SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Miss Margaret Tilley, daughter of Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, Premier of New Brunswick, and Mrs. Tilley, has recently been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Young Smith at Shediac Cape. During her visit Miss Tilley was entertained at luncheon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Clarence Webster, Riverside Drive, Shediac, other guests being Mrs. Smith and her daughter, Mrs. Donald Cowl (nee Miss Marjorie Smith), of New York.

The meeting last night in Fraser Memorial Hall of the Home & School Association was an enjoyable and instructive one, but, regrettably enough the attendance was a small one. The regular meeting was preceded by a business meeting. Rev. Dr. F. A. Wightman gave a few introductory remarks and discussed the aims of the association. Rev. George Telford was called upon and declared for the need of education for parents as well as pupils. He heartily endorsed the aims of the Home & School Association. A program was carried out, with Miss Jean Smith playing two piano solos and Douglas Terry rendering two vocal solos very excellently. Prof. Harrison Wade acted as accompanist. A feature of the evening was the showing of several reels loaned by the Department of the Interior through the N. B. Fish & Game Protective Association and depicting wild life and forest preservation. The reels were most entertaining and instructive. Afterwards a vote of thanks was given to the church officers of St. Paul's United Church and others who had assisted in the program. The singing of the National Anthem, led by Rev. Mr. Morash, brought the meeting to a close.

Among the subscribers to the Super Dance which is to be held on Friday next at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal the names are noted of Miss Evelyn Howard of Bathurst, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Melanson, Moncton and Miss Katherine G. Lynch, Fredericton.

Mrs. J. A. Richardson, entertained the Bridge Club of which she is a member last night at Bishop's court.

Last night at St. Dunstan's Hall, the Dedication of the colors of Second, Fredericton Company of Girl Guides took place. Rev. Dr. J. H. Milligan officiated at the blessing of the flag carried out under the direction of Captain Martha O'Neill. Several visitors were present including the parents of the Girl Guides with District Boy Scout Commissioner Pugh Complimenting the company on their efficiency, as also Miss Kate Stewart Guide Commissioner who presented the badges. An innovation in the exercises, folk dancing led by Miss Gertrude Cremins was much enjoyed by those present. It was announced last night that the Company have been invited to be present in St. John next June on the arrival of Lord Baden Powell who will be passing through on the way from Australia to England. The Guides 2nd Company Fredericton will there give a demonstration before Lord and Lady Baden Powell.

Celestial Temple No. 19, Pythian Sisters met at Castle Hall last evening in regular session with most Excellent Chief Mrs. Harold Pickard in the chair. Considerable routine business was transacted. One new candidate was initiated in the order and several old members were welcomed. A social half hour was enjoyed followed by the serving of delicious refreshments, the new officers acting as hostesses.

The Devon Well Baby Weekly Clinic is being held today in the Anglican Hall. The Clinic which is in charge of Miss Rankine is being sponsored by the Devon's Women's Institute and is well patronized. During January, the Talent Chapter of the Anglican church are hostesses at the social hour of the clinic.

A banquet supper and practise play was held on Saturday at the church hall by the Marysville Baptist Badminton Club.

The Fredericton Cathedral Badminton Club and the Marysville Badminton Club played an inter-club match last evening in the Baptist Church Hall Marysville. Men's doubles, ladies' doubles and mixed doubles were the main features with nearly every member of the clubs in the lineup. The

TENDERS CALLED FOR SUPPLYING OF GRAVEL

Hon. D. A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works, has called tenders for the supplying of 9,000 cubic yards of gravel to be used on Highway No. 2, between Lincoln and Oromocto. Delivery must be completed before April 30th, 1935.

The notice specifies that the gravel is to be delivered along the Highway in three compact stock piles of approximately 3,000 cubic yards, one located near the east end of the Lincoln Diversion, one about one-half mile east of the Lincoln School, and one near Wilmet's Wharf. Further: "The contractor will provide, at his expense, until December 31, 1935, all approved sites for stock piling purposes, together with a right-of-way to the same."

It is of interest to note also that a clause stipulates that "the minimum wage paid by the contractor for the various classes of labor shall not be less than the current wage of the Department." Also, "all work is to be on the basis of eight hours per day."

Tenders will be received at the office of the Chief Highway Engineer, Fredericton, until five o'clock on the afternoon of February 8, 1935.

Preparations For Swearing-in Governor

The new Lieutenant-governor, his wife and daughter will take up residence during the sitting of the N. B. Legislature, at "Acacia Grove," the home of Mrs. A. J. Gregory on Waterloo Row.

WAS QUITE ILL

The many friends will be pleased to learn of the improvement in the condition of Miss Nora Gerow, who has been quite seriously ill in this city.

COMFORTABLE NIGHT

The condition of Greg McGinnis who has been seriously ill at the Victoria Hospital with pneumonia, was reported showing still more improvement this afternoon.

Marysville club scored a victory over the visiting club. At the close of play delicious refreshments were served.

