SOUTH SUNBURY TILLEY

CLUB HEAR FINE ADDRESSES

Glendon Smith, John Fisher, Mrs. H. F. MacLeod, Hon. W. H. Harrison and E. C. Atkinson, M. P. P., Were the Speakers

(By Special Correspondent)

FREDERICTON JUNCTION, N. B., May 12—The Orange Hall here last evening was filled to both seating and standing capacity when fully 250 people attended the meeting of the South Sunbury Tilley Club. Keith Nason presided with C. A. Dickenson, secretary. The speakers were Glendon Smith of Saint John Tilley Club, John Fisher of Sackville Tilley Club, Mrs. Harry MacLeod of Fredericton; Attorney General Hon. W. H. Harrison, and E. C. Atkinson, who closed with a few remarks. Great enthusiasm prevailed.

Mr. Smith said that he was not fully satisfied with things as they were, but agreed with Premier Bennett that public questions must be studied thoroughly and impartially with the view of enabling the elector to vote intelligently and secure the best government possible. He commended Tilley's policy on hard-surfaced roads, which would boost the tourist industry, and that aiding the lumbermen, fishermen and farmers. Tilley was working harder than had any other Premier we had ever had, and had given an administration strong, conscientious and progressive.

John Fisher

Mr. Fisher referred to Sunbury's able men such as Sir Douglas Hazen, and the M. P. P.'s for the past ten years, Messrs. E. C. Atkinson, and A. D. Taylor. Emphasizing that this was the day of youth, he pointed out how Mussolini and Hitler had risen to prove by organizing the young men, how the Cuban revolution had been started by the University students, that President Roosevelt's advisors were comparatively young, that Nova Scotia's premier was only 38, that Ontario's Premier was the youngest on record, that Mayor McGeer of Toronto was young, and the political parties of Quebec were being split by a revolt of the younger members. Some of these movements might be good, others not good, but all showed the increasing activity of youth. So in New Brunswick had risen the Tilley Clubs, as over Canada the Bennett Clubs and the Twentieth Century

Clubs, showing youth was fitting itself for assuming responsibility at a much earlier age than in former days. The day of died-in-the-wool partizanship was fast disappearing. Tilley's administration was honest. It had been found impossible to balance the budget throughout the Depression—no province in Canada had, and none, but one of the 66 nations of the world. The Liberals promised a balanced budget, but how? With less taxes, and better roads! An insult to the people's intelligence. No party had caused the world-wide depression, but a party can do much to overcome it. The Tilley Clubs could be used for improvement of the members. Honor the founder—Mr. Tilley—and put him back into power, June 27!

Mrs. H. F. McLeod

Mrs. McLeod urged the Women to use their recently-acquired franchise. She was persuaded that the present government had done all in their power to give right direction. Our school of thought blamed the depression on the aftermath of war, inflation of currency, and increase of machinery; another blamed it in the natural course of events, with no remedy but a remodelling of the whole economic structure. In her opinion, the New Brunswick Government was remodelling the system as rapidly as possible. The Opposition were making charges they could not prove and promises they could not keep. Between 1917 and 1925 the Liberal Government had doubled the debt with very little to show for it. The Conservatives had also increased the debt but had more to show. They had built a new Normal School, two University buildings, the Museum and government building at Saint John, and 384 new bridges—all necessarily. The Liberal sinking fund was 6 per cent of the net debt, the Conservative 15 per cent. New Brunswick's privilege of floating loans easily and cheaply showed her financially sound.

The Attorney General

Hon. W. H. Harrison lauded A. D. Taylor, chairman of Public Accounts, as a very clever legislator. E. C. Atkinson was always after something for his constituency and generally got it. Last session extension of hydro through Southern Sunbury was made possible, and further extension would be steadily made. Some of the provinces that had changed governments during the past five years were sorry, and none of them had gained anything. Ontario had not enhanced her credit by repudiating solemn contracts. The unemployment situation in New Brunswick was improving rapidly. Lumber was picking up fast on account of the 10 per cent preference in British markets. Municipalities could now borrow up to $2.50 per capita from the government to be lent for construction of new houses. Lumber workers, who recently had to take $15 a month, now received a minimum of $32, a month and board. In six months the payrolls of 286 lumber operators had increased from $523,000 to $1,151,000. The Government's guarantee, along with the St. John Municipality, of $120,000.00 to the Port Royal Pulp Mill had employed 205 at the mill, besides those who had to supply the lime, coal, and pulp. The same help would have been given to similar cases. The Opposition merely criticized. Loans were guaranteed to farmers up to $200.00 for fertilizers, the farmers were saved from too low prices for milk. The government was helping to market fish. In Tilley we had a man heart and soul in favoring and pushing progressive policies. If the Liberals were running Mr. Dysart on the score of his ancestry, Tilley had as good a family history as any. Return Tilley to power.

