MR. BENNETT'S TOUR.

Concerning the visit of Hon. R. B. Bennett to Prince Edward Island, the Charlottetown Guardian says:

"Mr. and Miss Bennett have come and today will conclude their triumphal progress by campaigning in Prince County. Never, even in the heyday of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has there been more genuine and enthusiastic interest evinced in an Opposition Leader between elections than there has been in Mr. Bennett. Of him it may be said, he came, he saw, he conquered the goodwill and respect of the vast audiences he addressed throughout the Province. Mr. Bennett is a born leader, careful, thoughtful, incisive and with that dramatic touch in oratory which thrills his hearers. He has left a very favorable impression on the whole Maritime Provinces, and upon Prince Edward Island in particular.

"Miss Bennett has also created profound interest among women in matters political. She is not by any means a fiery suffragette, rather a winsome, domesticated lady vitally interested in the development of her country along safe and progressive lines. She is intensely Canadian, intensely devoted to the realization of her ideals of what this great country should be. The Leader of the Liberal-Conservative party and Canada as a whole are exceedingly fortunate in having a lady of such great talent and attractive personality assisting in the direction of public affairs."

LEARN TO USE IT.

The English language is the most perfect tool for the communication of ideas that has ever been devised in the history of man.

It has nearly a half million words. Most of us get along with from one to 3,000. Shakespeare is said to have used as many as 12,000.

One hundred and fifty million people speak the English language. German is spoken by 120,000,000, Russian by 90,000,000 and French by 60,000,000.

The English language is richer in synonyms, richer in the power of contrast and expression than any other.

Words are tools in the trade of living. The more words you use easily and accurately, the better workman you are. The better your use of language, the more you can achieve, the further you can get.

CASTING UP ACCOUNTS.

Now and then we cast up our accounts. At least we ought to. It is good to think over the assets of our lives and to face frankly the liabilities. It is good to add up the profits and the losses.

What we get out of life is a matter of net. We have certain distinct losses, certain serious liabilities, certain sad mistakes to offset. On the other hand, we have definite gains, definite intakes, definite assets. The difference is the net.

In casting up your accounts you are not likely to find any greater assets than old, tried, trusted, and true friends.

The great idea in aeronautics now is to make flying safer, but judging from some of the accidents that have occurred recently we think those most interested in the development of aviation ought to pay some attention to making landings safer, also.

Someone asks what is "the average automobile" one reads so much about. Well, just offhand we would say that it is something between one of those high-priced foreign cars and an old-time Ford, probably another old-time Ford.

Still, when all is said, the fact that the bee communicates through its feet is not strange. We know a lot of men who talk with their hands.

CONVICTIONS IN LIQUOR CASES AT POLICE COURT

In the first case, information had been laid by James Fraser against Chester Urquhart for the offence already named and the case was heard in the police court yesterday morning. Both men are residents of Nashwaak Bridge and from the evidence brought out, there seems to be a standing feud between the two participants. Seven witnesses were heard in the morning and judgment was given at 2.30 o'clock. J. B. McNair appeared as counsel for the defence while C. R. Hawkins acted for the prosecution.

The Blackville case has been hanging fire for several days. The men were arrested by Provincial Policemen late last week and were brought to the police station in this city. A police constable had purchased some of the liquor which was being illegally sold and this led to their being apprehended. The suspicion is that a still has been operated by the men but it's whereabouts have not been located. Mr. West of the firm of Hanson, Dougherty and West prosecuted while J. F. Winslow, K. C. was counsel for the prisoners.

Died Yesterday Afternoon.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon at her home at 466 Needham street of Mrs. Emma White, aged 78 years after a lingering illness. Deceased was an aged and respected member of this community and her death will be learned of with general regret. She is survived by her husband William J. White of this city. No other relatives survive. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from the late home at two o'clock, following which a short service will be conducted at the Christchurch Parish church at 2.30 o'clock. Rev. A. F. Bate will conduct both services and interment will take place in the Rural Cemetery.

TENNIS TOURNNEY WILL CONCLUDE TOMORROW

Thomson and Hudson defeated Keating and Allan the scores being 6-3 and 6-1. In the Ladies' Doubles, Mrs. Babbitt and Mrs. Campbell defeated Miss Clayton and Miss Mersereau by the scores of 6-4 and 6-0 Angus and Armstrong easily defeated Miss Burt and Miss Bowlen, 6-1 and 6-2. Mrs. Feeney and Miss Babbitt gained another easy victory over Mr. Howlett and Miss Young, the scores being 6-1 and 6-1.

In the Mixed Doubles, Henderson and Knight produced a hard fought victory over Miss Neill and Miss Seely by the scores of 6-3 and 6-4. Despite the heat which ranges from 80 to 86 in the shade, large galleries of enthusiastic and untiring tennis fans witness the games. Tomorrow will very likely conclude this years tournament and the respective class leaders will prepare for the Maritime meet scheduled for Friday and Saturday.