One of the most largely attended meetings of the Brunswick Street Baptist Young People's Union was held in the Church vestry last night.

The meeting was in charge of the Stewardship Commission and a Delegation from the Gibson United B. Y. P. U. attended the service. The guest speaker was Harry Grant, who addressed the gathering on "Atemism", a Religion of Ancient Egypt. An interesting feature of Atemism, as Mr. Grant pointed out was the hymns to Aten, which were very similar to the Psalms.

Miss Dorothy MacFadden, who presided, extended to Mr. Grant the thanks of the young people. During the service Miss Laura Milbury and Miss Edith Crawford played a piano duet. Others contributing to the service were: Mrs. H. S. Wright, Miss Marjorie Waters and Donald Sharpe. Games and refreshments brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

committee had had several meetings since its appointment; that the former constitution of the Association had been under consideration by the committee, and that it would be presented to the meeting in an amended form for adoption; that an agenda had been prepared and would be presented to the meeting, and that he had called the meeting on behalf of the committee. He asked all those in favour of the reorganization to signify that they were so in favour of it by rising. The meeting unanimously supported the reorganization.

On motion, R. P. Hartley was confirmed in the position of Chairman of the meeting and W. K. Tibert in the position of Secretary.

Dr. A. S. McFarlane then moved, seconded by R. G. Fulton, a resolution that the constitution as amended by the committee be adopted as the constitution of the newly organized Association. The constitution places authority in the executive board to deal with any matters that may arise in regard to the Public Service Superannuation Act.

Old Times Recalled

Rev. Dr. F. A. Wightman who is an author and an historical writer of considerable note has prepared the following interesting paper on "New Brunswick Boundary Disputes and Changes. The Daily Mail publishes the same at the request of some interested students of history. As an historical document it should be valuable.

NEW BRUNSWICK'S BOUNDARY DISPUTES AND CHANGES.

(By Rev. Dr. F. A. Wightman)

This brief period of mobilization of troops was referred to as the Aroostook war though no actual hostilities ensued. At least one hostile act took place when an over zealous American soldier crossed into the British lines and planted an American flag in a New Brunswick village in token of possession. Needless to say he was promptly arrested and taken a prisoner to Fredericton. Messages were passed between the Governors of the two countries. One demanded the immediate release and return to the prisoner. Nevertheless he was tried before a Fredericton magistrate and fined. It afterwards transpired that the Maine authorities were acting without the sanction of Washington which probably somewhat restrained extreme action on their part. But in any case it is apparent that if it had not been for the good judgment and wise and conciliatory attitude of Governor Harvey those might have been serious. It seems rather strange at this distance that a New Brunswick boundary line came near plunging England and the United States into a bloody war.

The correspondence on this whole question of our boundaries is voluminous and of great interest, but, of course, can't be reproduced here. A brief paragraph from one of Governor Harvey's letters written to Lieut. General Colbourn, dated at Fredericton, May 31st, 1838, may be given as a sample of money: He says—"I understand the people of Maine are in a state of much excitement at present upon the subject of the boundary question and express their determination to have the matter settled or settle it themselves in the course of the present summer. The whole of the military force at present in the province consists of the 65th Regiment and a small detachment of artillery; but Sir Colin Campbell informs me that the 11th Regiment will be sent into the province very shortly and your Excellency is doubtless aware that I am authorized to call upon the authorities in Lower Canada for additional troops in case of need." It should also be stated that Gov. Harvey favored a line running from Mars Hill to the mouth of the St. Francis or failing this, a line from a point on the Aroostook to the St. Francis.

Needless to say the whole situation was intolerable and extremely dangerous. After some negotiations England in 1842 sent Lord Ashburton to Washington to make a settlement of the whole matter. The famous Daniel Webster was detailed to co-operate in the interests of the United States. These two big men, free from local prejudices met in the spirit of good will and soon reported an agreement.

Lord Ashburton is frequently accused of betraying the interest of New Brunswick but this is unjust. Matters had gone too far for him to do a great deal by way of gaining New Brunswick's claims. Nevertheless, while the Treaty he made followed very closely the main ideas involved in the award made by the King of the Netherlands eleven years earlier and rejected by the American Senate, he gained 800 square miles more than it would have given. So the Ashburton Treaty may be regarded as a triumph for New Brunswick. This boundary, as is well known, after being carefully surveyed, was marked throughout with iron posts, some of which may be seen where highways cross the international line.

This rather sketchy account of our boundary lines on three sides touching three conflicting claimants I trust is not without interest. It certainly shows that New Brunswick, more than any other Canadian Province, has had to contend for her rights and has not always been successful in the effort. It is, however, pleasing to know that the border animosities of two generations ago have entirely passed away and are largely forgotten. Few of the young people of today know anything of these border disputes. While we are all pleased because the animosities have subsided it is well to have these historical facts of our early days kept alive and familiar to every rising generation. We are pleased to share a boundary over 3000 miles long where there is neither a garrisoned fortress or an armed soldier to menace the peace of either country. In this we give a splendid example to a war-maddened world.
