

A MIRAMICHI GUIDE SUBJECT OF OIL PAINTING

New York Magazine Features Portrait of Eldridge Hunter

Enlargement of Snap

E. L. Ipsen, noted American Artist, did work While Here

The Spur, a high class magazine, published in New York and devoted to outdoor activities, recently featured a full page portrait of Eldridge Hunter, of Bloomfield Ridge, fishery superintendent for the Saint John and Miramichi districts. It was reproduced from an oil painting from the brush of E. L. Ipsen, a noted American artist who is summering at Boiestown. The painting is in fact an enlargement of a snapshot taken of Mr. Hunter last season when he was guiding Mr. Ipsen on a fishing trip down the Miramichi River from Deersdale. The subject is standing up in the stern of a canvas canoe armed with a pole, which he is using to navigate the frail craft through a stretch of strong water. It is necessary to attend strictly to business in a situation of that kind and the picture shows Mr. Hunter to be 100 per cent on the job. The rugged scenery along the shores of the river is well brought out, and the production reflects much credit on the skill of the artist.

NEWS BRIEFS

ON FISHING TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ipsen of New Bedford, Mass., who are now occupying their new bungalow at Griff-Inns, Boiestown, left last week for the upper Miramichi on a ten days' fishing trip.

NOT MUCH IMPROVED

There is no change today in condition of Nathan Liphshetz, well known Fredericton tailor, who was injured on Sunday evening when he slipped from the running board of his car at the corner of York and Charlotte streets. Mr. Liphshetz was severely injured about the head and his body was considerably bruised in the fall. He is confined to his bed today and suffering considerable pain from his injuries. A nurse is in attendance.

ABLE TO BE AROUND

Friends will be glad to learn that the sunstroke experienced by Chester McQuinn, of this city, was not so serious as at first expected and he was able to be out and around again yesterday after receiving treatment at the Victoria Public Hospital. Mr. McQuinn was stricken at Grand Lake on Sunday, while out camping with several other young men. It was believed at first that his illness was more serious.

WAS STATION AGENT IN DEVON

R. B. Owens, who for the past eight years has been agent of the C. P. R. at St. Stephen concluded his active service this week and has entered upon superannuation after a long career with the company. He has always been an able, obliging and courteous representative and his retirement is learned with regret. Mr. Owens is well known in this city and thirty years ago was station agent at South Devon when the C. P. R. had a station there. It is understood that Mr. Owens has purchased a residence and he and Mrs. Owens will continue to reside in Saint Stephen.

ON A GASPE TRIP

A party composed of Mrs. Thomas F. Fitzgerald, of Troy, New York, wife of a director of the American International Paper Company, and her sisters, Miss Lucy A. McCarthy, and Miss Sarah C. McCarthy with their chauffeur, passed through the city last week enroute to the Gaspé Peninsula. They travelled in a twelve-cylinder Cadillac car and came to this city by way of Calais. They chose the route from a tourist map, and at Griff-Inns, where they spent a night, expressed themselves as well pleased with the section of the country through which they passed particularly the Saint John and Nashwaak Valleys.

MONUMENT TO 104TH REGIMENT BEING ARRANGED

Dept. of National Parks Writes Historical Society

Sept. Possible Date

Dr. Webster Suggests Program for the Occasion

Dr. J. C. Webster has written from Shediac to the York and Sunbury Historical Society, stating that the intention of the Monuments Board committee is to co-operate with the Historical Society as early as possible and arrange details for the monument to be erected at the head of town in memory of the 104th Regiment. It is the intention to have the lieutenant-governor, the commanding officer of the province, and His Worship Mayor W. G. Clark, as speakers and to provide a guard of honor for the occasion, also to have representatives from each of the regiments in the province. All the details mentioned by Dr. Webster will be taken up later with the Historical Society. It is suggested that Fredericton provide the guard of honor and also have somebody responsible for directing satisfactorily the singing of the National Anthem, and other patriotic songs.

Speaking about the building of the Memorial, Dr. Webster states that it is the policy of the Department of National Parks to do so when possible through local agencies, provided their charges and work are satisfactory. Another communication from the department to the Historical Society states that owing to pressure of work at the office in Ottawa it may not be possible to have the monument ready before September. Dr. Webster suggests that the unveiling ceremony take place on Saturday afternoon so that a good attendance of school children may be secured.

Dr. Pettingill Conducts Bible Conference Here

Dr. Pettingill, who with Professor J. W. Hill, M. A., and Rev. J. B. Daggett, are conducting Bible Conferences in this city this week is a Baptist minister, whose home is in Wilmington, Delaware. He was for twenty years pastor of the North Baptist Church in that city and was for 14 years Dean of the Philadelphia School of the Bible. He has been for many years now a very popular Bible lecturer and writer. Many articles from his pen have been published as serials in the Sunday School times and have been published in book-form later. His latest book, "Bible Questions Answered", was published last December and has already gone thro' three editions. It is the result of 40 years of answering questions in connection with his lecture work.

Dr. Pettingill will lecture in Fredericton from July 23rd up to the 28th instant every evening, and afternoon. His subjects will be announced later. Prof. Hill will have a Bible Class every afternoon at 2 o'clock, the subject, being left to the choice of the class, either Revelation or Genesis in the light of Modern Science. Rev. J. B. Daggett will also accompany Dr. Pettingill.

Accompanies Party

J. W. Hill, M. A., who is accompanying the party and who is conducting Bible classes, is a graduate of the U. N. B. and taught at McAdam and also at Devon. He later graduated from Harvard and from Columbia and was professor in different Universities in the Canadian and the American west. He is now professor in the new Baptist University at Kentville, N. S.

Dr. Pettingill delivered a splendid lecture in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Loyalist Building last night, his subject being "Who Is Jesus of Nazareth?"

PREMIER AWAY

Premier A. A. Dysart, and Mrs. Dysart left this morning for Saint John where they will take part today in St. John's reception to be accorded to Lord and Lady Bessborough. Premier Dysart will return here either this evening or tomorrow morning for the government meeting which is scheduled for tomorrow in the capital.

DR. D. W. HAMILTON DIED YESTERDAY AT PULLMAN

Prominent Educational Leader Formerly on N.S. Staff Here

U.N.B. Graduate

First Man in N.B. Selected for Consolidated School Staff

A wire today from Pullman, Washington conveys the sad news that Dr. David W. Hamilton, head of the department of vocational Education and Professor of Agricultural education in the state college at Washington, had passed away yesterday following a stroke of paralysis. Dr. Hamilton, who was particularly well-known in this city as well as in York and Carleton County, visited here last summer, the guest of his father-in-law, ex-mayor W. B. Dayton, of North Devon. Dr. Hamilton came to the University of New Brunswick from Florenceville, Carleton County. He received his B. A. degree from that institution in 1901 and his M. A. in 1904, and was made a Ph.D., in 1907. He also received degrees from the Iowa State College and other institutions. Dr. Hamilton after teaching school at Florenceville, was selected by the late James Robertson, trustee for the Sir William McDonald fund, to become the principal of the First Consolidated School in New Brunswick, which was located at Kingston. Later he became instructor of nature study and agriculture at the Provincial Normal School here. (Continued on page Five)
