

THANKSGIVING PASSES QUIETLY IN THE CAPITAL

Weather Turns Colder and Holidayers

Many Out Hunting

Services of Thanksgiving in Several of the Churches

The Thanksgiving holiday passed quietly in the capital city. There was nothing of a particular nature in the way of holiday celebration, although several of the churches in the city conducted special services of thanksgiving.

The temperature, while it has been quite mild most of the week turned suddenly colder and yesterday morning the temperature dropped to a point only twenty degrees above zero. In the early morning there was frost on the ground. The colder temperature followed upon a heavy rainfall which occurred on Wednesday evening, and amounted to over a half inch of rain within the space of ten hours. Street corner catch basins were temporarily flooded with water late Wednesday evening.

A large number took advantage of the holiday yesterday to go hunting, while others left for various parts of the province by automobile for the day. In Fredericton it was a day for youth and the Mount Allison-University of New Brunswick football game attracted a great crowd of fans. The grandstand and bleachers were filled, there being an especially large number of Mount Allison rooters here.

While it was not cold enough in this part of the province for the formation of ice, sufficiently strong for skating, yet in some parts of the province ice formed and it was possible to don the blades for the first skating of the season. The sudden change in the temperature was general in the province, with some places colder than others.

Many people here attended the picture shows on the holiday, and hotels and restaurants did a thriving business.

Several of the churches of the city conducted special Thanksgiving services, and a large number attended. The reunion services at the Brunswick Street Baptist church came to a conclusion on Wednesday evening. Wilmot United church, Christchurch Parish church and the Christchurch Cathedral conducted Thanksgiving services.

NEWS BRIEFS

VISITED IN SAINT JOHN

Mrs. H. W. Woods, grand secretary, and Mrs. Murray, grand chaplain, both of this city, attended the first regular meeting of the Saint John Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, over the holiday. Members from Ottawa and Quebec chapters also were present. Initiation ceremonies were conducted for three new members.

LIQUOR IN POSSESSION

Lester Sillock, of Cross Creek, was arrested by R. C. M. P. constables last evening at Stanley. He will appear before Sitting Magistrate E. Allison MacKay in the police court here today, charged with having liquor in his possession not purchased from the New Brunswick Liquor Control Stores. The charge is under Section 55-2 of the Intoxicating Liquor Act.

MRS. BLACK'S SUCCESS

According to latest and final returns in the Yukon federal elections, Mrs. George Black won her seat in the House of Commons by a majority of 155 votes over J. P. Smith, independent Liberal. The vote was as follows: Mrs. Black, 686; Mr. Smith, 551. Mrs. Black, who is well known in this city and province, is the second woman to be elected to the House of Commons. Mrs. Black is the wife of Hon. George Black, former speaker.

U. N. B. RALLY

The University of New Brunswick put on an enthusiastic "pep" rally on Wednesday evening, prior to Thursday's U.N.B.-Mount Allison football game. The students gathered at the old grandstand at College Field and lit a bonfire and Gerald Waring, captain of the cheering team, led the cheers and songs. There were also speeches from Charlie Thomas and Garnet Copeland. In the afternoon a snake dance up Queen street was conducted. One of the most amusing features yesterday was the burning of the Mount A. effigy, the burning taking place in front of the grandstand before the game. The effigy was in the shape of a man gayly decked out in the rival college colors. The students, taking part in the parade to the college grounds were armed with pikes and Shakespearean costumes borrowed from the Dramatic Society.

CITY LADIES WIN PRIZES FOR GOOD COOKING

First Weekly Judging
Held Wednesday Night

Successful Competitors

Valuable Prizes Attracting Attention of Local Ladies

The Daily Mail's cooking contest got away to a good start on Wednesday evening when the first of the weekly series of judging took place and weekly prizes were awarded.

The judging of the different articles sent in by ladies residing in Fredericton, Devon and other points, took place at the show rooms of the Maritime Electric Company on Queen Street. There was a very nice variety of articles, including different kinds of pastry, preserves, pickles, salads, desserts and candy.

The judges who included Mrs. B. H. Hagerman, Mrs. Kenneth R. Brown, B.H.S., Miss Mary McMullen, B.Sc., and Miss Jean Gillis inspected each article which were judged by points.

