INCREASED CATCHES ON BOTH CANADIAN COASTS, VALUE UP SLIGHTLY

Biggest Gain in Landings in Atlantic Coast Waters But British Columbia Accounts for Landed Value Betterment — Herring Fishery Results Interesting Feature of Eastern Operations.

More fish and shellfish for the cook's pots and pans were landed by Canada's sea fishermen in April than they captured in April, 1935, and the money return to the fishermen, as a group, increased slightly. On the Pacific coast total catch and landed value were both larger than a year ago but in the Atlantic area there was a small decrease, notwithstanding a gain in catch.

Here, in brief, is the month's story, told by unrevised statistics compiled by the Dominion Department of Fisheries, which collects the statistics of all of Canada's sea fisheries:

Catch for both coasts totalled 302-000 hundredweights, in round figures, an increase of more than 44,300 hundredweights over the total for April, 1935.

Total landed value, or the value of the fish and shellfish to the fishermen as landed, was nearly $218,900, a gain of $26,900.

Landings from Pacific coast fisheries which is another way of saying "landings from the sea fisheries of British Columbia," amounted in all to 51,700 hundredweights, roundly stated, and Atlantic Coast landings were 251,300 hundredweights—an increase of 6,400 hundredweights in the one case and more than 37,965 in the other.

On the Pacific coast the landed value for the month was $235,200, which represented a gain of over $27-900, but there was a small drop in the Atlantic value, which totalled $483-375 as against $484,700 a year ago.

Bigger returns from the salmon and halibut fisheries were the main factors in raising the British Columbia value above the '35 mark.

Decreased landings of cod, halibut, haddock, and scallops by Nova Scotia fishermen largely explain the falling off in Atlantic value.

The fishery to show the greatest difference in results for the two Ap-rils was the herring fishery of the Atlantic provinces, which this year yielded a catch of 48,376 hundred-weights, or more than forty-eight times the quantity taken in the 1935 month. Landed value $24,903, increased about twenty-eight fold. But there was a particular reason for these great gains. Weather and drift ice conditions were unfavorable for herring fishing in the early spring of last year and the catch was very small.

This year the Ice Man behaved more sensibly, and the herring catch in each of the four Atlantic provinces was very much larger than twelve months ago. As a matter of fact, in the case of Quebec no landings of herring or any other kind of fish were reported in April, 1935, but in April just past 8,400 hundredweights of herring, with a value of about $1,700 to the fishermen were caught.

The chief operations in British Columbia during the month were those in the halibut, salmon, ling cod, and herring fisheries. Halibut catch, 19-500 hundredweights with a landed value of over $113,500, was greater by approximately 7,800 hundredweights than it was a year ago and there was a betterment of more than $16,000 on the dollar side. The quantity of salmon taken, some 6,700 hundred-weights, showed an increase of 1,100 hundredweights. Salmon landed value increased by about $12,500 to reach $66,500.

More ling cod were caught than in April, 1935, but their value to the fishermen, $31,750, fell off a trifle.

Three of the four Atlantic provinces showed gains in catch and landed value but these increases were offset by Nova Scotia decreases, and Nova Scotia's case is another illustration of the uncertainties of fishing. In March it was Nova Scotia which led the parade, so to speak, when its catch increased sharply in quantity and value, came April and Dame Fortune smiled on the Nova Scotians only part of the time. A fickle jade, indeed.

In April Nova Scotia's fishermen had to be content with aggregate landings of 161,590 hundredweights, which were valued at $437,200 as brought ashore. In the preceding April their catch had been slightly more than 173,000 hundredweights with a landed value of $453,000.

Catches from most of the principal April fisheries in Nova Scotia waters were smaller than in 1935 and brought the fishermen fewer dollars. In the case of lobsters, however, the money total rose from $206,100, in round figures, to $215,500, notwithstanding that the catch dropped from 14,210 hundredweights to 13,000.

Herring and cod were the only fish taken by the Prince Edward Island fishermen during the month. Except for the sake of strict precision, it might be said that the provincial catch was made up of herring for out of total landings of 18,945 hundred-weights only five were cod. Total landed value was $10,000. In April of last year the catch was sixty hundred-weights and land value worked out at a dollar a hundredweight.

New Brunswick's catch for April was approximately 62,400 hundred-weights and landed value $34,800.
Alewives, herring, sardines, calms and cod were the principal species taken, with the landings of the first two increasing sharply and value rising accordingly. As compared with results of operations of April, 1935, there was a gain of over 22,000 in total provincial catch for the month and a gain of a little more than $3,000 in landed value.

A golfer had lost his ball, and, not unnaturally, was inclined to be annoyed with his caddy. "Why didn't you watch where it went?" he asked angrily. "Well, sir," said the boy, "it didn't usually go anywhere, and so it took me unprepared like."

DOAKTOWN NEWS

DOAKTOWN, N. B., June 18—The Ministerial Association of Fredericton and of the Miramichi met at Doaktown. An excellent Miramichi salmon dinner was served by the ladies of the United Church in their new hall. About 65 in all, clergymen and their wives, were present.
Archdeacon Parker as President of the Miramichi Ministerial Association acted as chairman and welcomed the guests from Fredericton, Marysville and Devon. The Rev. J.
W. Bartlett, President of the Fred-erickton Association responded. Rev.
J. Forbes of Loggieville extended thanks and Rev. H. M. Upham of Doaktown responded. A pleasing feature of the dinner was the presentation of a book from the Fred-erickton Ministerial Association to Archdeacon Bate who is about to leave Fredericton after twenty years of service. The presentation was made by Rev. George Telford and Archdeacon Bate responded.
The meeting adjourned to the United Church where Rev. Gerald Guion presented an excellent review of Stanley Jones' book "Christ is Alternative to Communism," which was followed by a short discussion. At a soft-ball game the Miramichi came out on a very long end on the score.
This is the first meeting of the two associations and it is hoped that it will become an annual event.

"Soaking Rich" is Not Cure, Accountants Told

HALIFAX, June 20—Taxation was Canada's most serious problem, but it could not be solved by a policy of "soaking the rich," A. B. Shepherd of Toronto, President of the Dominion Institute of Chartered Accountants, told a service club today.
"Any Government undertaking a soak-the-rich policy, would surely discourage development of industry by placing upon it such a levy which would be bound to curtail the amount of capital available, and reduce the number of gainfully employed," the speaker asserted.

PAYING FOR NEW CARS

Kingston Whig-Standard: People who are tempted to wonder these days how there are so many shiny new cars on the highways and how so many people can afford them may find the explanation they seek in some figures issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics of the financing of motor vehicle sales.

In April, according to the bureau, there were 16,986 motor vehicles financed to the extent of $7,126,942 in Canada. These figures compare with 12,749 vehicles financed for $5,373,447 in April, 1935, and 8,492 for $3,496-931 in April, 1934. There was an increase of 33 per cent, in number of vehicles financed in April this year over April, 1935, and of 100 per cent, over April, 1934. Here is a decided jump for this spring.

Cumulative figures for the first four months of this year show a total of 36,164 vehicles financed for an aggregate sum of $14,996,348, as compared with 26,912 at $11,502,541 in the same period of last year. New vehicles financed numbered 12,393 and used vehicles 23,771. Ontario had approximately half the total with 18,298 at $6,882,799.
