RAISIN AND NUT BREAD SANDWICHES

The raisin and nut bread, or raisin bread must be one day old, cut into thin slices and butter; sprinkle with a little sugar and cinnamon; cut into fingers, lay on sandwich plate, cut side up.

HOW TO BAKE THE RAISIN AND NUT BREAD

4 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 cup sugar
1-4 cup shortening
1 cup milk
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup English walnuts broken or cut into small pieces

Sift the dry ingredients into bowl add the shortening and rub in lightly; add the raisins and nut meats; then add the milk; the dough must be rather moist; handle as little as possible. Brush brick pan with fat and put in the mixture. Put into warm oven for ten minutes then increase the heat and bake slowly one hour; remove from pan and brush the top of loaf with a little melted butter.

A FEW FILLINGS EASILY MADE BUTTER CREAM FILLING

Beat the white of one egg with a cupful of brown sugar and a tablespoonful of butter to a cream; use a Dover beater. When light, add half a cupful of chopped pecans or English walnuts and a teaspoonful of maple flavoring. Stand on the ice and use when the cake is cold. This filling changes the whole tone of a plain or a sponge cake.

PINEAPPLE FILLING

1 cupful of crushed or grated pineapple
1-2 lemon
Powdered sugar
Drain the pineapple, add the lemon and beat in enough powdered sugar to make it the right thickness to spread. This can be used also for the icing.

ICINGS

All these icings are made precisely the same, simply change the flavoring. Put a cupful of powdered sugar in a bowl, add the flavoring and about two tablespoonfuls of hot water, a little at a time. When the mixture is smooth and thick enough to spread easily, use it. For orange and lemon icing, use the fruit juice in the place of water, add at the last just a little of the grated yellow rind.

"WHERE THE MOUNTAINS COME DOWN TO THE SEA"

The spray tosses whitely
The spray tosses high
Where the mountains come down to the sea
The surf is embracing the plumbago sky
Interpreting poems to me.
The spray dashes madly
The spray dashes long
Where the mountains come down to the sea
A gray gull goes by with a crust of a song
So graceful and wonderfully free.

The surf plunges sparkling
The surf plunges loud,
Where the mountains come to the sea,
The blue sky is silent with never a cloud
On its wide, sweeping beauty to be.

The spray lunges constant
The spray lunges high
Where the mountains come down to the sea
The top of the mountain is pressed on the sky
God is the climax and key.

VOGUE OF LACE HAS ITS ORIGIN IN SPAIN

It is interesting to note that in Spanish Colonial America, such as New Mexico and Old Mexico, many of the old arts which flourished at the time of the Spanish conquest, and were no doubt brought over by the first colonists are still vigorous, living arts today. Drawn work in particular is one of the chief arts of Mexico, the native women vying with each other in the fineness of workmanship and the elaboration of design.

Mantillas are perhaps the best known form of Spanish lace, and are found today wherever Spain has ever had any influence. They are of two shapes, one being long and narrow like a scarf and the other a triangular shaped piece, scalloped.
