A REAL CONSERVATIONIST.

The news of the death at Bangor, Maine, yesterday of Mr. Thomas F. Allen, superintendent of the Tobique Salmon Club, will be deeply regretted by many old friends in New Brunswick. The late Mr. Allen was a staunch friend of conservation and was a recognized authority on all matters pertaining to that peerless game and food fish the Atlantic salmon. Mr. Allen was appointed superintendent of the Tobique Salmon Club soon after its formation in 1889 and held office continuously up to the time of his death. His duties brought him frequently to Fredericton and he often appeared before committees of the Legislature to oppose legislation of a type which he considered detrimental to the salmon fisheries of the Bay of Fundy, the St. John and Tobique Rivers. A man of fine physique and high intelligence and possessed of tact and sound common sense he discharged the duties of a difficult position in a manner highly satisfactory to all concerned. The Tobique Salmon Club, an organization composed of American sportsmen, will have no little difficulty in finding a superintendent who will give their interests the loyal and devoted service which was so characteristic of the late Mr. Allen.

WHAT IS VALUE?

The day that we begin to measure the value of education by cash register figures we have lost both the significance and the joy of education. To know for the intellectual thrill of knowing, to study for the love of cultivating the mind and the memory, to learn for the love of learning are experiences too rich to be bought by dollars.

"Today parents are worshipping new gods, ease, comfort, fashion and style. Children are not born with the virtues of truthfulness, loyalty, decency. They are trained into them by contact with other people, especially parents. And never have children paid less attention to parental advice and instruction.

"Being a successful father and mother today is a real job and not a joy ride!"

Those who have visited Niagara Falls and gazed upon this great wonder of nature will have difficulty in believing that a man once crossed the falls on a tight rope, carrying another man on his shoulders. The man who performed this death defying feat was Blondin, whose real name was Jean Francois Gravelet. It was this feat that made Blondin famous. He crossed the falls on a rope 1100 feet long and 160 feet above the water. When part way across he stopped, cooked an omelet and ate it. He executed other remarkable stunts such as trundling a wheelbarrow and walking on stilts.

The Saint John Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company has been awarded by the Department of Marine and Fisheries a contract to build an ice breaker for the St. Lawrence at a cost of approximately $759,000. It is said that the contract will provide employment for 300 men during all the summer of 1929. The ice breaker will be 220 feet long, 42 feet in the beam and equipped with engines of 3000 horse power.

Sir Henry Thornton announced a few days ago that the net earnings of the C. N. R. for the present year would be $50,000,000. In 1922 when Sir Henry took over the management of the C. N. R. system the net receipts were only $3,000,000.

The announcement that "scientific hot buns" are being planned by bakers doesn't interest us as perhaps it ought. Personally, we still incline to the ones that are not so darned educated.

That Hollywood baby less than two years old that already has a vocabulary of 300 words gives one some idea of the intensive training that is going on out there to prepare the rising generation for the talking movies.

Always an interesting sight at this season is the young couple trying to get a 16-pound turkey into a kitchenette, and finally taking it over to a friend's house to roast.

Manufacturers are seeking means to make the country "furniture conscious." You would think this could be done handily by reviving the old-fashioned horsehair sofa.

What ever became of the old-fashioned thermometer which was six feet tall, covered with medicine ads, and stood in front of the town pharmacy?

A European chemist says we shall presently derive much of our food supply from timber. It will seem odd, sawing up the hollow oak for doughnuts.

In rural districts in France the bride still steps on an egg to insure marital happiness. This is not as wasteful as it sounds, since the French make fine omelets.

A father who killed his son in Chicago got a whole court room weeping and was acquitted in five minutes. Perhaps another murder defendant will try tear gas.

A keeper at the National Zoo in Washington was gored by a gnu. This is even worse than being stuck by one in a crossword.

Jackie Coogan, now on the stage abroad, is about old enough to graduate from the Child Star class and settle down as a Boy Wonder.

Dry, Hacking Cough Was Caused By A Bronchial Cold

Mrs. A. Primeau, 36 Ingram St., Chatham, Ont., writes:—"I am pleased to take this opportunity of telling you of my experience with

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup

"Early last winter I suffered from a severe bronchial cold that left me with a provoking, dry, hacking cough. After being bothered with it, both day and night, for some time I had a professional nurse recommend the above cough syrup which I took with wonderful results, and, now, it is the only remedy I ever use for colds."

Price 35c. a bottle; large family size 60c. at all druggists and dealers.

Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

mayor and the board for the administration during the term of office. Ald. Ross said that he felt that the matter rested with the city as to his serving again as a city official. He was willing to let it go at that. He went on to say that the council had been well satisfied with Mayor Clark's administration.

Ald. Quinn.

Ald. Quinn added a few remarks to the others and congratulated the mayor and expressed satisfaction at being able to serve on the board and was greatly pleased with the courteous manner he had been treated as a new member of the council last year.

Ald. Smith.

Ald. Smith stated that he would like to continue on the board if his health improved. He would like to see the council stay as it has been during the past year.

Ald. Goodspeed.

Ald. Goodspeed in a short address said that he felt the city would learn with pleasure of the success which has attended the city during the past year. He felt that the economy which has been the keynote of the present administration, has not been used to detrimental effect on the city, the streets have been greatly improved. He spoke of Fredericton as a coming business centre and looked to see this city the centre of a vast trade within not a great number of years.

Ald. Bull.

Ald. Bull congratulated the mayor and the council on their work in the past and in concluding said that he hoped to see Mayor Clark and Alderman Ross back in the harness again for the coming year.

NOWADAYS YOU PRESS A BUTTON

Or perhaps a switch, or some little gadget, and a lot of things happen around home that lighten labor and banish trouble.

A Whirling Fan brings a cooling breeze, and a little copper, dish-like affair throws out a sizzling blast that warms the room in no time.

Another button boils coffee, toasts bread and cooks waffles. Another does a better job than a broom. Another makes a happy laundress out of a dismal washwoman. Another one cools the ice-box. Another—but why go on?

Labor and time saving devices have come and are today within the reach of the humblest home.

And one of the chief reasons why they have come and why they are within the reach of the humblest home is the power of advertising.

Advertising has carried the news of these better ways of doing things to every home. It has created a desire to possess them, and countless thousands have purchased them, and live better because of them.

Reading advertising not only tells you about new, helpful mechanical devices for the home, but it is an unfailing guide to reliable products.

READ ADVERTISING REGULARLY. IT POINTS THE WAY TO BETTER LIVING.
