Hydro Static Branch To
Chart the Area of St.
John River

According to a report from Ottawa today, the Federal Government is requesting the hydro static branch of the Department of Marine and Fisheries to chart Grand Lake, Washademoak Lake and Jemseg River. This and similar work along other sections of the St. John river are subject to Parliament voting the necessary money. Announcement of this was made at Ottawa last evening by Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Last fall representatives of the Royal Kennebecasis Yacht Club, Saint John Power Boat Club and other interested organizations met with J. C. Chesley, agent in Saint John for the Department of Marine, and discussed means of improving the markings along the St. John River and its tributaries.

An increased number of pleasure craft has been using the river and in recent years there have been several yachts from the United States cruising on the St. John. The beautiful scenery along the river banks makes the cruise especially attractive to tourists.

Officials of the boat clubs and others who use the river extensively felt that the present markings were inadequate, particularly for those who did not know the treacherous points along the river. At last fall's meeting several suggestions for improving the markings were put forward, and these were forwarded by Mr. Chesley to the Department of Marine.

Church at Stanley Dedicated to Patron Saint
Of Ireland

Most of the churches in this city and vicinity will hold special services on Sunday, honoring St. Patrick, Ireland's patron saint. Rev. Father Donahoe, pastor of St. Anthony's church in Devon, is leaving tonight for Stanley, to preach a special St. Patrick's day sermon in St. Patrick's church in that place. The church there is dedicated to Ireland's patron saint.

Rev. Father Gillis will preach the St. Patrick's day sermon at Devon and there will be special music by the choir. At St. Dunstan's church, Rev. Dr. Milligan, acting pastor, will preach, his theme being St. Patrick, and the choir will render special Irish hymns.

At the other churches in the city there will be special reference to the day, the ministers devoting their themes to Ireland's patron saint.

St. Patrick, according to historical record, was born in 385 A.D. During the reign of Niall of the Nine Hostages, Patrick was taken as a captive. This was in 401, when he was only 16 years of age. The young saint spent six years in captivity and then escaped and made his way back to his homeland. He became a disciple of St. Germanus, bishop of Auxerre. History records further that in 432 Patrick went as a bishop to Ireland to succeed Palladius, but died a short time later.

Patrick's mission to Ireland succeeded admirably. Assisted by three other bishops, Patrick continued the Christianization of the island. In brief St. Patrick's workings condemned the slavery of Christians, abolished the slave class and wiped out social distinctions.

The explanation of the shamrock as the symbol of the Trinity is a simple one. St. Patrick is recorded as trying to explain to his flock the principle of the three in one. When they failed to understand he picked up a shamrock with its three parts—forming the one. Since that time the sham-

Lumbermen Busily Engaged, Prepare for Driving Operations

Spring began its yearly entourage today as the thermometer soared to a mark almost 50 degrees in the shade, and snow disappeared at a rapid rate beneath the magic of the sun. Winter comes to an official end on Thursday or next week, March 21.

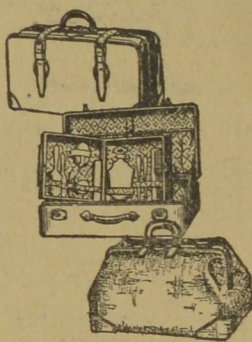

Today's mild spell follows several days in which the mornings were frigidly cold with temperatures of 15 degrees below zero. Today, however, looked like the termination of all winter's severity. The streets and sidewalks were in a messy condition this afternoon.

With the coming of the spring season lumbermen in various parts of the county of York have spurred to greater efforts in hauling their winter's cut of lumber to the streams of the Oromocto, Nashwaak and other rivers and tributaries. The spring driving is expected to start within another ten days and from then on will be a busy time, as most of the operators have larger cuts this year than usual, and conditions are likely to be more than ordinarily good.
