His Majesty King George Is Resting Comfortably

Had Long Periods of Sleep During the Night and His Temperature is Lower—Has Been No Serious or Unexpected Development—The Prince of Wales Returning From African Trip.

(Special to The Daily Mail by the British United Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 28—King George was resting comfortably to-day and his temperature was lower. Reports from Buckingham Palace said that the King had long periods of sleep during the night and that there had been no serious or unexpected development. It was understood there was improvement in the King's condition due to the sleep he had yesterday. An official bulletin issued at Buckingham Palace at 11 a. m. today said,

"The King passed a quieter night, temperature and general conditions remain as before". (Sgd.) Stanley Hewett, Dawson of Penn."

HINTS THAT WHITE SLAVERS ARE ON THE JOB

Port Chaplain at Quebec Says Girl Immigrants Sometimes Fall Into Bad Hands.

Ottawa, Nov. 27—Rev. Abbe Casgrain, Roman Catholic chaplain attached to the immigration service at Quebec City, was today requested by wire by the Immigration Department to present evidence in connection with his charges that young girl immigrants to Canada sometimes fell into the hands of persons of ill-repute and never reached their proper destinations.

In an interview at Quebec Monday, Abbe Casgrain said: "The system by which young foreign girls are brought into the country is not properly organized migration; it is just traffic." He has also been asked to explain what is meant by "traffic."

Investigation had shown, he declared in the interview, that intended employers had at times turned out to be unscrupulous persons and that there had been a number of deportations of girls who had gone wrong. A large number of young girls had never reached their intended destination.

There was no evidence of such a condition in the hands of the department, officials stated here today. There had been cases where girls had not reached intended destinations because they had been taken care of by relatives and friends who intervened.

Officials declined other comment until a reply is received from Abbe Casgrain.

The difficult thing, when one is 19 and thoughtless, is to distinguish between true, lasting love and a swell yellow roadster.

OWNERSHIP OF ISLANDS IS INVOLVED

The Restigouche Salmon Club Case is Being Heard by Judge Byrne at Campbellton.

Campbellton, Nov. 27—The case of the Restigouche Salmon Club vs. His Majesty's Minister of Lands and Mines for New Brunswick, which involves the ownership of certain islands in the Restigouche river and salmon fishing privileges pertaining thereto, commenced this morning in the Campbellton town hall before His Honor Judge J. P. Byrne, at 11 o'clock Hugh A. Carr, solicitor for the Restigouche Salmon Club, and Peter J. Hughes, K. C., of Fredericton, appeared for the plaintiffs, while Premier J. B. M. Baxter, Attorney-General for the province, with Ralph St. John Freeze, of Fredericton, Deputy Attorney-General, represented the Government. Hon. C. D. Richards, Minister of Lands and Mines, did not attend the morning session.

When the court opened, H. A. Carr briefly outlined his case, stating that his clients as an incorporated club for fishing purposes in New Brunswick and Quebec and the owners of lands and waters along the Restigouche river and its tributaries claimed certain islands and salmon fishing privileges at a point where the Matapedia river emptied into the Restigouche and it was this stretch of property which was under dispute.

Ownership.

It was at the conclusion of the reading of the descriptive portion of a deed from James Adams and his wife to the Restigouche Salmon Club, dated June 22, 1878, and recorded on June 28, 1878, in the registry office at Carleton, Bonaventure county, Quebec, that the attorney-general arose and asked Mr. Carr if he was attempting to establish claim of New Brunswick property which had been recorded in deed through a Quebec registry office. Mr. Carr replied that no doubt the question of boundary between Quebec and New Brunswick and final disposition of provincial claim of the property involved would be argued as the case proceeded.

At this point a conference was held between opposing counsel, resulting in Mr. Carr moving that court adjourn to permit a visit to the disputed property in order that the exact location might be viewed by all. This was agreed upon and the court adjourned until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. E. P. N. MacLaughlan, of Campbellton, was clerk of the court and P. G. Leonard, of Saint John, court stenographer.

NEGRO GOING TO CONGRESS FROM CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 28—One member of the disrupted Thompson-Crowe political organization survived the avalanche of Nov. 6 votes to emerge a member of Congress, the first negro Illinois ever sent to Washington. No since 1903 has one of his race been in Congress.

He is Oscar De Priest, 58 years old, only one generation removed from slave days in Alabama. Virtually all others of the Republican faction formerly controlled by Mayor William Hale Thompson and State Attorney Robert E. Crowe, were swept out of office, or away from it, in Cook county races.

De Priest succeeds to the 1st district seat occupied for 23 years by the late Martin B. Madden. The congressman-elect was bitterly opposed by certain Republican factions who supported an independent candidate, and by a Democrat.

De Priest now is under indictment in connection with vote frauds and other irregularities at the primary of last April. He has been one of the targets of the special grand jury action that followed violence and murder at that election.

Madden's successor was the first negro alderman in Chicago and the first county commissioner of his race. He maintains a real estate business, leaving, however, much of its operation to a son. Politics largely occupies his time.

TESTAMENT IS ISSUED IN NOVEL FORM

The New Testament, in paper covers, stands side by side with the best seller on the shelves of Paris bookstores. Its price is the same as that of any paper covered novel—fifteen francs. There is no preface and the matter is not arranged in texts, but is printed solid.

MAY GO AFTER INSURANCE COMPANIES

Amherst, Nov. 27—Urging upon Charles Gero, K.C., Master of Chambers, Osgoode Hall, Toronto, the need of instituting suit against the insurance companies to determine their liability, to make good the losses sustained on insured notes and to recover this money from the said insurance companies was the gist of a letter drafted here tonight by Maritime shareholders in the defunct Manufactures' Finance Corporation of Toronto.

The meeting called by D. W. Robb, of Amherst, one of the largest of the Maritime shareholders, at the same time demanded the need of a thorough investigation into the affairs of the company, urging that the inquiry on the part of the liquidator, G. F. Clarkson and other officials, be pressed to a definite conclusion. Mr. Robb, in a brief statement, remarked that it was the duty of shareholders as citizens to "see that the mess was cleaned up as far as possible," if only to determine the methods of management, and thus warn future investors.

Twenty shareholders attended the meeting, while telegrams and letters were received from other parts of the Maritime Provinces urging all possible action.

LONDON CANON URGES MONTH'S PRESS HOLIDAY

London, Nov. 28—The Rev. Sidney Arthur Alexander, canon of St. Paul's Cathedral, believes that suspension of publication of all newspapers for a month would be a great benefit to society.

"Modern journalism—with all its great qualities and achievements—is largely responsible for the intellectual degeneracy of our day," said the canon during a sermon in St. Paul's.

The reading of modern newspapers induces chronic restlessness and destroys the power of concentration, said the clergyman.

Few men have any confidence in the last match.
