

MILDEST FALL EXPERIENCED HERE FOR YEARS

Continued Warm Weather Rivalling Fall of 1934

Frost Very Slight

River on Rise, With Two Foot Jump Reported Since Wednesday

The present fall according to the statistics and also to some of the old-time weather prophets in this section, is the mildest and most pleasant experienced in central New Brunswick for many a year.

For over a month the sun has melted the temperature. There has been very little rainfall, except for several days earlier this week. Frost has been only light and there has been an even temperature. The weather has been more reminiscent of early autumn, than late fall. There has only been a hint of snow, flurries occurring on two occasions. This morning was the present month's coldest with a temperature of 29 degrees, but this afternoon the sun shone warmly and clearly, dissipating all thoughts of winter.

Whether the consistent warm spell means a mild winter is hard to tell, but those who prognosticate about such things claim that that is just what it means.

Last year the Saint John River did not freeze over until December 8 and there is every indication that the river will remain open this year until that date unless a surprise cold snap intervenes. J. J. Malloy, engineer at the pumping station even predicts that there is another spell of "Indian summer" temperature in the offing before winter sets in.

The late open season has given pulp operators plenty of opportunity to do their chores on the river, driving pulp to the mills—and they have taken full advantage of the season.

Since Wednesday the river has risen two feet, two and a half inches. Prior to that the river had remained stubbornly low and lack of rainfall had kept it that way for more than a month. The river is steadily on the rise now following upon the recent rains.

In recent days a number of people have picked flowers in their gardens, betokening the mildness of the current fall season. Frost has been very light so far and the flowers have remained in bloom. Yesterday Mrs. Charles MacKay, wife of Dr. MacKay, picked bouquets of Godetia, Viscaria, double Marigold, California Poppy, Alyssum, Sweet William and Mignonette in her garden.

"JAIL DOCTORS" TO BE APPOINTED BY COUNTY

Influx of Prisoners to Hospital Causes Action

Two Expected

Finance and Building Committee Meets Today

Considerations of the matter of appointing two jail doctors, who alone will have the authority of deciding whether a prisoner in the York County jail should be removed to the hospital for treatment, will be given by the Finance and Building Committee of the York County Council at a meeting here this afternoon. The committee, composed of Councillor Harry Morrison, Chairman, Councillor W. B. Ebbett, Councillor Frank Saunders and Warden W. J. Gaylor will also discuss other matters in connection with the County Jail which have been brought to the attention of the public in recent weeks through the columns of The Daily Mail.

Several prisoners in the jail have been ordered removed to the hospital for treatment by their own physicians and, according to county officials the practice is spreading so rapidly amongst the prisoners that steps are being taken to prevent prisoners from being removed to the hospital without good reason. The appointment of special doctors for the jail will not prevent a prisoner from having his own physician examine him, but that prisoner can be removed to the hospital he will have to be examined by the doctors appointed by the county. Then, if the authorized physicians find that the prisoner requires treatment in the hospital, he will be allowed to serve the required time in the hospital on an order from the Attorney General's Department.

Contrary to an announcement in a local paper yesterday, councillor Frank Coburn, Harvey, is not seeking election as Warden of the county. According to seniority the parish of Kingsclear is next in line for the wardenship which means that the post of Warden should fall between Councillors John Doherty and Howard Cameron.

The parish of Kingsclear had not had a warden since the late Tabor Everett held office several years ago and several of the councillors consider that the parish of Kingsclear should have a warden for the next period.

USE FOR BUS TERMINAL

The Capital Transit Company this week purchased the property, formerly used by W. C. Bunt as garage premises next to the York County court house. An official of the Capital Transit Company stated today that the front of the premises on Queen Street will be remodelled and used as waiting room and rest room for the convenience of customers, and that the entire premises will be used as a bus terminal after renovations. The bus service will be put into operation on December 15.

ORGANIZATION UNDERWAY

At a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Young Men's Committee last night organization was started for the formation of a Young Men's basketball league. Robin Kilburn was elected chairman of the basketball committee. The following men were appointed to interview various teams, some of which have already indicated a desire to participate in a league: Fred Campbell, Tennyson, A. MacDonald, and Ross Kerr. Any other teams wishing to enter should get in touch with Ralph Albrant, General secretary of the "Y" or Robin Kilburn. It is planned to call a meeting of representatives of the various teams next week to discuss the schedule. It is the hope of the committee to have the first games the last week of November.

Spud Farmers In Carleton Hail Reciprocity Pact

The reciprocity pact is already affecting the farmers of Carleton County, who are largely interested in potato raising. Over eleven hundred carloads of potatoes, have been shipped from that county this season which up to three weeks ago was four hundred more than was shipped last season. A carload comprises two hundred and fifty barrels of potatoes and they sold at 80 cents per barrel. One quarter of the entire crop has already been shipped. Since the announcement regarding the pact with the United States has been made, however, the farmers have started holding back their shipments. They are expecting a big advance in prices perhaps to around two dollars per barrel.

The news of the reciprocity pact is being received with rejoicing by the farmers along the Saint John Valley especially those who reside within the potato area.