E. C. Atkinson, M. P. P.

Mr. Atkinson announced that hydro construction was beginning at once. The minimum service charges would be $1 a month. The Sunbury County Nominating Convention would be held at Burton, Friday, May 17th. Premier Tilley and Hon. R. B. Hanson to be present.

The next meeting of the Tilley Club to be held at Hoyt, Sunbury, Saturday evening, 25th instant.

After votes of thanks to speakers and Women's Institutes, the party danced until 11:45. All were served lunch by the Institute.

Girl's Bare Legs Divert Men's Thoughts Says English Vicar

DUDLEY, Worcestershire, England, May 14—Girls with bare legs and painted lips were banned from the parish church at Sedgley, near here, today, by order of the vicar, the Rev. Harold Marley.

The pastor warned his feminine parishioners that he not only would eject from the church all girls who neglected to don hose, but that he also would refuse to administer the sacrament to women with carmine lips.

The Rev. Mr. Marley's admonition was contained in an article in the parish magazine.

"I consider the girl who thrusts her unclothed flesh before the attention—frequently the close attention, because of the nearness in the pew—of the male sex is doing a cattish trick.

"The male mind, being what it is, is bound to be diverted, if it be said, 'Well, I don't think much of the male mind,' my answer would be, 'It is as it was made.'"

"Woman was given those fair limbs to attract man, but only so that she might help him through life and not hinder him."

The Rev. Joseph Sunn, rector of Our Lady of Lourdes, Roman Catholic Church at New Southgate, previously expressed the opinion that it was impossible for a woman to smear cosmetics on her lips, "Without swallowing some of it."

Accordingly the priest asked a woman communicant to wash her lips before he would administer the sacrament.

A dowager with a platinum lorgnette asked Theodore Webb, who is heard on the "Beauty Box Theatre" over NBC-WEAF on Tuesday nights, "What is your favorite song?" Diplomatically, Webb answered, "The one you like best." "Well, well," the dowager beamed. "Isn't it marvelous how we both agree?"

P.E.I. RANCHERS GOT $250,000 FROM PELTS LAST YEAR

MONCTON, N. B., May 14—The pelt business, it is estimated was worth $2,500,000, to Prince Edward Island fox ranchers last year, stated H. Roy Holman, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., a well known fur buyer on his return home via the Canadian National Railways after a visit to Moncton recently. The fur production this year he remarked, from reports he has received from ranches on the Island, should be as high as last year when 60,000 pelts were marketed. A representative of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders Association recently returned from London and Paris stated France is one of the biggest markets for silver fox fur where it is used extensively by designers and style modistes. In Great Britain the demand is growing; two years ago silver fox was worn very little. England is becoming a great centre of the fur dyeing industry, there having been a great exodus of expert dyers from Leipzig. One firm in Britain had to enlarge their premises considerably; in one day they dye around 17,000 squirrel skins.

Price of Potatoes Is Soaring in West

WINNIPEG, May 14—An unusual demand for potatoes in some parts of Saskatchewan and Northern Ontario has sent prices soaring here. Two hundred carloads already have been shipped during the past six weeks, prices jumping 20 cents to 40 cents a bag.

SLEEP WELL?

Paula Cator Suggests Some Soporifics For Unfortunates Who Can Not Sleep.

If your beauty sleep is not as sound as it should be, take it from me that there are better ways of inducing sleep than counting a phantom flock of sheep. Doctors, psychologists and mattress-makers have seen to that.

The heightened speed of living is inclined to make satisfactory sleep more difficult for us, which is all the more reason why we should do everything to overcome this influence.

