Al McCoy and Loughran to Meet Monday

MONTREAL, July 2—Late this afternoon, Alderman Hogan, chairman of the Boxing Commission, told The Star that Armand Vincent had deposited a certified cheque for five thousand dollars with him, and that he had given permission for the Loughran-McCoy fight to be held on Monday night.

CHICKS Mean CHEQUES

A lot of smart people have found out that there's money in chickens. Some of them are turning "chicks" into "cheques" on poultry farms.

Close Decisions in Olympic Trial Fights

Slam Bang Bout Between Melanson and Alex. McLeod of Barker's Point — Dallas Laskey Gave Fine Exhibition

SAINT JOHN, July 3—The Maritime Olympic trials and Maritime boxing championships got off to a great start at The Forum last night with the second and ninth bouts of the night taking the spotlight.

Practically every bout was closely and contested and there were no upsets with the exception of the final bout of the night when Adam Dupuis got the call over the lanky Tom Foley of Halifax in a semi-final of the 135-pound class.

The slam-bang affairs between Melanson of River Hebert, N. S., and Alec McLeod of Barker's Point, N.B., in the lightweight division and Khattar Khattar of Sydney, N.S., and Gus Hurley of Maccan in the bantam class had the 2,000 fans on edge in every round while young Dallas Laskey of Fredericton with a great exhibition of boxing shared honors with the top bouts when he disposed of Bill Ledden, Saint John, after the fight had been forced to four rounds. The two battled in the featherweight division.

Tonight the remainder of the semi-finals and all final bouts are carded. Ticket seekers are asked to be on hand early to get their seats as the bouts will start at sharp 8 o'clock. H. J. Sullivan paid tribute to the work of Arthur Ganett and Louis J. Donovan last night in the efficient manner in which they handled the boxers. There were no delays during the more than three hours of boxing.

But one protest was taken to the Saint John Boxing Commission last night after the bouts when Bill Laskey of Fredericton claimed that Alec McLeod, one of his stable, had a clean case in protesting.

The Protest

Laskey claimed that when young Dempsey felled McLeod for the third time in their 135-pound semi-final and Dempsey was awarded a technical kayo that the referee, E. J. Mooney, failed to toll off the count to McLeod and the latter arose from the floor at the final count of 10 believing it was nine. The hammer used to toll off the count at the ringside, Laskey said, was confusing to the boxers and if they were a little 'clouded' on the floor they would not know what the count was.

H. J. Sullivan, chairman of the Boxing Commission and general chairman of the trials, said last night that he had called a meeting of the commission to discuss the protest to-day and it was possible that Dempsey and McLeod would have to battle over again tonight.

Mayor MacLaren opened the trials with words of welcome to the visiting boxers, Chief Justice Baxter, who attended in the absence of Lieutenant Governor MacLaren; Captain Johnson and officers of H.M.S. Dragon also paid compliment to the untiring efforts of Mr. Sullivan in staging such an outstanding attraction for boxing fans.

Action plus was the keynote in each and every bout.

The first of the top-notchers came after the Dupuis-Sullivan opener in the lightweight class. The bout, the second of the night brought together Melanson and McLeod. Bot boys mixed with everything they had and McLeod got the edge in the third round to turn the tide of battle in his favor. In the first round McLeod put Melanson to his knees with a left and Melanson came back with a one-two punch to send McLeod to one knee.

Dallas Laskey gave a clever exhibition of boxing to dispose of Bill Ledden and Ledden's third round attack forced the fight to an extra two minutes but Laskey forced the pace in the overtime and took the nod.

In the 112-pound class, Billy Patterson of Saint John won the decision over the inexperienced Jack McDonald of McAdam and Gerald Farren won all three rounds of his bout with Henry Dupuis of Saint John despite the fact that Dupuis landed solidly several times to the face.

