BAYONNE, New Jersey, August 4—
The funeral of Mrs. Helen Mac-Knight, allegedly slain with a hatchet by her seventeen year old daughter and her sweetheart, was held from a funeral chapel here last evening.

A clergyman prayed last night over the body of Mrs. Helen MacKnight, while a vendor did a brisk business in hot dogs and soda pop among the curious outside the chapel and a man next door turned a hose on trespas-

Fathers of both young persons had visited them in tearful scenes during the day. Later Edgar W. MacKnight, cable company official, sent his daughter another message as he prepared for the funeral of his wife, a native of New Brunswick.

It was delivered by the girl's lawyer, who said it was:

"Do not shift the blame on somebody who was not culpable."

Commonwealth Federation of the Britain became ivolved in war.

August 4, 1914-1936

Twenty-two years ago today the call to arms flashed around the far-flung British Empire. Britain was at war-a war to end wars.

On July 28 Austria declared war on Serbia. The next day Russia called up her reservists. On August 1 Germany declared war on Russia and France issued mobilization orders. On August 2 Germany violated Luxembourg's neutrality and issued an ultimatum to Belgium, and on that day there were brushes between French and German and Russian and German troops. Germany did not, however, declare war on France until August 3. On August 4 Germany invaded Belgium and Britain, who had warned her of the consequences in an ultimatum, declared war upon her. Thus within seven days seven nations, five of them great powers, were plunged

On this twenty-second anniversary of the Great War we see nations of the earth ready again to spring at each other's throats. Conditions today look as threatening and more so than they did previous to August 4, 1914. Only the good sense and Christianity instead of the spirit of greed and gain will prevent another war.

Only a few days ago on Vimy Ridge Canada's message to the European nations was that of peace. Will peace prevail or will we break faith with those who died in a war to end wars.
