PROTECTION OF MAN.

We have had many organizations dedicated to the purpose of obtaining women's rights, but now we have something novel in the form of a society entitled the "Justice League for the Protection of Man." Seemingly it is in the interest of henpecked husbands. It was organized in Vienna and it is spreading to all parts of the world. If it could be possible to get all of the harassed men in one place the gathering would probably be large and impressive.

The society claims to have a distinguished recruit in the person of Charlie Chaplin, the film comedian. Last year the League sent him an address in which they protested against "the abominable treatment" he had received. If the cablegram which has been published is correct, the members expect him to address one of their meetings this summer. What the outcome of such an organization will be cannot be predicted, but if history is to be believed there is not much hope for the henpecked husbands in this cold world of ours.

TOLERANCE OF DRESS.

The lack of tolerance for individuality is a pretty sad thing. We read that one of the principal cities of Bolivia passed a law that the native Indian inhabitants of the city must abandon their bright colored skirts, odd hats, and other quaint apparel which they have been wearing for hundreds of years, and must adopt the European fashion of dress, like the rest of us. That's too bad. Little by little all the folks of the earth are being standardized. In time they will be alike, from rubber boots to religion. This is the ideal of the professional "hundred per center." It's a narrow attitude which cares little for beauty, for freedom, and for self-expression.

It is pleasing to note that the City Council at its monthly meeting last evening decided to tender a civic welcome to Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the Conservative party on the occasion of his visit here on Saturday, August 18th. Hon. Mr. Bennett will be welcomed as a native of the Province, who has achieved success and has been called upon to fill a position of great responsibility. It was in this city that Hon. Mr. Bennett received part of his education and it was here that he began his illustrious career at the bar. It is most fitting that the capital city should do honor to a gifted son of the province who will one day be Premier of Canada.

Teacher in the Meriden High School and his son, an instructor in chemistry at Yale, are washing cars in a Connecticut garage this summer, and "society" is shocked. We fancy they are not affected a whole lot. A man who has the nerve to undertake car-washing because it's an honorable means of employment isn't greatly humiliated by being made the target of adverse criticism.

What is it costing you a year to be ill? A report of the International Conference of Social Work estimates illness in the United States costs each family $134.68 a year. Cost per person is estimated at $31.08. It would be interesting to know how much our bills for sickness might be cut down by a little more common sense and will power in the matter of eating and sleeping.

Henry Word says he expects to do more in the next five years than he has in the past twenty. The statute of limitations as applied to things physical would seem to indicate that Henry intends going into the air on a larger scale.

Blessed are the meek, we are told, for they shall inherit the earth. Thrice blessed are they, for by the time they inherit it there will be nothing but nicely paved highways for them to drive on.

Director of the Life Extension Institute says a nagging wife may be a blessing by spurring her husband on to achievement, and what we want to know is what that guy is doing at the head of a Life Extension Institute?

The exception has been found in New York. A bootlegger was unable to pay a fine because he had sold so much liquor "on credit." At least he must have had some confidence in his stuff.

Middle Western woman of 90 has never seen a train or an automobile, which may be one reason why she is a woman of 90 who has never seen a train or an automobile.

Aimee McPherson's mother says she never did quite believe that kidnapping story. Aimee evidently has a lot yet to accomplish in the matter of bringing up her mother.

Head of a new French cult says he can read a woman's character by her ears. Ah, ha! Maybe they know that themselves, and that's why they keep 'em covered up.

New York preacher who recently praised those "who blunder but go on," was not referring to hit-and-run drivers.

Changing conditions bring their own handicaps. Old Dobbin may have at times got fagged, but his successor is frequently tagged.

FIRST HARVEST EXCURSIONS TO START THIS WEEK

Special Trains to be Run From the Maritimes by the Two Railways.

Moncton, Aug. 8th—The first movement of harvesters to the grain fields of Western Canada to help in garnering what is expected to be a record crop will commence this week with the operation of harvesters' specials from the Maritime Provinces and from Quebec points east of Levis and Charney south of the St. Lawrence River on the Canadian National Railways.

The first of the series to be operated will leave Maritime province points on August 9 and 10 carrying intending harvesters from stations in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island as well as from Eastern Quebec points. These excursions will be followed by another series from the same territory two weeks later. Announcement of special harvesters' rates are made by the Canadian National Railways and also by Canadian Pacific, both lines operating specials to carry the intending workers to the West.

In each case a second series of excursions will be operated to carry out the remainder of the men needed or as many as are available for the handling of this year's crop. On arrival in Winnipeg special arrangements will be operating for the ticketing of the men to their destinations further west and for the placement of intending workers through the farm employment agencies of the Provincial Governments.

NEGUAC MAN HAS SOME RARE OLD COINS

Mr. J. Robichaud, of Neguac, writes to The Times concerning old coins. Noticing an item in The Moncton Times in reference to a collection of coins, Mr. Robichaud says he thinks he can beat it, not in quantity, but as to age and condition. He enumerates the following in his possession:

One penny, 1689, Jacobus 11 King of England; one cent, half penny, 1812; one cent, 1820, harp on one side, the face of King George on the other; half a penny, 1724, Georgius King; half a penny token, 1812, Georgius King; one cent. U. S. of America 1850; half a penny token, 1837, Province du bas Canada; one penny token, 1840, Province of New Brunswick; half penny, 1815, Province of New Brunswick.

A Tourist Booster

Mr. R. A. Macaulay of St. John field organizer for the Retail Merchants Association of Canada is a visitor to the city today. Mr. Macaulay takes a deep interest in tourist travel and thinks it is a matter which greatly concerns the retail merchants. The big problem he says is to provide entertainment for tourists in the different localities which they visit. He thinks that the angling possibilities of the St. John and Miramichi Rivers should attract many visitors to Central New Brunswick.
