SENSATIONAL CHARGES ARE PREFERRED AGAINST POLICE IN THE IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT

London, May 17—The House of Commons tonight and this afternoon heard the metropolitan police charged with third degree methods in connection with the case of Miss Irene Savage when Labor members demanded that an inquiry be ordered by the Home Secretary, Sir William Joynson-Hicks.

The case against Sir Leo Money and Miss Savage, who were charged with improper conduct, in Hyde Park was dismissed on May 2, with the statement by the Magistrate that the case should never have been brought. Today the Labor members, led by Thomas Johnston charged that since the case was dismissed, two police officers took Miss Savage from her place of business and, keeping her incommunicado, subjected her to close questioning at Scotland Yard for five hours during which questions of the most private and embarrassing nature were put to her.

Debate in House.

The Home Secretary granted the demand for a special debate tonight on the subject and ordinary business was suspended. He admitted that there was undoubtedly a case for inquiry and that the accusations made if true were of the most damning character to the Metropolitan Police Force. He suggested that one of His Majesty's judges should hold a full open inquiry into the matter.

Two Inquiries

Arthur Henderson, in behalf of the opposition, accepted this suggestion and after the debate was concluded had a consultation with the Home Secretary. As a result of this it was said, an announcement may be expected tomorrow in the House that two inquiries will be made. One would investigate the specific case raised by Johnston and the other the allegations that the police had generally adopted third degree methods. It was thought probable that a judge of the High Court would preside over each inquiry.

The Home Secretary, during the afternoon, had tried to parry the questions by stating that he referred the whole matter of the Hyde Park case to the Director of Public Prosecutions with a view to finding whether the two police officers who arrested Sir Leo Money and Miss Savage were guilty of perjury.

General Investigation

The debate was regarded as a demand for a general investigation of police conduct and in the interests of protecting the public from alleged illegal police methods. The Home Secretary concluded his statements by expressing the hope that the House would think that he had taken the only right course in the interests of justice, of the community and of the morale and discipline of the police force.

Both Sir Leo and Miss Savage had denied the charges against them. He described himself as married, formerly a member of Parliament or twelve years, and once the holder of office in the government. Counsel for the defence had said that Miss Savage was engaged to be married and when she left the court a man stepped forward and embraced her. The magistrate in dismissing the case assessed costs of £10 against the police.

RUM RUNNERS TURNED OUT TO BE MILK THIEVES

Washington, May 18—A report from federal prohibition agents in northern New York has brought a new anecdote to officials of the department here.

A messenger reported to the agents that a big still was operating in Ulster county, where almost every night, a couple of hours after midnight, men congregated in a barn, started fires and brewed liquor for two hours, then hauled it off in a large truck.

The force was mobilized and moved to the scene. Promptly at 2 a. m. a truck backed up to the barn and sounds of activity were heard inside. The agents rushed the barn at a signal from their chief—and found not a gang of moonshiners, but a crowd of milk thieves busy milking the herd of a dairyman.

EDISON IS THE GREATEST OF ALL THE INVENTORS

Paris, May 17—Edison heads the list of the world's great inventors, in a voting contest conducted by a Paris newspaper.

The American was the favorite because of the benefit of his works to humanity. The phonograph and the electric lamp are given as his principal achievements.

The next four inventors, in order, are Jacquart, inventor of the textile loom; Ampere, father of the electromagnet, because that led to the perfection of the telegraph and telephone; Ader, given credit for getting off the ground in the first heavier-than-air flying machine; and Branly, whose work contributed much to practical wireless.

HUES IN HOUSE MATCH MOODS

New York, May 18—Elinor Glyn's apartment has a color scheme based on her theory that one's moods respond to the vibrations of hues around one. For instance the writing room is in turquoise; it makes the thoughts brilliant. Her secretary's room is the hue of the darkest part of the American Rose because the secretary is young and beautiful and should be surrounded by love.

THE VATICAN ORGAN GIVES VIEWS ON GIRLS

Rome, May 18—"Don't Americanize young girls," pleads Osservatore Romano, vatican organ, in reference to papal opposition to Fascist athletic drills. "Modern competitions of such nature among women come from Anglo-Saxonism."

BUD AND POPPY.

New York, May 18—Mrs. James A. Stillman is back from Europe with an endorsement of psychoanalysis as "the cat's cuffs," although deep stuff. And she revealed that her son Bud calls his bride "Poppy."

WILL CHECK PROFANITY BY TELEPHONE

Constantinople, May 18—In an effort to check profanity over the telephone the government has decided to install girl operators in the exchange at Bagdad.

The telephone system throughout Turkey is antiquated and difficult to use, but that at Bagdad is said to be the worst.

Patrons of the telephone system usually become so angry at their inability to get a number that they give vent to their feelings in profanity directed against the telephone and the operators. The "centrals" at present are men.

Basra is the only city in the near East with automatic telephones.

Removes Warts

"ENGLISH WOMAN" writes to the Montreal Star:

"I read a letter in your paper asking for a remedy for warts, and as I found one that took an ugly one off the side of my forehead I will give it to you. I had a bottle of Minard's Liniment in the house that I use for rheumatism, and casually reading directions I saw it was a good thing for corns and warts, so being so simple I tried it. Just dab it on with the cork two or three times a day letting it dry on. Well it all went away in about two weeks, dried up and came off by degrees."

"Another also appeared on my cheek not so large, but I applied the same remedy and could pick it off like the other."

cases ended in death! So a recent Canadian investigation showed. These were not cases of infectious diseases—of consumption—of typhoid! They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-prick—and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted. When you or your children sustain any injury, ensure against infection by applying Zam-Buk. This balm soothes the pain, stops bleeding, and by destroying all germs prevents blood-poisoning, etc. Hence no time need be lost from work or pleasure by those who use Zam-Buk. New Brunswick's Forests, must BE PROTECTED!

Over 20,000 of our people depend upon the forests for their jobs.

The development of Forest Industries and the Prosperity of New Brunswick depend upon the life of the trees in our forests. New Brunswick's lumber and pulp and paper industries represent a capital investment of over $50,000,000 while salaries and wages paid to workers in forest industries in this Province amount to almost $10,000,000 annually. Establishment of new pulp and paper industries, new hardwood and sawmill plants and the expansion of existing industries involving another $50,000,000 or more is dependent only upon the preservation of New Brunswick's forest resources.

The greatest enemy of our forests is human carelessness and until each individual realizes personal responsibility and co-operates to prevent forest fires the appalling losses of past years will go on, despite all the Government Fire Rangers can do. Forest fires in New Brunswick in 1923 caused losses totaling $3,500,000 and cost the Province $100,000 in revenue annually for the period which will be required for the destroyed forests to grow again. We cannot stand such losses. Forest fires must be prevented! There is only one way to do this. Don't let the forest fires start!

Save New Brunswick's Forests—They're Yours.
