FIRST BLAST IS FIRED AT EASTPORT, ME.

Vice-President Garner Formally Inaugurates 'Quoddy Project'

EASTPORT, Me., July 5—The first dynamite blast signifying the formal start of construction of the huge Passamaquoddy tidal power project, was set off here today by Vice-President John N. Garner of the United States amid a glittering display and with a crowd estimated at 10,000 in attendance.

Eastport's Glorious Fourth observance was one of the most outstanding of such events today in the United States and thousands of visitors swelled the town's population for the ceremonies. Parades, ball games and dances were included in the day's lengthy program.

Dexter P. Cooper, promoter of the project, was unable to be present at today's celebration, having been called to Washington on account of his wife's illness.

Trim U. S. Craft Anchored Here

Yes, he was quite aware that he bore a name famous for its exploits in sea navigation. None of his people had been adventurers on the seas so far as he knew.

A brother, Hugh Cabot, M.D., is at work adjusting medical practice to modern social needs. He has written a book "The Doctor's Bill", which has had wide circulation in its field. Seven of Francis Cabot's family, including himself are Harvard graduates.

The Fredericton visitor retired seven years ago as an insurance executive. Mrs. Cabot took issue with her husband. She was sure it was only five years ago. "You see," she said. "Mr. Cabot has been troubled with a heart ailment. Five years ago the doctor advised him to quit work". Mrs. Cabot who is bronzed with the sun of many days at sea, has an attractive smile and an optimism which must be engendered by water and sun. "So now we have been going like this every summer, taking three months out of the year for the past thirteen years", she concluded.

The Cabots are accompanied by a helper. They have a full supply of books, and paraphernalia designed to make the trip comfortable and profitable from the standpoint of relaxation. The Mail reporter was given a cheerful goodbye by the happy couple when he left. Some day, like every other person in the world, he intends to do the same thing the Cabots are doing.

A PUBLIC NUISANCE

S. S. Miller, a prominent citizen, who was one of the representatives of the Board of Health present at last night's joint meeting of the York county council, the city council and the Board of Trade, to consider the matter of an abattoir for York county, paid the Daily Mail a signal compliment. He was discussing the advisability of an abattoir, and the elimination of the ordinary slaughter houses in the county, many of which are offensive to the public. He mentioned a piggery situated on the road leading to the golf links, a short distance above the city, from which a particularly offensive smell emanated. Passing motorists were particularly offended and there was always danger from disease. Mr. Miller advocated the cleaning up of such public nuisances and complimented The Daily Mail on its stand in bringing up the matter and advising that something be done about it in its columns of recent date.

CHICAGO, July 5—Taken from her crib last midnight, Dolores Rendols, year-old daughter of Mrs. Lucille Rendols, was returned to her home today unharmed.

MARYSVILLE COTTON MILL'S FINE RECORD

An extract from the "Manual of the Textile Industry of Canada, seventh edition, 1935," carries the following information about the Canadian Cotton, Ltd., mill at Marysville:

Since the Gibson mill at Marysville, New Brunswick, was acquired by Canadian Cottons Limited in the year 1910, it has been successfully and continuously operated by the company during the twenty-five years that have elapsed since that time. The mill enjoys the distinction of being the town's only industrial plant and since the year 1930 particularly its wage, tax, and other contributions have been practically the community's sole means of support.

The population of Marysville at the last Federal census in 1931 was 1,512 persons and in that year the number of people employed in the Gibson Mill was 457 or slightly below the figures of employment for 1929 and 1930, which amounted to 496 and 486 respectively. In face of extremely difficult trading conditions—the mill produces staple cotton goods such as cotton flannels, coloured flannelettes, shirting, etc., the demand for which seriously contracted during the depression years—employment was maintained during 1932 and 1933 at 421 and 361 respectively and in the year 1934 the figures of employment increased to 378.

Wages paid to its factory workers, by the Gibson Mill during the years indicated, are as follows: 1930, $385.95; 1931, $316.634; 1932, $302.434; 1933, $271.607; 1934, $273.402. The average weekly wage received by the company's employees is much higher than the figures of employment and wage indicate, owing to short-time operations.

In a town which is neither a fashionable tourist resort nor a centre which can in other ways attract wealth which may be employed to support the community, the importance of the employment of 378 persons during 1934, when the total population is approximately 1,512, cannot be over-emphasized. Yet with the exception of the year 1933 when the figures of employment was 361, employment during the six years 1929 to 1934 inclusive was considerably in excess of this number. By such employment a community was maintained and its inhabitants were assured of a decent standard of living.

Two other forces must be mentioned.

sent last night, except Hon. W. H. Harrison, attorney-general who has not yet returned from a post-election holiday.

Three of the five successful Conservative candidates in the recent provincial election were present in the city last night and conferred with the government briefly. These were Robert McAllister, Saint John county; E. W. Melville, and G. W. Perry, of Carleton County.

It is said that Premier-elect Dysart and several of his supporters will be in Fredericton early in the coming week at which time a general conference will be held.

ELECTED OFFICER

ed in connection with support of the community and they comprise the amount of money spent locally for plant expansions and supplies and the total amount paid to the town in property taxes. During the past six years the amount of money spent in property taxes had amounted to approximately $17,500 per annum and in the year 1934 reached a new high total of $18,411, thus the Mill has borne a substantial part of the town's burden of taxation at a time when defaulted payments were common in many industrial towns in Eastern Canada.

The other force, that of money spent for plant expansions and supplies, has been almost equal to that of taxation in contributing to the maintenance of the community. In 1929 the amount of money spent within the town of Marysville in this manner amounted to $21,000 and in succeeding years and including the year 1934 the amounts were $14,000, $14,000, $12,000, $8,300 and $13,600. From all angles the Gibson mill may well be proud of the part it has played in maintaining Marysville's economic and social life during a period of steadily contracting trade and commerce.
