SEASON OF AILMENTS.

At the beginning of the long season of colds the loss in efficiency, wages and the cost of medicines and doctors' fees is mounting rapidly. With the first intimations of the autumn and winter season come the annual grief and tribute to diseases of the breathing tract. As the weeks pass common stock in the aspirin trust becomes more valuable.

A Chicago newspaper remarks that the annual American loss in working time through disease and disability is at least $3,000,000,000. Preventive medicine can reduce that contribution to waste and in doing so can save the people millions that go toward the extraordinary expenses of illness.

Costly though sickness is, however, nothing is gained and much may be lost by trying to evade it. One should try to avoid sickness, but when it comes, to dodge its responsibilities and to substitute ignorant home practice for scientific care is foolish. By stopping work, going to bed and calling the doctor at the beginning of an infection people often will escape pneumonia and other dangerous diseases.

The more people know about right living the healthier and happier they will be. Medical Associations could do an immense service to humanity by putting the common tenets of health before the people in the form of institutional or group advertising. It could in this way combat quacks, frauds and cults that impress ignorant and credulous people by their blatant claims. The associations should be a health teacher, leading in raising the standards of popular knowledge of disease prevention.

CONCERNING FRIENDS.

It is not likely that any one of us has a large number of friends. We may have a large number of acquaintances. How many people are there among your acquaintances whom you can absolutely trust under all circumstances? How many will tell you the truth when you ask it? How many will not try, under some conditions, to deceive you and to shield themselves? How many are merely fair weather friends, who can not be counted on when it rains? How many care little or nothing about you and your interests but care much about what you are able to do for them?

An air passenger service has been set up between Chicago and Rochester, Minn. It is primarily for the use of doctors and patients who desire to get to the Mayo clinic in a hurry. If somebody was wise enough to devise some method of doing as much for the soul of man as has been done for his body we might look for a great race upon the earth. We can call upon experts and reach them in flying machines when we want to save our own souls—and that is a great undertaking.

Mr. J. D. McKenna, ex-M. L. A., speaking at Moncton on Thursday evening, according to a report from a friendly source which appeared in the Telegraph-Journal, used these words: "The time has come when we must stand shoulder to shoulder and forget politics." This ought to set at rest the humor that Mr. McKenna is aspiring to the leadership of the Liberal party in provincial politics, and has offered to head an opposition ticket in Kings County at the next election.

A physician says there are fashions in diseases just as in clothes, and that "most of the so-called 'flu' is nothing but an epidemic of bad colds." Well, to tell the truth we had suspected something of the sort ourselves, but certainly we didn't expect one of the fraternity to prove traitor to the brethren.

It is said that the General Motors Company are considering the advisability of establishing an automobile assembling plant in the Maritime Provinces. Fredericton with its central location and many other advantages should be in the market for an industry of this kind.

In Boston it is Chelsea; in New York, New Rochelle; in Detroit, Pontiac; in Chicago, Cicero; in Fredericton, Devon—meaning the places the ham comedian thinks are always good for a laugh.

Sooner or later, observes an exchange, the automobile industry will have to figure out some way to get an old car off the road whenever a new one is sold.

The young lady who was overheard recently when she pronounced it "Daracula" is probably a sister to the athletic young man.

One of the great events of the present year, awaiting to be chronicled was the discovery of the West Indies by the St. John Telegraph-Journal.

The 27 Vestris survivors, who were rescued once more when the Celtic went on the rocks at Queenstown, might just as well get to like cork vests.

Ohio woman whose husband deserted her twenty-two years ago has applied to the courts for a separation. It's a good trick if she can do it.

"Not all men marry the girls they want," observes a paragrapher. We should say not. The law doesn't permit that sort of thing.

Thanks to science, says the Office Cynic, there is more and faster transportation to nowhere than ever before.

Intelligence Test: Any collection of 40 or 50 questions to which the eminent psychologist giving the test happens to know the replies.

As showing what industry and stick-to-it-iveness will do for a chap, a cub reporter out in Chicago getting $18 a week has been willed $6,000,000.

The Old Days were when you could refer to a sum as low as $1.00 as "round numbers."

A Homecoming in base ball might be exciting, with Rogers Hornsby starting off on five difficult trains.

Cincinnati court has decided that radio music isn't noise. Yes but all that comes in isn't music, either.

Santa Claus Heard From

Dear old Santa Claus talked to the children of Fredericton and vicinity last night through the medium of Station CFNB which was apparently hooked up with Dawson City. He read a number of letters from children suggesting suitable gifts which they would like to find in their stockings on Christmas morning. One bright little girl promised to leave a lunch for Santa near the fireplace and he assured her it would be appreciated. During the evening Santa received a telegram from Dawson City informing him that a lost bag of toys had been found and would be forwarded immediately to Lawlor and Cain, Limited of this city. Santa promised to talk to the children through station CNEF again on next Monday evening.

A Big Day

The Grand Hotel, which is regarded as the best hostelry in the city catering to the country trade, had its busiest day of the year today, having served dinner to nearly two hundred people. The dinners served by Lanford Kitchen at the Grand are guaranteed to last until supper time.

Tied at Paris

Word has been received of the death at Paris of Mrs. Edmund Fattersall, daughter of Sir James Dunn, well known Canadian financier. Mrs. Fattersall was well known in Fredericton, Bathurst and other parts of New Brunswick.

Mrs. Frank Murchie has gone to New York to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hill of St. John are among the visitors to the city.

THROUGH OUR SIEVE

Scientists say the earth is slowing up. Nobody else has noticed it.

Seems a long time since we heard a mother telling her daughter to pull down her skirt.

In fashionable circles frogskin shoes are featured. That's hopping into headlines.

Many men go broke from following their natural bent. If saying that is old stuff—well, we needed the paragraph.

Radio has been instrumental in revealing as never before the difference between professional and amateur musicians.

A man's life was extended two hours while prisoners gave a show at Sing Sing. The message stated he didn't have to attend the show.

Lima Beane thinks the most uncomfortable place to be is where you must swallow something you don't like either literally or metaphorically.

A bachelor can't understand why law sends a man to the penitentiary for having four wives when the gates of the lunatic asylum are wide open.

There are many men who ought to have a monument bearing this inscription: "Erected by Prophets Who Said He Would Never Amount to Anything."

A British scientist thinks that a thousand years hence chemistry may create an artificial man. And he'll probably be something like the artificial flowers we have today.
