

G. E. Merrithew

ago floating on the Nashwaaksis, matched.

The coroner is of the opinion that death was caused by drowning. There was an indentation above Mr. Merrithew's left eye, which might have been caused by a blow from striking the boat or a log in the river. There was no blood on Mr. Merrithew's clothing. The spot where the body was discovered is below the mouth of the Nashwaaksis. It is not definitely known if Mr. Merrithew came to his death in the Nashwaaksis river or in the St. John river. It is thought however, that after leaving the boat he may have climbed up the very steep bank which runs almost perpendicular at the mouth of the Nashwaaksis and which takes a dangerous drop to the water which is ten or fifteen feet deep at that point. It is presumed that Mr. Merrithew slipped and fell into the river. The very cold water and shock therefrom together with the fact that he has recently been having some trouble with his feet and legs, the result of injuries received overseas, may have resulted in what was a fatal plunge. It is probable that the accident took place in this way, although it is not likely that anyone will ever know. The canoe which Mr. Merrithew had hired was discovered by the R.C.M.P. last Monday morning and contained several of his effects which would seem to bear out the indication that he climbed up the bank and fell from there, rather than being upset out of the canoe.

Dr. Charles MacKay, after viewing the body on Saturday summoned a coroner's jury consisting of P. S. Watson, Harold Sansom, Wilbur Elliott, Guy Miles, Samuel Lean, Edward Harrison, Gerald Ashfield and Fred Kierstead. After viewing the remains the inquest was adjourned to this evening.

Eldon Merrithew was a son of the late G. W. Merrithew and was born in this city where he spent the most of his life.

The late Eldon Merrithew is survived by his wife, now in New York, one brother LeBaron Merrithew, of Eastport, Maine; and two sisters Mrs. John Bebbington of this city, and Mrs. Karl Simpson of Juniper. The funeral took place from Mrs. Bebbington's home, Charlotte street, at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon with service conducted by Ven. Archdeacon A. F. Bate. Interment was made in the Rural cemetery extension. Members of the Fredericton Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., attended the service in a body and acted as pallbearers. They were W. A. Gibson, Karl Walker, N. W. McCormick, J. D. MacKay, Thomas Lynch. The chief mourners were as follows: Dr. A. A. Rowan, Ernest Coy, Frank B. Osborne, Arthur C. Porter, George Clark Claude Carson, Wood Merrithew, Gordon Merrithew, Earle Simpson, LeBaron P. Merrithew, J. Wayne Bebbington, M. H. Pickard, J. W. Bebbington, Dr. Byron Ross, Harry Hepplewhite, William McFadden, Geo. Bliss, Luke S. Morrison, Major T. C. Barker, Prof. Steeves, Earle Merrithew, Oswald Merrithew, Harry Merrithew, Bert Lint, Arthur Lynton, Jos. McPeake, Fred Thompson and J. Ar-

Arrest Probable

The first time it banked on a turn. The boat overturned in 10 feet of water scarcely 25 yards from shore but only three of the children, ranging in age from 8 to 17, were able to swim. The rest sank before rescuers could reach them. They were part of 90 children from schools of Lubec, West Lubec and North Lubec, 22 miles north, celebrating the first day of their summer vacation. Four teachers and approximately 100 parents and adult friends accompanied them.

Owner Crippled

Calvin London, 56, owner of the boat, was operating it. He is a cripple and is a favorite among Lubec children. Many had ridden in previous summers in the same boat that capsized yesterday.

London and two children clung to the boat. The other children threshed desperately, screamed, then one by one sank.

Miss Stella Burhoe, a 23-year-old teacher, was heroine of the tragedy. She was sitting in an automobile, near the shore. Before anyone else in the crowd reached the bank, she dived in fully clothed.

Beside the boat, she went under water and brought up Marion Kelly, 8. As she rose, a small girl clinging to the boat reached for her, screaming "take me in!"

Miss Burhoe feared the child might let loose from the boat in hysteria.

With the little Kelly girl in one hand, she slapped the panicky child soundly and repeatedly.

"Hang on," she said fiercely. "Hang on."

The girl subsided and Miss Burhoe swam ashore with the Kelly child.

R.C.M.P. Headquarters

was just a rumor. He said that in his opinion the proper place for the R.C.M.P. headquarters was here at the capital, and that as far as anything he had to say went they would remain here.

