now given away most of his great fortune in benefactions for the many. Probably there isn't a happier rich man in America than Hershey. It is fine to leave money in the terms of a will. But what a "kick" out of life a man must get who brings joy to hundreds and perhaps thousands by using his millions while he still lives.

Premier Ferguson of Ontario in refusing an application from the Ku Klux Klan for incorporation commented on the initiation fee of $13 and intimated that somebody across the border got away with the jackpot. What the Premier says is undoubtedly correct. There is generally a jackpot connected with international organizations having their headquarters in the United States and it invariably finds its way across the border. The average American as was demonstrated in the late election, is not particularly keen on promoting the material and moral welfare of Canada and the British Empire.

Governor Al Smith says he will never again be a candidate for public office. Governor Smith put up a gallant fight in the late election and has taken his defeat like a man. He was one of the first to wire his congratulations to President elect Hoover. There is a great deal to admire in a public man who knows how to take a defeat.

Every American state bordering on Canada voted Republican in the election of Tuesday last. It is quite evident that the people of the border states do not want the Volstead Act modified or eliminated from the constitution. Canada is pretty sure to get an increased tourist traffic next year as a result of the election.

We read that in future New York's board of education will not hire women teachers under five feet in height, because they don't make good disciplinarians. How ridiculous! We recall that one of the best teachers we ever knew was a four-foot, six-inch disciplinarian who seemed to be chock-full of dynamite.

Mealtime should be a happy time, says Dr. Bundesen, famous Chicago authority on health. Anger, rage, excitement spoil your appetite and damage your digestion, he thinks. Laughter is a great exercise to take with eating. Be pleasant at mealtime and you're pretty sure to be less unpleasant the rest of the day.

We don't follow that paragrapher who, commenting on the changes in fashion, remarks: "A girl who was twelve in 1918 never outgrew her dresses." That's just as you look at it, and to us most of them look as though they had.

That Chicago woman who has been married and divorced seven times has gone to considerable trouble to prove that the estimate of one every minute remains practically unchanged.

Those bigamists who apparently have accepted the idea that two can live cheaper than one probably figure that three can live for practically nothing.

Trouble is important just in proportion as it becomes acutely personal. One man may worry as much about his dandruff as another does about his debts.

Speaking of bad breaks, a new hardware emporium on the Coast adopted the slogan, "Anything from a Pin to an Elephant," and it seems the first customer asked for an elephant.

In Constantinople, schoolgirls whose dresses don't reach an inch below the knee are sent home. It's time those kids learned they can't expect to have all the privileges of their teachers.

NEW HEALTH OFFICER FOR NOVA SCOTIA

Halifax, Nov. 8—Dr. George Macintosh, resident physician at the Victoria General Hospital, has been appointed chief health officer of the Province of Nova Scotia, succeeding Dr. Arthur C. Jost, who was retired last week, for allegedly attempting without consulting the government to formulate a policy providing for tuberculin testing of underweight children in provincial schools. It was also learned that Colonel Charles E. Bent, former director of highway motor police, had resigned he had been under suspension for several months.

AL SMITH WAS GIVEN A GREAT WELCOME

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 8—Albany, which has known Governor Smith for eight years during his residence here as executive officer of the state welcomed him home tonight on his arrival from New York City, with all the gusto it showed him while he was running for President on the Democratic ticket.

A crowd which filled Union station had been waiting for nearly an hour to greet the defeated candidate. Again the cries of "Al, Al" and "Welcome Home, Al" and "We're with you yet Al" were throated in the station and at the entrance where the crowd milled about.

The Governor appeared deeply affected by the greetings. Tears were seen to fill his eyes and roll down his cheeks. The crowd followed him as he started for the executive mansion. Hundreds lined the sidewalk and others joined in the automobile parade which accompanied the one time child of East New York to his residence as Governor.

THE MARITIMES PLACE IN THE GOLD LIST

Roger Babson, famous economist and statistician, issues each month a map in colors showing the sales and credit opportunities of the different parts of the country. When a district is printed in gold it means that the sales opportunities in that district are very favorable. For the first time in many years, Roger Babson has put the Maritime Provinces in gold. And this is what he says about them:

"Both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have shown so sustained an increase in general business conditions that we have entered them as gold areas on the Babson's sales map for the first time in many years. From all indications this situation should be continued at least through the remainder of 1928, and the Maritime Provinces may be considered an excellent field for sales campaign".

Further on in the report this noted authority states:

"High level in general business activities steadily increasing, coal mines improving, outlook for fall and winter months excellent, wholesale and retail trade good, employment good, purchasing power high, collections good".

Sentenced on Two Charges
John McGoldrick, local man was sentenced on two charges when he appeared before the Police Magistrate this morning at the police station. On the first, that of being in an intoxicated condition on a city street, he was given 30 days in jail. On the latter charge, that of damaging property, he is to pay the costs of damages at the end of his term, in default of which he will go to jail for two more months.

NOWADAYS YOU PRESS A BUTTON

Or perhaps a switch, or some little gadget, and a lot of things happen around home that lighten labor and banish trouble.

A Whirling Fan brings a cooling breeze, and a little copper, dish-like affair throws out a sizzling blast that warms the room in no time.

Another button boils coffee, toasts bread and cooks waffles. Another does a better job than a broom. Another makes a happy laundress out of a dismal washwoman. Another one cools the ice-box. Another—but why go on?

Labor and time saving devices have come and are today within the reach of the humblest home.

And one of the chief reasons why they have come and why they are within the reach of the humblest home is the power of advertising.

Advertising has carried the news of these better ways of doing things to every home. It has created a desire to possess them, and countless thousands have purchased them, and live better because of them.

Reading advertising not only tells you about new, helpful mechanical devices for the home, but it is an unerring guide to reliable products.

READ ADVERTISING REGULARLY. IT POINTS THE WAY TO BETTER LIVING.