Featherweight Blankets

Make a start by seeing that your sleeping quarters are right. A well-sprung bedstead, not too narrow and with a mattress soft enough to accommodate the contours of the body, and a good feather pillow, are essential. Sheets and blankets should be long enough to tuck in, and the latter light but warm.

Do not put up with rattling windows or doors, you can always plug them—and see that your curtains thoroughly obscure the light and that your bed does not face the window.

Greens and blues are considered the most restful colors for the bedroom, and the floors should be sufficiently carpeted to absorb noise.

Pangs of hunger or a heavy late meal can both interfere with healthful sleep. So can stimulating drinks. Common or garden indigestion is a well-known enemy, and this can be avoided by making no heavy demand on your digestion too near bedtime, when your whole organism slows down.

On the other hand, a warm soothing drink as a night-cap prevents an empty feeling and is often a great aid to sleep. Any doctors recommend a short walk in the open air, especially if you are forced to lead a sedentary life, or a warm (not too hot) bath if you are overtired.

Learn to Relax

The most difficult lesson to learn in these days of crowded activities is the power of relaxation, which is vital during sleep.

Worry is the worst enemy of many people making this a time to unravel all their tangles and to speculate anxiously about the morrow. If you cannot get yourself to think about pleasant things, then take up a light book and distract your mind in that way.

As you lie down try this exercise: Give your whole weight to the bed, close your eyes and take a deep breath with relief. Then drag each leg up in turn so that the knee is bent and the foot is supported, then let them slip down slowly as if by their own weight.

Do the same with each arm, lifting it up from the shoulder and letting it fall limply on to the bed. Finally roll the head slowly to the left, then to the right, and back again.

Now all your muscles should be relaxed and you are very close to sleep.

Most women need a good eight hours' sleep in the 24, and the sleep that comes before midnight is generally considered the soundest. But it is how well you sleep, rather than how long, that matters so much.

Better at Home

Don't take the children with you on a shopping trip if you can possibly avoid it. It is always hard to concentrate on your buying if you have restless children with you and they will always tire first and thus curtail your shopping.

The Child and His Books

Teach the children the proper care of books by having shelves in the bookcase devoted to them and insist that the books are kept in an orderly condition and put away after each using. An inexpensive book stand for the child's room will encourage an interest.

The Voice of Experience

The oil lamp will burn more brightly if a pinch of salt is put in the oil when filling the lamps.

Try rubbing the cords of the windows that stick with soap and then run them up and down a few times. It works wonders.

Pour washing soda into the drain pipe of the sink once a week and prevent unpleasant odor, not to mention plumber's bills.

A tablespoon of ammonia in the basin of water in which hair brushes are washed will loosen every particle of soil. Rinse in cold water.

He Removed the Mote; She Removed His Pocketbook

CHICAGO, May 14—Dr. H. C. Barth who treats the eyes, sees clearly how it all happened now.

Two gypsy maids came to his office yesterday, one of them complaining of something in her eye.

Dr. Barth turned down the girl's eyelid, removed a speck of dust and asked: "Do you feel relieved now?"

She said she did, and departed with her companion, after which the doctor learned that he had been "relieved" of $45 he had in his hip pocket.

Way to Ease Headaches, Pain Almost Instantly

METHOD OFTEN RELIEVES NEURALGIA
AND RHEUMATIC PAINS IN MINUTES!

Remember the pictures below when you want fast relief from pain. Demand and get the method doctors prescribe—Aspirin. Millions have found that Aspirin eases even a bad headache, neuritis or rheumatic pain often in a few minutes! In the stomach as in the glass here, an Aspirin tablet starts to dissolve, or disintegrate, almost the instant it touches moisture. It begins "taking hold" of your pain practically as soon as you swallow it. Equally important, Aspirin is safe. For scientific tests show this: Aspirin does not harm the heart. Remember these two points: Aspirin Speed and Aspirin Safety. And, see that you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada, and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin tablet. Get tin of 12 tablets or economical bottle of 24 or 100 at any druggist's.

Why Aspirin Works So Fast

IN 2 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH
An Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work.

What happens in these glasses happens in your stomach—ASPIRIN tablets start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.
