A GAME OF THRIFT

Of at least one fact pertaining to golf there can be little doubt and that is its Scotch origin. The explanation that the Scotch first adopted golf because the knack is a gift may be only one of the foibles of our American humorists, but it serves to emphasize the point that in the beginning golf glorified above everything else the principle of economy.

As the ancient Scot pursued the golf ball to the utter forgetfulness of the shorter catechism and the Sabbath he strove to get the maximum result with the minimum expenditure. The saving of strokes was the one big essential. Penalties were exacted for the lost ball, and the spendthrift who wantonly drove into a babbling brook was made to pay for his wastefulness. We may even imagine that in those days the replacing of a divot was something of a fetish.

But what a change has come over the game! In the Spring the golfers' fancy clothes, fancy clubs and fancy club houses. Large fees are paid for overdoes of professional advice. Venerable philanthropists tramp the hills in powder blue socks and canary sweaters. Schools of tailoring, profanity, literature and arithmetic are inspired annually to new efforts. And as the price of golf has gone higher and higher, so have the figures on the score card. Small wonder that mathematicians have hesitated to estimate the direct ratio between a loud sweater and a disaster at the first tee, and his consequent effect upon blood pressure.

The supposition is the furniture industry calls them "occasional chairs" an account of them taking occasion to be in the way when answering the phone at midnight.

You can reward a child if he is good with one of those new lollipops which are 10 inches in diameter or if he isn't they are very handy for spanking.

It is our opinion that evolution will never develop the perfect human being. It doesn't seem to work well on knees.

Not only that, but until you know the animal it is probably wiser not to cross a stream with a swapped horse.

FARMER HORNSBY TRIES TO SELL GRASS TO CUBS

Chicago, Nov. 17—Having signed a contract that calls for a salary of approximately $40,000 a year, Rogers Hornsby is now trying to interest Chicago Cubs officials in purchasing blue grass that grows on his 87-acre farm near St. Louis.

Immediately after signing the contract that made him a member of the Cubs yesterday, Hornsby began to relate the wonders of his farm. During the between season months the National League's leading batter grows blue grass that sells to golf clubs or base ball clubs.

DOCTORS URGED TO BUY STOCK

New York, Nov. 16—It is apparently no crime to send out a large number of telegrams urging people to buy a particular stock "at once," as has been done in Wall street many times in the endeavor to attract a following to a particular stock. The district attorney's department has been obliged to drop a case in which a large number of doctors were the recipients of telegrams, telling them to buy Barnett Leather "at the market."

Many doctors received wires on a Friday night, 10 days ago, advising them to buy Barnett Leather, giving the information that it would have a quick move. The telegrams were signed "George." The stock opened up four points the next morning but quickly fell back 10. Complaint was made to the Stock Exchange governors by Dr. Hubert Mann and a detective was put on the case. He ascertained that 2732 telegrams had been sent out.

The complaints were refused to the assistant district attorney and it was ascertained that the wires had been sent by a corporation called the Stock Market Reporter of 220 West Forty-second street. Officers of the company were subpoenaed. An office boy for the company appeared in answer to the summons and he was accompanied by an attorney. The attorney admitted that the telegrams had been sent, but denied that any crime had been committed. After looking up the law the district attorney was obliged to admit that no statute had been violated.

The excursion into high finance cost the Stock Market Reporter about $500 in telegram tolls.

Masonic Ball Last Night

The annual ball given by the Hiram Lodge, No. 6 F. and A. M. at the Odd-fellows' Hall last evening was as usual a most successful affair and more than two hundred and fifty guests were present at the occasion of this annual social event. Both the Masonic Hall and the Oddfellows' Hall, the latter of which was used for the dancing, were magnificently decorated and the gay aura of streamers in the dance hall and the blending of the various colors contrasted for a brilliant and splendid effect. A program of eighteen dances was carried out.

Successful Hunters

A party of three local sportsmen, Fred Venner and his son George, and Thomas Ryan, arrived from the head waters of the Burpee Mill Stream recently with one moose, two deer and a large sized bear to show for their efforts. The party have been in the woods for about a week and reported game quite scarce.

When Young Girls Grow Pale and Thin

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Should be Taken To Enrich the Blood

When girls grow weak, pale and thin, parents should not neglect these symptoms; to do so means danger. The girl in her teens cannot develop into robust womanhood without an abundant supply of rich, red blood in her veins. It is the lack of this that is the great trouble with nine girls out of ten. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have achieved world-wide fame for their remarkable blood-making properties. In these pills there is vigorous health, with glowing cheeks and sparkling eyes for every week, pale girl. The value of the pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. Winnifred Rutty, Barton street west, Hamilton, Ont., who says:—"About two years ago my eldest girl got into very bad health. I took her to a doctor who advised having her tonsils removed, saying this was the seat of the trouble. We had them removed, but it did not help her, and she seemed to have absorbed so much poison from the trouble that she did not pick up at all. She could neither eat nor sleep, and what food she did take did not digest. Then she developed a cough that kept her awake at night, and went down in weight at 95 pounds. A neighbor said to me, 'You have tried so many things why not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills?' I got some and before she finished the second box she began to show improvement. She continued the use of the pills for some time and is now in the pink of condition, able to work and play, and eat and sleep with all her old-time vigor. These statements can be verified by neighbors who watched her restored from ill health to perfect health."

If your medicine dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NOWADAYS YOU PRESS A BUTTON

Or perhaps a switch, or some little gadget, and a lot of things happen around home that lighten labor and banish trouble.

A Whirling Fan brings a cooling breeze, and a little copper, dish-like affair throws out a sizzling blast that warms the room in no time.

Another button boils coffee, toasts bread and cooks waffles. Another does a better job than a broom. Another makes a happy laundress out of a dismal washwoman. Another one cools the ice-box. Another—but why go on?

Labor and time saving devices have come and are today within the reach of the humblest home.

And one of the chief reasons why they have come and why they are within the reach of the humblest home is the power of advertising.

Advertising has carried the news of these better ways of doing things to every home. It has created a desire to possess them, and countless thousands have purchased them, and live better because of them.

Reading advertising not only tells you about new, helpful mechanical devices for the home, but it is an unerring guide to reliable products.
