American Legion Honors Captain

Upper—C. P. "Montroyal" which carried the Legionnaires in war and peace. Lower—Section of Legionnaires photographed at Quebec before sailing for Paris recently. Inset—Captain H. Sibbons, R.N.R.

A signal honor has been conferred on Captain H. Sibbons, R.N.R., commander of the Canadian Pacific Montroyal, by the members of the American Legion who sailed 800 strong on his ship from England recently, after the gathering of the Legionnaires in Paris in September. On their voyage across the Atlantic to Quebec, R. J. Byers, adjutant of the American Legion, department of Michigan, decorated Captain Sibbons with the American Legion official medal of the Second A.E.F.

Many of the Legionnaires who journeyed both ways on the "Montroyal" to attend the convention, were carried by this ship to France during the Great War and renewed their friendship with the popular commander. The majority of the Legionnaires on the peacetime journey to France were from the middle west and west of the United States.

In honoring Captain Sibbons with the official medal, Adjutant Byers said:

"Captain Sibbons, an historic pilgrimage has been successfully held, and thousands of the best citizens of America, proven to be such in action, and proven again in their sincere desire to continue that good citizenship by promoting world peace through this pilgrimage, now have their faces turned homewards. They are conquerors, conquerors of friendship. You, sir, helped guide the first A.E.F through danger-infested seas. You, sir, have again helped guide safely the second A.E.F to a joyous conclusion. It was the comparatively few men of your calibre, men who have spent a lifetime on the great Atlantic, who made possible that first glorious victory of our Allied countries. You, sir, are carrying on in peace-time, just as we are carrying on—the soldiers, sailors and marines—whom you have so safely carried across and back—first to war and then to peace. You are one of us; one of our trusted leaders; one on whom we depended, and who took care of us. Sir, I pin the American Legion Official Medal of the Second American Expeditionary Force on your breast. Only men of proven worth are permitted to have it. In due time, when we shall have completed our journey, a suitable accompanying citation will be forwarded to you. This is the service medal to be worn with your uniform on proper occasions."

TEMPERAMENT IS OFTEN JUST BAD MANNERS, SAYS SINGER

New York, Feb. 6—The reason Freedom shrieked when Kosciusco fell was because Freedom had temperament and had there been no fall there would have been no shrieking and vice versa. Likewise were great artists and artistes without temperament not a howl would rend the skies so the world might know a great artist or artiste was having a tantrum. And besides one of the elect who has no temperament is just like a fiddle without strings—all right to thwack the cat with when it steals from the table but of no musical value.

Queena Mario defends temperament; she admits its danger, especially in such instances as when the Scot dame Mary Garden put the hush hush with a club on the Chicago grand opera stars' temperament. This is the judicial opinion of Queena the prima donna: "A certain amount of temperament is neccessary to the true artist. But beyond that temperament becomes nothing more than mere temper.

"I believe that temperament is basically innate. (A voice "Do tell.")

"Of course some temperament may be acquired if the person follows an artistic profession but the beginning must be at birth.

"It is true that too much temperament is musical poisoning. Too much music is just like too much liquor. One is really intoxicated from it and is apt to do silly things.

"The lesser artists take advantage of what theyy ymiscall temperament it really is bad manners. The true trtist does not need such effect to make a sensation. One must have temperament but it must not master one. The cold blooded person without temperament usually fails to register in the finals of life."

Weak Throat Strengthened; Voice Was Impaired

For years past public speakers, singers and ministers have been users of CATARRHOZONE in order to give strength and clearness to the voice. Writing from his home in Hillsdale, N. B., Mr. John E. Nicholson says: "I had trouble with my throat and nose for some time, and could get no benefit with anything until I tried CATARRHOZONE, which improved me greatly, and I cannot say too much in its favor. I can now speak much more clearly, and am always ready to recommend Catarrhozone." Signed: John E. Nicholson.

