THE CARE OF HEDGES IS VERY IMPORTANT

(Experimental Farms Note.)

If hedges are well planted the subsequent care need not be great. Healthy, vigorous, young trees should be secured for hedge planting. They should be set from two to three inches deeper in well prepared soil than they stood in the nursery, to allow for lifting by frost before they are established. The trees should be set in the surface soil to which well rotted manure has been added, and the subsoil spread on the surface for a distance of eighteen inches on either side of the hedge to keep down the weeds and grass. This area should be cultivated for a number of years.

The young hedge should be watered when planted, and during dry weather in the first season. Hedges should be pruned when set, and then left without pruning until the following season, or until they are well established. The time for pruning hedges in the Maritime Provinces may vary slightly, but the first week in August has been found to be very satisfactory, according to results obtained at the Dominion Experimental Station, Charlottetown, P. E. I. This causes a second growth that thickens up the bottom of the hedge and gives the new wood time to mature before the severe frosts of autumn occur.

Deciduous trees should be pruned back more severely than the conifers. The hedge will thicken up best if it is pruned with a flat top for a few years. This shape also allows the rain to penetrate to the roots near the trunk of the trees. Once secured by trimming and pruning. The oval hedge looks very well for caragana, buckthorn, barberry, crataegus, lilac, witch-hazel, etc. A sharp roof-shaped top is sometimes used for the cedar, or arbor vitae, trees.

The deciduous trees can be renovated if they become unsightly by very severe cutting back early in the spring. The spruce or arbor vitae will

FAIR NAME OF CHICAGO WAS DEFENDED

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The Gordon Dress Shop was being held up.

One man handled the revolvers while his companion did the robbing. Mrs. Edris McIlhenny, a saleswoman who hasn't been in Chicago long, remained silent at first as the costly frocks were tossed into a pile. Finally she gave voice to extreme indignation. Such a thing as this, she told the robbers was an outrage, and just what one might have expected in Chicago.

The man with the revolvers whirled menacingly.

"Enough of that, lady!" he said sharply. "If you were a man, I'd shoot you for that remark. It's talk like that that gives Chicago its bad name!"

Then the robbers drove away with $10,000 in merchandise.

not survive such renovation.

The most troublesome insect on spruce hedges has been the pineapple spruce gall. The treatment is a thorough spraying with kerosene emulsion or with a miscible oil early in May, when the young are moving to new growth.

CHOCOLATE ROLL

Bake a sponge cake mixture in a shallow pan. As soon as removed from the pan spread with chocolate and filling and roll. Serve with whipped cream.

CHOCOLATE CREAM FILLING

2 squares chocolate
1 cup water
3-4 cup sugar
1-3 cup flour
Salt
2 eggs
2 cups scalded milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cut the chocolate in pieces and place in saucepan with the water and stir over the fire until smooth and thick. Mix the sugar, flour and salt together, add to the chocolate and when smooth add the milk and cook over the direct heat ten minutes, stirring constantly. Beat the eggs until light add the mixture, cook three minutes, remove from the fire, flavor and cool.

SPONGE CAKE

3 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
Salt
1-4 cup cold water
Break the eggs into a bowl add the sugar and beat together ten minutes, add the dry ingredients which have been sifted together and the cold water. Bake in a slow oven (320 degrees Fahrenheit) twenty-five to thirty minutes.

STEAMED PEACH PUDDING

1 pound flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons each of cinnamon, cloves, mace.
2 cups sliced peaches
1-2 pound suet
1 1-2 pounds raisins
1 1-2 pounds currants
2 eggs
3-4 cup molasses
3-4 cup syrup
Mix in the order given. Fill greased molds two thirds full. Cover tightly with oiled paper. Steam five hours. This recipe makes four puddings, each of which will serve five persons, and may be kept for months.

SUNBEAM SALAD

Four large fresh peaches or eight canned halves
1-2 cup raisins
3-4 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons uncooked cranberries
Lettuce
The peaches are cut in six or eight slices and placed on lettuce in a circle leaving a centre of one inch in diameter and in it put a teaspoonful of raisins that have been chopped. Between each wedge of peach put a tiny bit of dressing which is mixed with the cranberries and sprinkled with nut meats if desired. The peach should be placed on lettuce, stone side down.

PRUNE CREAM

Skin and stone four stewed prunes press the flesh through a fine sieve fold in six tablespoonfuls of whipped cream heap it in a small glass stem dish, make a tiny hole in the center and put in one tablespoonful of orange juice; serve at once.

SAILING FOR HOME.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Premier Mackenzie King will sail for Canada on about the 19th of this month, according to word received here. He will probably be accompanied on his return journey by Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways, and Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Government leader in the Senate.

M. D. Milligan of Sussex is in the city today.

AUTUMN

Fair autumn, with her brilliant gown
Of purple, yellow, blue and red
Has come to stay a while in town
Until all singing birds are fled
Away from frosty, windy days
To find a sun with warmer rays.

The high hole's call no more is heard
From out the trees nearby;
For lo, it seems each pretty bird
No longer dares to let his cry
Peal joyfully beneath the trees
That sheltered many jubilees.

But asters in their blue and white
And purple fringes by a road
Are giving us a rare delight
When we have left a fair abode
To feel a new, enticing charm
Abounding gaily on a farm.

So let us now begin to hum
A tune about the autumn's lure
And gleaming winter days to come
When over all a coverture
Is lightly laid to hide the nude
And barren trees in merry mood.
