EVE ACTIVE- CANDIDATES AIDED BY WIVES

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 16.—With the leaders of Canada's two great political parties confirmed bachelors, the issue, whether a wife is an asset or a liability to men in public life has been somewhat obscured. Nevertheless, despite the single estate of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King the feminine touch is definitely felt in Canadian statesmanship.

The wife of Hon. H. H. Stevens motored with her husband as the leader of the new Reconstruction party made a tour of British Columbia and Alberta. Not a platform speaker, she aided her campaigning husband in innumerable other ways. As J. S. Woods worth leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, toured the west, his wife aided in looking after routine political matters at the Winnipeg home.

Mrs. Mitchell F. Hepburn has received a great deal of credit for her husband's personal victory in St. Thomas at the Ontario provincial elections a year ago.

On the west coast Eve plays a part in public life too. Mrs. Angus MacInnis, wife of the federal member for Vancouver South, aids her husband in his advancement as a public man. Daughter of J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, Mrs. MacInnis holds a brilliant scholarship record.

She is a graduate of University of Manitoba and spent a year at the Sorbonne, Paris. Previous to her marriage she was her father's secretary at Ottawa and today she speaks from the public platform on her husband's behalf. She accompanies her husband in the current federal campaign.

The wife of Mayor G. C. McCreer of Vancouver is assisting her husband as he campaigns for a federal post in the Dominion elections. Mrs. King, wife of Senator J. H. King, former minister of public works for Canada, has won no little renown in political circles. During the regime of Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, Mrs. King was looked upon as Ottawa's official hostess. Her unflinching tact and charm endeared her to the political lights of the country who assembled at the nation's capital.

Though her home is in the far north Yukon territory, Mrs. George Black, wife of the retired Speaker of the House of Commons, is known the length and breadth of Canada as an able speaker and a gracious hostess. When owing to ill-health, it was doubtful her husband, Hon. George Black, would run for member in the forthcoming elections, loyal Yukoners asked his wife to accept the nomination. She did.

So despite Canada's bachelor political leaders, the Dominion has its counterparts of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the president of the United States, who astounds the world with her activity both social and political.