Catarrhozone is a marvel for throat trouble, catarrh, bronchitis, coughs, colds. Large size, $1, small size 50c, at all dealers.

ROUND THE CORNER

The road is very flat and long
And on each side are rows and rows
Of houses that are built just wrong
But round the cone—why who knows?

For we may see a palace there
Of marble white as clouds in May;
Perhaps we'll find a dragon's lair
And lots of sorcerers to slay.

The people here wear cotton gloves
And like to call their stockings "hose";
Use "much esteems" insteads of "loves"—
But round the corner—why, who knows?

For we may see Sir Lancelot
Or else La Belle Dame sans Merci
Or see a white horse gayly trot
With jingling bells to Barbury.

But here they are respectable;
I think that no one ever goes
Unto the hills delectable;
But round the corner—why, who knows?

Maple Cream Meringues.

Meringues
Ice cream
Whipped sugar
Maple sugar

Bake meringues. Put a paper doily on a dessert plate. If the meringue is not even on the top remove bits of the surface to make it even in shape. Then place the meringue on the doily. On top of the meringue put a slice or spoonful of vanilla ice cream on top of the ice cream put a spoonful of whipped cream. Over all pour maple sauce. Serve.

Maple Sauce

1 cup maple syrup
2 tablespoons butter
Pinch of salt
1-2 cup cream or condensed milk

Put the maple syrup butter and salt in a saucepan. Boil the mixture gently until when tried in ice cold water a ball barely forms. Then remove from the fire and add the cream or condensed milk. Serve hot or cold as desired.

Cheese Sticks.

2 eggs
3-4 cup milk
2 cups pastry or soft wheat flour (sifted before measuring)
4 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or substitute
3-4 cup solid cheese cut in bits
1-2 teaspoon paprika

Beat the eggs in a mixing bowl. Reserve two tablespoons of egg to spread on top of the bread. Add milk to eggs in mixing bowl. Mix the flour baking powder and salt. Add these dry ingredients through a sifter to the milk and egg mixture and bix. Melt the butter and add. Stir the bits of cheese into the mixture. Turn into a square pan (measuring about 9 inches by 9 inches) which has been greased. To the two tablespoons of egg reserved for the top of the bread add one half teaspoon paprika and spread on top of the cheese mixture. Bake at 400 degrees Fahrenheit for twenty minutes. When slightly cooled cut the bread in half. Then at right angles to the first cut, cut each half into eight strips. Serve at once with salads.

Burnt Sugar Cake.

1-2 cup butter or other shortening
1 1-2 cups brown sugar
1-2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1-2 teaspoon orange or almond extract
1 cup water
3 cups pastry flour
1-2 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
5 egg whites

Cream shortening until very light and fluffy; add sugar slowly, beating until light; add flavoring and a little water then part of the flour sifted with the salt and baking powder. Add remainder of water and remainder of dry ingredients. Fold in the beaten whites of eggs mixing well but do not beat. Bake in two greased and floured square layer pans in moderate oven at 385 degrees Fahrenhit for about forty minutes. Remove from pans; cool and spread the following filling between layers. Cover the top and sides of cake with icing.

Caramel Filling and Icing.

3 tablespoons butter
3 1-2 cups confectioner's sugar
4 tablespoons caramel syrup
4 to 4 tablespoons milk
1-2 cup chopped nuts

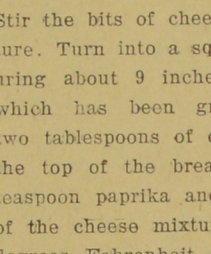

Cream the butter; add sugar slowly; add syrup and milk a little at a time until of right consitsency to spread. Reserve two thirds of this plain icing for top and sides of cake. Add nuts to remainder and allow to stand about twenty minutes before spreading on cake and then spread thickly between the layers. To make caramel syrup, put two thirds cup sugar in saucepan and allow to melt stirring until light golden brown. Add slowly one cup boiling water and boil gently until consistency of syrup.
