

Niagara Dusters For Potatoes

"This is the Duster that established the method"

The success of the NIAGARA Dust Method has been due to three outstanding things.

1. THE DUSTER

The Niagara Duster is designed to put the dust "down on" and "up under" the potato vines. This Duster was not built to run dust through and out on the Potato Patch—it was designed to cover all the foliage of the plant with a film of dust. It is light of draft, sturdy in construction and easily operated. Covers four rows at a time.

2. THE DUST

NIAGARA D-25 contains just the right amount of Monohydrated Copper sulphate—balanced to control Blight.

NIAGARA D-18 is processed identically the same way as D-25 but in addition it contains just the right amount of poison to kill the "bugs".

BUG KILLING COSTLY

Hasselt, Belgium, June 12—District Agricultural chamber hereafter will let June bugs bite rather than revive an extinction scheme that worked too well. Children were offered three cents for each dozen bugs. In two days the delivery was 255,000. Then the reward was withdrawn.

SILVER COINS TO GO

London, June 12—All silver coins other than six-pences minted before 1920 are to be withdrawn from circulation. This means that all the old coins composed almost entirely of silver will soon disappear, and that only the new "debased" coins with a heavy percentage of alloy will be in general use.

SESSION OF PARLIAMENT CAME TO AN END YESTERDAY, C. N. R. HOTEL AT HALIFAX DISCUSSED

Ottawa, June 11—The second session of Canada's sixteenth parliament came to an end today. It came after delays in prorogation such as are rarely seen at Ottawa. When the House resumed this morning there was only one vote remaining, namely that of $39,000,000 for the Canadian National Railways. But the vote led to a couple of hours debate, on the C. N. R. hotels at Vancouver and Halifax before it passed the committee.

And the day saw no less than three amendments to supply. The first came within a few minutes of the opening, John Evans, Progressive, of Rosetown, moved that all goods imported should be assessed for customs at purchase price, unless such purchase price is lower than the manufacturer's price in the country of origin. Consideration was promised and Mr. Evans withdrew his amendment. The two other amendments came from Conservatives. They were made on the third reading of the supply bill itself. With the first Hon. R. B. Bennett sought to strike from the bill the provisions of $10,000 for the salary of W. H. Moore, chairman of the Tariff Board. With the second, Sir George Perley sought to reduce the vote for the Tokyo Leagation from $50,000 to $1,000. Both the amendments were declared lost on division.

Tokyo Legation

Defending the new legation in Tokyo, Premier King took the view that it would lead to closer relations with other parts of the Empire. Separate representation had worked out well at Versailles, in Geneva and at Washington. It did not mean independence but self dependence. Hon. R. B. Bennett held on the contrary that establishment of separate legations led rather to separation than to solidarity. The legation at Tokyo would mean pretense without power or authority. It was a bogus representation of nationality, a false representation of sovereignty.

Then came the final reading of the supply bill, its adoption in a few minutes by the Senate, and the end.

It was 5:30 when with the guns booming from Nepean Point, His Excellency Lord Willingdon took his seat in the Senate. In the square, outside, the guard of honor had been waiting for hours. The Black Rod advanced, made his genuflection, and departed to summon the Commons to the Bar of the Senate. The ceremony of prorogation did not last long.

The public galleries of the Senate were crowded but the Chamber itself presented a scene very different from that of the opening. A few Senators and ladies, but many empty chairs. Hon. William Phillips, United States Minister to Canada was present.

Speech from Throne

The Speech from the Throne with which His Excellency prorogued parliament observed that trade continued to expand. It mentioned, among accomplishments of the session an act reviving beneficial provisions of the returned soldiers insurance act, an act affording further material relief to soldier settlers and an act amalgamating the Departments of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment and of Health. It referred to the immigration inquiry and to the inquiry into the fishing industry. It observed that the offer of assistance in the formation of civil flying clubs had met with a widespread response. It spoke of the new legations in Paris and Tokyo and of Canada's adhesion to the Kellogg treaty for the outlawry of war.

