MAJOR I. B. ROUSE AGAIN PRESIDENT OF LOCAL RED CROSS

Mayor Clark Honorary President—Other Of- ficers Elected at An- nual Meeting Last Night—Children Pre- sent Program.

Major I. B. Rouse was re-elected president of the Fredericton Red Cross at the annual meeting of the executive of that organization in the City Council Chamber last night. His Worship, Mayor W. G. Clark, M. P. elect, was elected honorary president at the same meeting. Other officers of the organization were elected as follows: vice-president, Mrs. D. J. Shea; secretary, Mrs. B. B. Barnes; treasurer, M. A. Johns. The members of the executive for the coming year are Dr. G. W. Bailey, Mrs. A. T. McMurray, Miss Louise Sterling, Mrs. A. E. Mathewson, Rev. Dr. A. A. Wightman, Ven. Archdeacon A. F. Bate and Rev. G. W. Guion.

Following the meeting of the executive and the election of officers a public meeting was held in the Opera House where a program was carried out by the members of the Junior Red Cross and reports were read by the officers. The president, Major Rouse, acted as chairman.

The first number on the program was a recitation in unison by six girls from the class of Miss Jean Staples, teacher of Grade 1 in the Charlotte Street School. Three pupils from the class of Miss Florence McKenzie, teacher of Grade 2 in Charlotte Street School, presented a playette on vocabulary showing the work of the Junior Red Cross as represented in the letter J. R. C. A recitation on the health giving qualities of such food as fruit, milk, vegetables, bread and other wholesome foods was given by six pupils from the class of Miss Jessie Clark, teacher of Grade 3 in the Charlotte Street School. Miss Jean King, a member of the Grade 8 class of the same school, then read the report of the Junior Red Cross organization as it is in her school. R. K. Myers, principal of the school, and the teachers who assisted the pupils in the preparation of their numbers were present at the meeting.

"The Safety First Train" was the title of an interesting number presented by the pupils of Grades three and four of the York Street School, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Wilson. The play portrayed the prospective passengers of the "Safety First Train" applying to the ticket agent for tickets to such places as Health Land, the Land of Sunshine, and Roller Skating on the Street. Those who applied for a ticket to the places where no harm could come to them were admitted to the "Safety First Train" and those who attempted to buy tickets to places which might prove harmful to the passengers.

At eight o'clock the children departed for home and then the officers read their reports. Mrs. Barnes, the secretary, read her report on the general organization in the city which was followed by the treasurer's report by Mr. Johns. The treasurer reported a surplus of $22.21.

The secretary then read the report on the Junior organization. The report was most encouraging and revealed that a great deal of interest is being taken by the younger members of the organization. Mrs. Barnes thanked all those who had given their co-operation to the Junior Red Cross.

Miss Cecil Gallagher of the staff of St. Dunstan's School, read a most interesting paper on the work of the Junior Red Cross in the city schools. She told of how the young members were allowed to elect their own officers and the experience they gained in going through the procedure of organized meetings unassisted. One of the most interesting features of the work these young people are doing is the first aid practice. According to Miss Gallagher they take a great interest in dressing each other's wounds and bruises at school and she pointed out that the children are showing a more sympathetic spirit toward one another through this work. She said that since they have taken up the Red Cross work the children have shown a moral, physical and social improvement.

Mrs. Shea, vice-president of the organization, read a report on the reply to the appeal of the Red Cross to the people of Fredericton for assistance in the relief work in connection with the Tracadie fire sufferers. On behalf of the Red Cross of Fredericton she thanked all those who so kindly responded to the appeal. She remarked that the appeal was most pleasing and prompt.

Major Rouse stated that he had driven through Tracadie the day some of the clothes from here were being distributed amongst the refugees. He said that it was difficult to realize just how much those people needed the supplies unless you actually saw them. Before closing, the president referred to a "dime day" which the Junior Red Cross will conduct in the near future, and appealed to the citizens to support the organization in its worthy work.