The headquarters of the Mounted Police are situated in the Old Government House. Several other buildings have been remodelled and built for their accommodation. There is considerable land joining the government house property which is excellent for drilling purposes and it is not likely that either the federal or provincial authorities would consider the removal of the detachment from here.

thir Thompson.

The late G. Eldon Merrithew was a Quarter Master Sergeant in Company "C" of the 104th Battalion with headquarters in this city. Deceased had been in Major F. A. Good's company.

Barry Merrithew of Bangor, Maine, a brother of the late Eldon Merrithew and Moses Pickard, an uncle, arrived here today to attend the funeral, and coming by car from Montreal were Mrs. Vernon Harquail, Claude Carson and Miss Elizabeth Bebbington, nephew and nieces of the deceased.

Members of the Christchurch Cathedral choir were present at the funeral and sang the hymns "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," and "Unto the Hills." The funeral was a very large and representative one.

Garden Party

A most delightful function was the Garden Party held on Saturday by the Governor Carleton Chapter of the I.O.D.E., on the beautiful lawn at the home of Miss Reta Gerow which she graciously loaned for the occasion. A large number of citizens from the city and Devon availed themselves of this opportunity of enjoying a cup of tea in the open and enjoying the gorgeous flowers. The guests were received by the regent of the chapter, Mrs. J. B. Crocker, and the hostess, Miss Gerow. Pouring tea and coffee were Mrs. J. Harvey Robertson and Mrs. Bedford Phillips. Replenishing were Mrs. C. F. Parker, Mrs. John Lounsbury, and Mrs. C. C. Camp.

Those who served included Mrs. H. C. Jewett, Mrs. J. P. Corkery, Mrs. H. A. Smith, Mrs. R. D. Hanson, Miss Kay Shea, Miss Mary Neville, Miss Barbara Armstrong, Miss Eleanor Weddall, Miss Harriet VanWart, Miss Margaret Scott and others. Mrs. D. J. Shea took the contribution.

After an amazing career in her native Sweden, through the Russian Revolution and pioneering in the North Bay district, Madame Louise de Kiriline has turned writer. She gives to the world its first book-length account of that miraculous twentieth century act of God, the birth of the quintuplets and their first-year experiences. She thinks the great mission of the little Dionne sisters is to teach Canadian mothers infant care.

THE DAILY MAIL

When the trees begin to shed their leaves

And the days are growing short,
We crawl near the fireside with ease
The "Daily Mail" to court.

First, we read the headlines,
Great interest they withhold,
Then, the front page Editorial
Eh! Some say Jimmy's getting bold.

Why, he takes the bull right by the horns

And leads him to and fro,
Likewise select men of the town,
We watch them smaller grow.

Go to it, Jimmy, with your pen and ink,
Make them toe the mark, or, then a stink,

You get just what you go for,
Now, see that Justice walks in the door.

Then tomorrow evening we'll sit and read
The Councilors gave Jim hell at great speed,

But go to it with your grease and paint
Make white colors what they make us think they ain't.

Your paper's the better,
Yes the better of two,
So, and over end, I'll bid you adieu.

McCormick-Deering
No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower

WE are anxious to have all of our friends see the New McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower. We think it is one of the finest pieces of farm equipment we have ever sold!

Everybody who has seen it says they never had any idea that a mower could be built as this one is.

For example: The entire operating mechanism, including drive gears, differential, and countershafts, is assembled compactly in an oil-tight gear housing and runs in a bath of oil. There are four high-grade roller bearings. Operation is so smooth and noiseless that you can scarcely hear the light hum of the sickle!

Special oil seals at the ends of the main axle and fly-wheel shaft, and the oil-tight gear box prevent leakage and protect all working parts against the entrance of dirt and other abrasive materials. Floating action of cutter bar provides ample play without disturbing knife registration.

'Wisely, and slow, they stumble that run fast'

The public demanded shirts for one dollar. Being public servants we felt it our duty to meet this demand. First we had to secure shirts of quality equal to our standard of value, or keep out of the low price field.

Realizing the truth of the words of Chesterfield, "A man of sense may be in haste, but never in a hurry, because he knows that whatever he does in a hurry he must do very ill"—we therefore took our time and carefully "combed" the shirt manufacturers' lines for values before we decided to "stock" shirts at this price. We feel confident that you will agree with us that our dollar shirts are real value—worth one dollar of any man's hard earned money.

When better shirts are made to sell for one dollar, they'll be sold at