Four important private bills were still on the order paper of the House at prorogation and therefore go into the discard. They were the Great Lakes and Atlantic canal bill, the Sun Life and Bell Telephone bills and the bill for construction of a railway from Port Burwell, Ont., to London. Private members bills likewise going into the discard were the Senate bill for establishment of divorce courts in Ontario, the Jacobs bill to remove the necessity of re-electing members of the House of Commons on acceptance of office; the Jacobs bill in regard to return tickets on railways; the Church bill respecting bank mergers; the Chevrier bill on greyhound racing; the Geary bill on investigation of telephone and telegraph subsidiaries and the Church bill on lapsed insurance policies.

FOURTEEN NEW W. I. BRANCHES ARE REPORTED

tion of the educational policy of the province.

Welcomed by Mayor

The delegates who numbered about two hundred, were welcomed in a fitting manner by His Worship Mayor Clark, who spoke of the excellent work that was being done by the Institute and urged them to take an active part in support of the campaigns or the prohibition of intoxicating liquors from the province. The reply to the address of welcome was made by Mrs. Fred Fenwick of Lower Millstream.

Appointments

One thing that shows up worst in a family tree is a blooming idiot.

TRUSTEES OF THE HOSPITAL HELD MEETING

In which the committee has been working. Considerable repair work has already been completed, perhaps the most outstanding job has been the Nurses' home which looks more like a Home than ever and has been painted outside and inside. As one good turn deserves another the alderman is now arranging for repairs and paint on the original hospital building.

In addition to the supervision of the new laundry building Col. Loggie has extended his oversight to the "farm" which has already been plowed and seeded, while the Grove is no more and every tree uprooted and removed. The Colonel is also hospital visitor for June and his report last night was full of hope and confidence.

A Hard Worker

His worship the Mayor in addition to city business has been worked pretty hard the past month with hospital matters. He has taken up with vigor the necessity which exists in Fredericton for a general contagious hospital for the protection of the hundreds of students who annually come to the city in the prosecution of their studies. He has interviewed the Premier as well as medical authorities, and he believes success will be the outcome. Sites as well as buildings are being considered.

In her monthly report Miss Murray superintendent, shows that 118 patients received treatment. Among these 16 were medical and 36 were surgical cases; obstetric 9; births 8; contagious cases admitted, 7; operations, 41—16 major, minor, 26; X-Ray exams, 38, treatments, 1. Maximum number patients in one day, 48; minimum in one day, 40.

The Superintendent further reports that owing to the increased number of contagious diseases and pneumonia with several sick nurses, it was found necessary to employ extra graduates for the contagious wards. Following an attack of scarlet fever Miss Collings has been transferred to the nurses room. One of the recent members admitted to the recently formed junior class decided she did not care for the work and resigned.

Miss J. Hunter, office clerk, submitted her usual statistical report for the month and was able to satisfy the members of the Board with her official manipulation of the figures contained therein.

Protect New Brunswick Forests

from Careless Hands

NINE destructive fires out of ten are started by human hands — thoughtless hands — careless hands.

You have a responsibility in protecting our forests—they belong to you. They are worth millions of dollars to the people of the Province of New Brunswick.

Be sure the match is out before you throw it away—watch your cigarette, your cigar, and pipe ashes. Throw water or earth over your camp fire before you leave it.

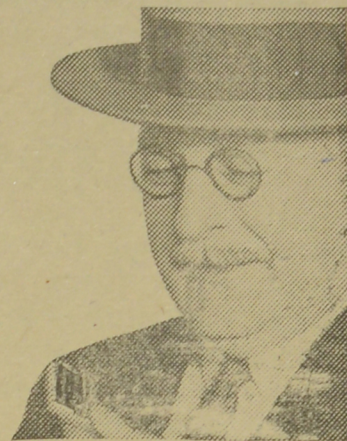

Don't let yourself be responsible for a fire which would cause a loss of money and mean misery to your fellow citizens.

THERE is nothing that has ever taken Aspirin's place as an antidote for pain. It is safe, or physicians wouldn't use it, and endorse its use by others. Sure, or several million users would have turned to something else. But get the real Aspirin (at any drugstore) with Bayer on the box, and the word genuine printed in red:

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) indicating Bayer Manufacture. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assure the public against imitations, the Tablets will be stamped with their "Bayer Cross" trade mark.