The three weekly prizes were awarded by the judges as follows: First, Mrs. Thos. L. Kane, Butter Scotch cakes; second, Miss Margaret Gallagher, raspberry and red currant jam; third, Mrs. John M. Carten, scones.

Those who received honorable mention included: Mrs. Fred Logue, Mrs. Margaret Shaw, Mrs. B. S. Morton, Miss Cecil M. Gallagher, Miss Ida Cormier, Miss Miriam Eardley, Mrs. Leslie Mavor, Mrs. J. F. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. W. E. Vaughan.

The prizes included a lady's shopping bag, donated by the Ross Drug Company; a case of ginger ale donated by the R. and M. Beverages; and a pair of gold frames for eye glasses donated by E. H. Wilbur.

In addition to the weekly intermediate prizes given each week the winners of prizes and honorable mention are in line for the grand prizes which will be awarded at the close of the contest. These include an electric cooking range, a case of silverware, a ton of coal, a wrist watch, a permanent wave, an assortment of fruit, and a dry cleaning service.

The contest will be continued each week for twelve weeks. At the close, the grand prizes will be awarded. Any lady, married or single, may enter. It costs nothing to enter and the only thing one has to do is to cook something—anything—and send or bring it to the Maritime Electric Store before five o'clock each Wednesday afternoon. Put your name and address on the parcel. After the articles have been judged you may either have them back or they will be sent to the Children's Home.

The Daily Mail's Culinary Contest while it is being handled at the Maritime Electric Company's store must not be confused with the Maritime Electric Cooking School which by a coincidence is being also held next week in another building. Our prizes are on exhibit in the windows of the Maritime Electric Company.

PULP FLOATING TODAY

Within the past day or two quite a quantity of pulpwood has floated down river, partly due to the rise in the river, but mostly to the "sacking" operations which have been carried on for the past two weeks above this city, logs being "sacked" off the shores and propelled into the current. The idea is to get the pulp down river before the river freezes. A rainfall of .64 inches on Wednesday helped to swell the river in this connection, although the cold weather and recent winds has kept the river level from reaching the height desired.

WILMOT CHURCH INSTALLING MODERN ORGAN

Work of Dismantling
Old Organ Completed
This Week

New Electric Organ

New Organ Will be Played for First Time
Week from Sunday

Tune in the new, tune out the old! The passage of the old and the coming of the new is a common story today with the old being superseded on every side by the freshly modern. The scene for such a process lies this time at the historic Wilmot Church on Carleton street where a brand new Hammond electric organ is being installed to supplant the old Warran organ which has been in the church since July 21, 1882.

The mechanism of the new Hammond organ which will be installed within the next week and a half at Wilmot church, is ultra-modern, and is an interesting study in transition, when judged by the Old Warren organ now dismantled and which was of the old "tracker" or "pipe" type.

The Hammond electric organ has the following interesting facts about it: Temperature changes cannot affect the instrument and it never gets out of tune; the cost of operating it is about one cent per hour; the current consumption is about 120 watts; mechanically and electrically the opportunities for trouble with the Hammond organ are about one-tenth of that experienced with the finest pipe organs made.

CONSIDER TWO APPLICATIONS BUS SERVICE

Special Meeting of City Council this Afternoon at City Hall

Dump Regulations

Mayor Clark Uncertain
as to Time for Ottawa Duties

The city council will hold a special meeting this afternoon at four o'clock in the city hall at which time consideration is expected to be given to the applications for a bus franchise for the city of Fredericton. One of the applications is that of the Capital Bus Company of which W. E. Vaughan and C. N. Goodspeed, both of this city, are directors. The other application is reported to be from a transportation company from outside the city.

The council will also consider today the drawing up of regulations respecting the new dump which is to be located at the east end of the city. Also the appointment of a supervisor for the dump may be discussed at today's meeting. Other matters are on the agenda of today's special meeting, including reports of committee chairman.

His Worship Mayor Clark will preside at the meeting. Speaking with The Daily Mail His Worship said that as yet he has no word from Ottawa respecting his parliamentary duties. Mayor Clark was elected as the federal candidate from the constituency of York-Sunbury in the recent election and will probably leave within a short time for Ottawa to become acquainted with his parliamentary duties.

It pays to advertise in The Daily Mail.
