GROUND STILL GOOD

Even the best flying men keep their feet on the ground, figuratively speaking. Captain Dewar, British aviation expert, says commercial aviation has about reached its limit of development. He points out that a hundred tons of freight, carried easily on a train, would require 20 or 30 planes, while a tramp steamer of no great size, can carry as much freight as hundreds of planes. In other words he does not see how commercial aviation can pay its way. Any enterprise which cannot pay its way cannot come into popular use.

It is to be said, however, is it not, that the air mail alone justifies the use of planes? And the small, light comparatively inexpensive passenger plane is surely practical. Despite the fact that aviation like everything else new, has suffered at the hands of thoughtless enthusiasts, there is plenty of future for flying.

BOYS AND BOYS

Who said boys will be boys? A deckhand on a ship arriving at an eastern port proves to be a college lad—a Ceylonese from Colombo, in the far Indian ocean. He is a graduate of Cambridge university, in England. All the young adventurers are not American college boys. This youngster, born on the other side of the world, is like other youngsters. And one learns that football is his favorite sport. He is out just now to see the world. Folks are folks.

The members of the British Empire Parliamentary Association have come and gone. Inclement weather somewhat marred the pleasure of their visit here, but they had a good time and heard and saw much of interest. The banquet tendered by the provincial government at the U. N. B. memorial hall was highly successful in every way. The speeches which were high class were broadcast by Station C. F. N. B. and were greatly enjoyed by hundreds who listened in.

Radio shows bring out television, the "infant of the radio family." Nobody scoffs and more. Those of us who have nothing important to add will do well to sit quietly and wonder what is coming next. To hear and see what is not there to be heard and seen has become a commonplace in this mysterious world.

For some time we have been wondering what the girls would do next in the matter of skirts, because it was a foregone conclusion they would do something, and now we have had a hint of the next move. It's indicated from Paris they will slit them up the side. Ho, hum!

We are told that young women now spend 120 per cent. more on clothes than they did in 1914 and the sad part of it is that turning back to the photographs of that day we find they got a lot more for their money.

Husbands of a Minnesota town have adopted Mussolini's idea of the "subservience of the woman to the man" and have formed an organization to put the ladies in their place. Why is it that some men will go the full way to meet trouble?

Nevertheless as time goes on there seem to be fewer evening affairs where the guests have to call up later to find out what kind of a time was had.

What makes a rabbit thoughtful as winter comes is that there seem to be more sealskins in the world than seals.

A preacher says there is no place in religion for politics but the idea a lot of others seem to be working on is that there is a place in politics for religion.

We feel like preaching. The spell comes on occasionally but is not alarming. The particular urge is to tell people that much of their trouble is imaginary and may never happen, probably won't. Lots of people hold others responsible for what they label unhappiness, forgetting that the kingdom of heaven is within them. That's all.

FREDERICTON W. C. T. U. HELD REGULAR MEETING AT MRS. GOODSPEED'S HOME

Delegates Named For Provincial Convention—Superintendents Appointed For the Year.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. C. N. Goodspeed, George Street yesterday afternoon. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Charles McQuarrie, after Psalms and scripture reading prayers were offered by several of the members. The delegates to the N. B. Temperance Alliance Conference read reports and said that a new Field Secretary was to be appointed. At the meeting Mayor Clark paid a tribute to the W. C. T. U. for the support of the Alliance.

Four delegates were appointed to attend the Provincial W. C. T. U. meeting at St. Stephen, they were: Mrs. D. Ferguson, Mrs. E. Horncastle, Mrs. Charles McQuarrie and Mrs. W. W. Clark. Superintendents were appointed for the year as follows: Parlor Social, Mrs. D. Munro, Mrs. Charles McLean; Travellers' Aid, Mrs. J. Ferguson; Press, Mrs. I. N. Kierstead; Jail, Mrs. H. True; Willard Hall, Mrs. E. Miller; Evangelistic, Mrs. C. McQuarrie; Lumbermen, Mrs. C. Morgan; Flowers and Fruit, Mrs. J. Kelly and Mrs. Annie Currie.

Mrs. M. Hagerman reported on visits made at the City Alms House. A tribute was paid to Miss Lois Goodspeed and members of her family for disposing of the exhibits from the Coverdale Girls' Home. Their work was excellent and over eighty dollars was realized for the Inter-Provincial Home. The meeting closed with the Aronic benediction.

ROOSEVELT WINS IN VOICE TEST

Los Angeles, Sept. 27—While actors and actresses, who have appeared only in the movies are worrying about their voice qualities for availability for talking movies and former stars of the stage have been conceded the advantage because of experience, it has been reported that of all whose voices have been tested a man who is not an actor at all has the most perfect voice yet found for the "talkies."

The honor goes to Franklin D. Roosevelt, well-known Democratic leader. Roosevelt, of course, is known as an excellent orator and the finding in his favor is not altogether sensational. Roosevelt is not the only person not of the stage who has had his voice tested. For many distinguished persons have had tests made of their voices.

SOME ARE NOT SO GOOD—

If there were only one Insurance Agency in the world there would be no mental effort required in picking the right one to handle your Insurance business. But there are scores. Some are good, and others not so good. Many folks think our agency about the best of the lot. Of course, we wouldn't claim that much, but we are trying hard to make it so.
