Men are most annoying guys. Always trying to be wise. Bringing tin cans from the shop. Trying to hint the bride's a flop. We'll admit, when living double. You're steering into trouble. ## SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

A pretty wedding took place this afternoon at two-thirty o'clock at St. James' United Church in Ottawa when Amelia Marguerite daughter of Lieutenant-Colonel Walter C. Gillis and Mrs. Gillis became the bride of Joseph Gordon Lamb, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lamb, of Stark, Florida, formerly of Sussex, N. B. Reverend Norman Rawson officiated.

Miss Maggie Jean Chestnut of Fredericton and cousin of the bride was maid of honor, Miss Margaret Harry was bridesmaids and the junior bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Smith and Miss Sally Ann Broadbent. James McLaughlin was best man. The ushers were Lieutenant Bryce Gillis of London Ontario, and brother of the bride, Richard H. Chestnut, of Fredericton, cousin of the bride, Alex. Smith and Charles McBride of Ottawa.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown of thirty years ago, of fine guipure lace and trimmed with pearls. She wore a head-dress of orange blossoms with long bridal veil and she carried Johanna Hill roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor was gowned in green peau d'ange lace made with a girdle of rainbow chiffon satin. She wore a green felt hat, green slippers and she carried pink butterfly roses and mauve sweet peas. The bridesmaid's gown was in similar style in peach and she carried tallisman roses and lilies of the valley.

The Junior bridesmaids wore old-fashioned pink and blue dresses and carried colonial bouquets of sweet heart roses and forget-me-nots.

The church was decorated with palms and spring flowers. Miss Evelyn Lane was at the Console and during the signing of the register a solo was rendered by Mrs. Garnet Montgomery.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride, about one hundred guests being present. The bride's table was centered with a wedding cake and roses.

The bridal couple later left by motor on a wedding trip to New York and the Southern States. For traveling the bride is wearing a raisin colored tailored suit with brown accessories and kolinsky fur.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. R. W. L. Tibbits, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. H. G. Chestnut aunt of the bride, both of Fredericton, and the Misses Mountford of Montreal.

The bride's mother was gowned in powder blue lace with blue flowered hat and corsage of roses.

The bride's grandmother wore a light gray sheer chiffon suit with a violet flower hat and corsage of violets.

Mrs. Chestnut wore a French gown of navy blue sheer crepe and navy blue hat.

The bridegroom is a former New Brunswick, being a native of Sussex where he was educated. The bride received her education in Ottawa and in Fredericton where she has many friends who will be interested to hear of her marriage. She was on the staff of the city schools of Ottawa for seven years.

Mrs. C. J. Jones of Woodstock who has been the guest of her mother-in-law for the past few days, is returning home today.

After routine business an excellent report was given by Dr. A. S. McFarlane, Chief Superintendent of Education, who based his remarks on the assets and liabilities of a school district. ### FOR COMING DAYS

Through days of grievous heartache in nights of bitter pain, So many hopes have faded, So many plans proved vain, But still the silver lining Fringes the clouds overhead; And newer hopes come thronging Swift after those fled.

Always another dawning Follows the longest night, Turn then from cheerless brooding Look for the gleaming light. Lift up the weak and weary Who fatter by the way, So shall you find new blessings Attend you every day.

—Edwin H. Clarke,

Fredericton, April 17, 1936.

Wilmot Y.P.S.

The Wilmot Young People's Society held a meeting last evening which being the first Friday after Easter is usually skipped. The attendance was rather less than usual but it was a very interesting meeting. Devotional exercises opened the programme after which a talk on Anthony Eden was delivered by Bruce Bird, past president of the society. Mr. Bird created a realistic atmosphere for his sketch of Captain Eden by describing the present state of international politics and then traced the public life of this statesman in his rapid rise to the position of Foreign Secretary. Rev. J. W. Bartlett outlined a recent successful book "England Speaks" by Philip Gibbs. The book succeeds in presenting a picture of conditions in England more effectively than probably any other. After these two addresses the gathering was in the spirit for a discussion and a lively conversation about conscription and other matters relating to war took place. The National Anthem brought the meeting to a conclusion.

Protest Curtailment

R. L. Phillips following the conference read as follows:

"At a conference with mayors of Fredericton and Devon held this morning I was requested to wire you request to hold up proposed curtailment of your Devon staff pending conference here which is requested."

At the meeting on Tuesday between Board of Trade representatives and the council, this serious matter as well as others connected with rail service respecting this city, will be discussed at length.
