GREAT BRITAIN'S RYDER CUP TEAM IS DEFEATED

Torontonians Play Well

TORONTO, Oct. 4—Toronto professionals won all five Scotch foursomes here today from Great Britain's Ryder Cup golf team and placed themselves in a position where they needed to win only three of this afternoon's 10 singles to capture the one-day match.

The British players, who lost the Ryder Cup to the United States last Sunday, made a serious challenge in only one match and the veteran Lex Robson of Islington and young Bill Kerr of Toronto Hunt Club turned back this challenge.

Robson and Kerr defeated W. J. Cox and Reginald Whitcombe, one up in the feature match after being three down at the 13th.

Willie Lamb, Canadian professional title holder and Dick Borthwick scored the most devastating upset of the day by trouncing Alfred Perry, British open champion, and Ernest Whitcombe, 5 and 4. Lamb and Borthwick were one under par for the 14 holes.

Scotch foursomes results:
Willie Lamb and Dick Borthwick, Toronto, defeated Alfred Perry and Ernest Whitcombe, Great Britain, 5 and 4.

Jimmy Johnstone and Arthur Hulbert, Toronto, defeated Alfred H. Padgham and Percy Allis, Great Britain, 2 up.

Gordon Byrdson and Lou Cumming, Toronto, defeated John J. Busson and Charles A. Whitcombe, Great Britain, 4 and 3.

Lex Robson and Bill Kerr, Toronto, defeated W. J. Cox and Reginald Whitcombe, Great Britain, 1 up.

Bob Cunningham and Willie Spittal, Toronto, defeated Richard Burton and Edward Jarman, Great Britain, 3 and 2.

LESTER PATRICK NAMED VICE PRESIDENT

Manager of New York
Rangers

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 4—The struggle of the "embattled colonels" for control of New York's great sports arena, Madison Square Garden, apparently reached its final round yesterday as Colonel John S. Hammond lost his position as chairman of the board of directors.

He was replaced by Stanton Griffiths, partner in a brokerage firm, as the Garden's new board of directors, chosen last Friday after a prolonged proxy battle between Hammond and Colonel John R. Kilpatrick, president, met for the first time.

Kilpatrick was again named president of the corporation and of its subsidiary, New York Rangers Professional Hockey Club, as had been anticipated. The latter position was formerly held by Hammond.

Edwin Lee was appointed comptroller and assistant secretary of the corporation and the hockey subsidiary, and Hamilton V. Bail was named secretary of both organizations.

It was said by officials following the meeting that no change in poli-

Tigers Even Series By Winning Second Game From Chicago

Trounce Cubs 8-3 as Bridges Turns in Fine
Performance — Cubs
Use Two Pitchers.

DETROIT, Oct. 3—Thomas David Bridges, the Tennessee thunderbolt with the crackling curve came to the rescue of Detroit Tigers today and hurled them right back into the middle of the coldest battle waged for baseball's world championship in ten years.

The six-foot pitching of the slim speed-ball artist, combined with a blast of semi-freezing weather and a first-inning barrage of base-hits, halted the impetuous charge of Chicago Cubs.

The final score was 8-3 as the home team opened fire for the first time with their bats and drove the veteran Charley Root to cover with a four-run fusillade climaxed by Hank Greenberg's first homer of the series.

The Tiger triumph squared matters at one game apiece, with the warfare shifting from this frigid battleground to Chicago tomorrow the next three games. The enthusiasm of the American League champions, along with 46,742 half-frozen cash customers, was cut somewhat short by an injury to the slugging Greenberg, who hurt his left wrist sliding into the plate in the seventh inning.

Examination of Greenberg's arm by the Tiger physician, soon after the game, disclosed injured tendons but no serious damage otherwise and it was expected the big first sacker would be in the third game tomorrow, whether he is handicapped or not.

Leave for Chicago
The rival clubs left on special trains within an hour after the game, in order to get plenty of rest before resuming the series tomorrow on the home grounds of the National League champions at Wrigley Field.

The pitching elections for the third game are Elden Auker, submarine-ball right-hander of the Tigers, and big Bill Lea, freshman right-hander of the Cubs.

