(Special to The Daily Mail by the British United Press.)

New York, Oct. 17—The Feteing of the men who guided the Graf zeppelin in its perilous journey from Germany to the United States continued today with New York's enthusiasm of welcome abated only slightly.

It is not often that New York arouses itself to whole hearted cheering enthusiasm but for Dr. Hugo Eckener and his companions of the dirigible, the town released its pent up emotions.

There was no parade today such as the one that gave New York the chance to shout "Boch and American cheers", but the officers and crew are to be guests at several receptions and banquets.

Will Honor Eckener

The advertising club, the German society and the German-American Board of Trade all planned to honor Eckener and those others of the crew who can be spared from repairs on the Graf zeppelin. New York's official welcome to the fliers will end tonight after which Dr. Eckener and several of the other crewmen will go to Philadelphia and thence to Washington to receive official greetings. At Washington they will be breakfast guests of President Coolidge.

NOT A MATTER FOR THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Chief Supt. Carter Discusses the School Book Question—Govt. Aid Differs From N. S. System.

Saint John, Oct. 17—The supply of school books is not a matter which the Board of Education has to deal with it was said yesterday by Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education. School books are the concern of the school book department at Fredericton, of which G. M. Byron is in charge. Dr. Carter explained, and he said that the fact that in many districts some difficulty was being experienced in getting the full supply of school books and pupils were yet without the texts they required, was due to the failure of the publishers to stock a sufficient supply.

The supplies needed had been underestimated but new supplies were being got out as fast as possible.

With regard to the claim that school books have cost more in New Brunswick than in Nova Scotia, although the same texts are used in the two provinces, Dr. Carter said this was due to the different system of government aid. In Nova Scotia the government did not contribute free text books but gave subsidies so that the pupils should not have to pay more than 50 cents for any text books required for the primary grades. In New Brunswick on the other hand books had sold at their cost price because the government was not subsidizing but was giving outright the texts required up to a certain grade.

Dr. Carter attended the meeting of the New Brunswick provincial Red Cross executive yesterday morning and he spoke of his special desire to see the work of the Junior Red Cross advanced in the schools of the province. He afterwards accompanied Dr. S. A. Worrell, superintendent of city schools, on a tour of a number of the different school buildings. This morning he will visit the East Saint John School.

On Thursday and Friday he will attend the Teachers' Institute for Kings and Queens counties which will be held in Sussex. Other county institutes at which he plans to be present are that at Moncton on Oct. 25 and 26 for Westmorland, Kent and Albert counties, and that at Fredericton on Nov. 8 and 9 for York and Sunbury counties. The Carleton Victoria counties Teachers' Institute will be held at the same time as the York Sunbury Institute and will convene at Woodstock and it is therefore impossible for Dr. Carter to be present there.

DOHERTY LOST HIS APPEAL IN LIQUOR CASE

The Attorney General's Contention is Upheld by Judge Mignault at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Oct. 16—Mr. Justice Mignault, of the Supreme Court of Canada, today dismissed the application for a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of John F. Doherty, of Springhill, N. B. Doherty is at present serving a term of six months in York county, New Brunswick, for a second offence under the New Brunswick Intoxicating Liquor Act.

In rendering his decision, Mr. Justice Mignault supported in its entirety an objection raised by Premier J. B. M. Baxter, attorney-general for New Brunswick. Premier Baxter, at yesterday's hearing of the application, questioned the jurisdiction of a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada to grant a writ where a conviction had been made under a provincial and not a federal statute. "I can feel no doubt whatever that I am without jurisdiction to grant the writ," Mr. Justice Mignault stated.

Refers to Act.

Mr. Justice Mignault, in his decision, referred to section 57 of the Supreme Court Act, under which Premier Baxter based his objection, and to a recent court decision. "All the pertinent authorities," Mr. Justice Mignault stated, "are cited in the decision of Mr. Justice Anglin (now Chief Justice of Canada), in re J. E. Roberts, 1923, S. C. R. 152, by which it was held that the limitation imposed by the concluding words of section 57, sub-section 1 (then section 62) of the Supreme Court Act, is absolute. Here, on its face the commitment shows that the petitioner was convicted under a provincial statute, the New Brunswick Intoxicating Liquor Act."

In view of his decision of lack of jurisdiction, Mr. Justice Mignault stated there was no necessity for him to deal with the question raised by J. J. F. Winslow, K. C., of Fredericton, counsel for Doherty, as to whether the Canada Temperance Act and not the New Brunswick Intoxicating Liquor Act is in effect in York county. Counsel for Doherty had contended that any offence committed was under the Canada Temperance Act, but Premier Baxter at yesterday's hearing took issue with this statement. All proceedings, Premier Baxter stated, had been properly conducted under the New Brunswick Intoxicating Liquor Act, under which the conviction was made.

Liberals and Labor In Old Country May Reach an Agreement

Conservative Suspicions Have Been Strengthened by Recent Speeches of Lloyd George and Phillip Snowden—The London Times Thinks There Will be a Compromise Should the Next Election Give No Party a Clear Majority.

(By HERBERT BAILEY, British United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Oct. 17—Conservative suspicions that the Liberals and Labor are approaching an understanding has been strengthened rather than dimmed by the recent interchange of speeches between Lloyd George and Philip Snowden.

Today the Times under the caption "deep unto deep" analyzes Snowden's speeches and says it is clear he is not adverse to an ultimate reconciliation with the radicals whom he "loved long since but lost a while", adding that the electorate can definitely count upon the leaders of both sections of the opposition doing their best to form a compromise with the government if there is no clear majority in the Commons.

GRAF ZEPPELIN TO AGAIN FLY THE ATLANTIC

New York, Oct. 16—Dr. Hugo Eckener expects to start the Graf Zeppelin on its return flight to Germany in about 10 days.

"But first," he said today, "we will fly to Pittsburgh, Akron, Detroit and perhaps to Chicago and some other cities."

In company with Captain E. A. Lehmann, his first officer, he outlined the future of the huge zeppelin as he neared the reception New York had prepared.

"The damaged horizontal fin will be fixed by the end of the week," he said. "It is only the cover that is damaged. We will be ready to go back by the end of next week."

"With favorable winds we will probably make the return journey in three days," Captain Lehmann estimated, "but it is not safe to make guesses. I cannot say what the cause of the damage to the fin was, no definite statement could be made until after a complete investigation."

Mr. Brien has had extensive experience in live stock, being one of a family who have exhibited sheep, swine, cattle and horses for years at the larger Fairs in Ontario. His brother, J. D. Brien is general Superintendent of the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto.
