STATION CFNB HOLDS SUCCESSFUL STUDIO PARTY FOR THE KIDDIES

Saturday morning, through the generosity of radio station CFNB, one of the most successful parties imaginable was held. Telegrams from all over the Maritimes arrived to say that grannies and aunts were listening in. Small boys regretted that their daddies had to go to work and so couldn't hear their sons' radio deceived a cookie at the end of the performance.

Among those who took part were: George Boldon, aged 5; Tommy Boldon, aged 3; Ronnie Stevenson, aged 5; Donnie Stevenson, aged 5; Jack McGinnis, aged 6 years Saturday May 4; Billie Turner, aged 5; Jimmie McAdam, aged 5; Mac Gibson, aged but! As a matter of fact, we feel sorry for those daddies, too. For they certainly missed a treat.

The party was in charge of Miss Lutes and Miss McAnn who are conducting the Cooking School of the Air every week day morning from 10:00 to 10:15 over station CFNB.

Hundreds of smiling, happy faces thronged the studio and each one re-

5; John King and Billy King, twins, aged 6; Helen George, aged 5.

These ten little boys and one little girl sang a fine spirited song entitled: "Little Cock Sparrow". The children were accompanied on the mandolin by their kindergarten teacher, Miss Bunker. Billy Turner followed with a recitation: "Oh Billy, Where Art Thou Going" This was greeted with much applause.

Then Florence Hamill, a little girl of ten, gave her recipe for Acadia Muffins. Florence made these recipes yesterday. She brought samples to Miss McAnn and Miss Lutes who pronounced them A 1.

Helen George next sang a solo entitled: "One Little Sparrow". Helen is only 5. She too was accompanied on the mandolin by her teacher, Miss Bunker.

Birthday congratulations were also extended to Roberta Styran, 8 years old Saturday, May 4.

Admiring cheers and cookies the Studio party dispersed after singing "God Save the King". The very special verse evidenced in the singing of the National anthem was interpreted as an indication that the children all joined in wishing King George the Fifth and Queen Mary a very happy Jubilee day.

Eileen Law Marshall On National Network

Eileen Law Marshall, distinguished Canadian contralto, who will be heard on the "Concert Caravan" program from Toronto, which will be conducted by Ernest Dainty on Wednesday, May 8, at 10:00 P. M., A. S. T., has been a prominent radio vocalist since 1923. She is well known across Canada as a concert artist and has been contralto soloist at the Timothy Eaton Memorial Church since 1924. She will be heard on the forthcoming program in Handel's "Art Thou Troubled".

Jack Fulton's advice to young men who are afraid to strike out for themselves is "Go Ahead, if you think you have the goods". Jack is qualified to

Alec Maurice To Sing The "Vulcan's Song"

Alec Maurice, known to Canadian listeners from coast to coast through his fine work with the famous Toronto octet, "The Guardsmen", will be one of the guest vocalists on the Toronto program "Concert Caravan" on Wednesday, May 8th at 10:00 P. M., A. S. T.

The celebrated bass has chosen for his number on this program the "Vulcan's Song" from Gounod's "Philemon and Bancelis".

Maurice, as everyone knows who has heard him sing, is a Scotsman, a native of Dundee. As a youngster he attended the Morgan Academy, Dundee, one of the finest musical schools in Great Britain. He entered the textile trade and spent a number of years in India, where he had charge of nearly one thousand natives, twenty-five of whom could understand English. Alec learned Hindustani and Bengali and he also learned to understand and like the natives. He had many good friends who could not speak one word of English. He was their guest at native village ceremonies, weddings and religious festivals and worked with native doctors during a cholera epidemic.

A golden rule of the East is "leave before you are thirty" so after a most interesting career, including solo work in the big Cathedral at Calcutta Maurice returned to Scotland in 1929. After further travels in Africa and Egypt, he came to Toronto where he has been prominently identified with musical organizations for the past five years.

Speak, because he left a coveted role as vocalist with Paul Whiteman to carry on his own programs over CBS.

Program to Honor "Mother" Will "Say It With Music"

A program which will appropriately honour "Mother's Day" will be presented over the national network by the popular Russ Gerow and his "Say It With Music" lads from London on Tuesday, May 7 at 10:30 p.m. AST.

Songs about Mother and songs dedicated to Mother will be featured by orchestra and vocalists alike. One of the outstanding numbers on this "tribute" program will be Russ Gerow's own arrangement of Dvorak's beautiful composition, "The Old Mother." This will be presented in concert style by the full orchestra. A novelty piano arrangement of "Silver Threads Among the Gold" will be heard and another Gerow special of "That Wonderful Mother of Mine."

"I Love You Truly," one of the favorite numbers of all mothers will be played by the Lorne Hitchins Banjo Trio; Edith Morley will sing "Georgia Lullaby" with mandolas accompanying; a clever comedy will be featured for the lighter moments of the program.

One of the most popular and versatile programs on the Commission networks, radio listeners will be pleased to know that throughout the summer months it is to be heard on a coast-to-coast network.

Adele Ronson, the lovely young actress who plays "Wilma" in "Buck Rogers in the 25th Century", had an embarrassing experience the other morning as she left her Park Avenue apartment for the studio. A mother calling her daughter, cried "Wilma!"—and Miss Ronson, so accustomed to answering to the name in the studio, turned and said, "Yes?", much to the astonishment of the child's mother.