The Cubs, somewhat chastened by their beating today, still ruled slight favorites as they hustled back to their home grounds. They have been unbeatable at home for a month and they are confident of gaining the advantage again with Lee in the box tomorrow and the great Lon Warneke shutout hero of yesterday's game, slated to come back for the fourth game on Saturday.

The Cubs acted like most of the onlookers felt this afternoon—half frozen. They were helpless for fully two-thirds of the game against the dynamic speed and curves of Bridges. The slim Tennessee sharpshooter held the Chicagoans hitless for three innings, yielded only three well-spaced hits in the first six frames and eased up after his mates piled up an overwhelming margin by battering three Cub hurlers.

: SPORT SPOTS :

By the decisive defeat that the Detroit Tigers handed the Cubs yesterday it looks as though the jungle cats have just found their stride. Yesterday's game reminded us of the trimmings the St. Louis Cardinals handed the Tigers last year in the World Series, and if the husky Tommy Bridges continues to produce the brand of pitching he did yesterday, he will shove "Schoolboy" Rowe out of the headlines altogether. But, according to reports they are going to use the Schoolboy in today's game at Chicago and perhaps he will take an example from his team mate.

The odds before and after the first game of the series were in favor of the Cubs, but today they took a sudden change in favor of the Tigers. The Tigers have been playing consistently better ball throughout the season than the Cubs, although the Cubs did have an uncanny winning streak in which they took twenty consecutive games, then dropped one to the Cards when it didn't matter in their recent series, and then took the opener from the Cochrane outfit. The questions is whether or not the Cubs have broken under the strain of winning so many games in succession, and playing ball so much better than their former record warrants. We think they have broken, and it would not surprise us if the Tigers took the next three games.

Tomorrow one of the junior classics of Fredericton rugby will take place when the High School meets its old rival, Rothesay Collegiate School. The Cass coached boys are in fine shape for the game and their supporters expect a fine showing from them in the "Big Three Opener." No one seems to know just how good these Rothesay boys are, but after tomorrow's game a pretty good comparison might be made. The visitors come here fresh from a defeat at the hands of the St. Vincent's fifteen, last year's provincial interscholastic champions. Although the Saints only beat the collegiate boys by the small score of 5-0, they have the makings of another championship team, and sport followers in that section seem to think that they will come out on the long end of their league. So tomorrow's game, which is between what rugby fans consider the best two out of the three teams in the Big Three, will give us a good idea of which one will be on top of the heap when the league is over. Saint John High does not seem to offer much of a threat to either of the other two teams, but who knows what the mighty little "Did" Burke can do with a bunch of school kids? He might surprise us all.

We saw a few of the prospective City team out to practice with the U.N.B. aggregation last night. Ralph Goodine, Johnnie Patterson, Ron Laskey, Fat Kilburn and Hattie Mills took a few limbering up exercises and then offered themselves as tackling fodder for the U.N.B. men. They will have to get organized a little better before they tackle the Mt. A. team on Saturday.

CANADIENS STRENGTHEN ITS DEFENCE

Club Outlines Policy

MONTREAL, October 4—Art Lesieur, hard-hitting defenceman of Providence Reds of the Canadian American League, has been obtained by Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

Announcement of his acquisition was made by J. Ernest Savard, head of the Montreal syndicate, who recently purchased Canadiens, last night at a dinner to hockey writers.

The club will not unduly stress racial characteristics but will endeavor to secure a winning aggregation. Eler Ferguson of the Herald in stressing this angle recalled how such players as the MacNamas's, Cleghorns, Morenz, Burke, Gardiner, Hainsworth and other stars merged amicably into the club roster and helped them in their glory days. Ferry grew quite eloquent in reminiscing on the old days and gave a constructive outline of the situation. Peter Span and Basil O'Meara on behalf of The Star stressed the pleasant and cordial relations that the great French club had always maintained with the newspapers and the latter at the request of Mr. Savard made some helpful suggestions. Marc McNeill of the Gazette spoke along similar lines, and Roland Beaudry in his best platform manner outlined the French-Canadian paper viewpoint on the situation.