The first semi-final, the bout which brought the protest, between McLeod and Young Dempsey in the lightweight division, was slam-bang affair with Dempsey smashing McLeod with solid blows that had McLeod on the run. He sent McLeod to one knee in the first for a nine count and had him on the canvas again just before the bell went. The count toll off was seven. In the third he again felled McLeod but the latter failed to get the hammer count and popped up just as 10 went. The protest was registered in the ring.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

BERLIN, July 3—Lightning struck the home of Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion and set it afire today. No one was injured.

Max and his wife, the motion picture actress Anny Ondra, were having luncheon in their home at Bad Saarow, a Berlin suburb, when lightning struck the roof. It struck just above Max's bedroom.

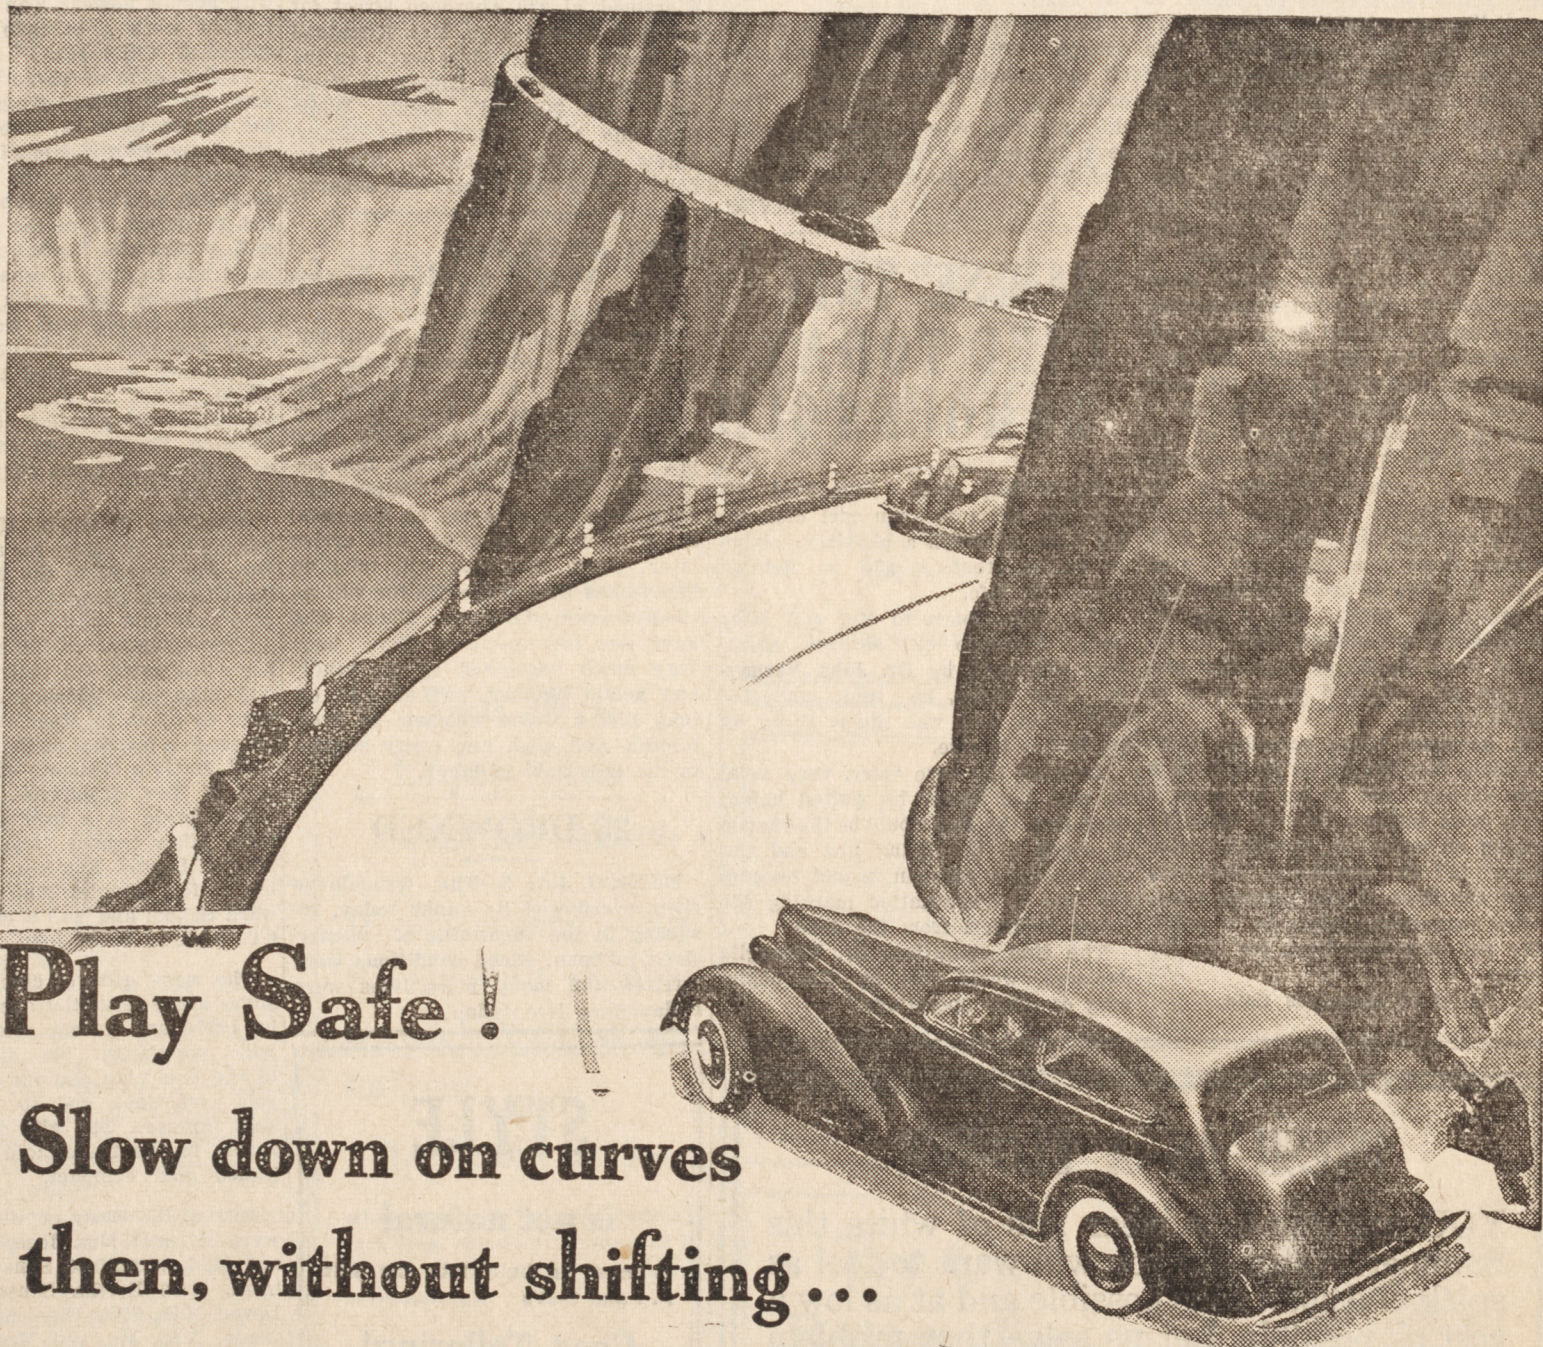

Fire spread quickly over the thatched roof and burned the upper floor. Firemen from a nearby village checked the blaze before it reached the ground floor.

Several servants also were in the house at the time. It is a wooden structure of Westphalian peasant design.
