Guide Alex. Price, of Ludlow, Served a Novel Dish

New Deer and Bear License Good Business Promoter

Alex. Price of Ludlow, a noted Miramichi guide who was a visitor to the city yesterday, was loud in his praise of a new regulation adopted by Hon. F. W. Pirie, Minister of Lands and Mines, reducing the license fee to non-resident deer hunters from $25 to $10, and allowing a license holder to shoot two bear in addition to two deer. This regulation, he said, has made the bears a sporting proposition, and we now have sportsmen coming to the province especially to hunt them, and during the present season a number have met with success. Mr. Price went on to say that late in October he had three New York men at his camp on the north branch of Cain's River, and their bag in five days was two bears and three deer. The other guides employed by the party were his brother, Henry Price and his son, Milburn Price of Ludlow and Raymond Currie of Fredericton. Before starting into the woods, the sportsmen, Dr. Edward Ernst, Burton Covert and Ernest Wilson, all of Larchmont, New York, made it clear that they would rather shoot a big bad bear than any other kind of big game, and they had no desire to shoot one that had first been caught in a trap.

A Bear Drive

"In order to meet the wishes of our sportsmen," Mr. Price went on, "we organized a special drive for bears, taking in the hardwood ridges, where beech-nuts were to be found, and we had the good fortune to bag two of them. The larger one, which measured seven feet in length, was bowled over by Dr. Ernst. My brother, Henry, who was guiding him, led him up to within 125 yards of bruin, who was so busily engaged in scooping up beech-nuts that he did not scent danger. One shot knocked the old fellow over but the doctor gave him another for good measure. I never in all my experience saw a sportsman so proud of a kill as Dr. Ernst was of that bear. He is having the hide made into a rug by a Fredericton taxidermist and is hopeful of having it delivered in time for Christmas."

Haunch of Bruin

Mr. Wilson, another member of the party also shot a bear while hunting with Milburn as guide. It was not as large as the one taken by Dr. Ernst, but of fair size and very fat. "It gave me an idea," said Mr. Price, "which I determined to have carried out. I recalled that while on the way into camp, my party of sportsmen, who were on their first trip to the province, in checking up on the commissary gave me to understand that as far as possible they wanted to live on the natural resources of the country while in camp—in other words, they wanted food that could not be obtained at home, something which they would long remember. The next day the camp menu for supper included roast haunch of bruin, cooked in real Miramichi style. I intended to surprise the boys, but they got wise to it in some way, but that made no

ABATTOIR FOR CITY REACHES FINANCE STAGE

Abattoir Committee to Await Assistance From Gov't

Plans Are Submitted

Province Needs Greater Production of Meat

Fredericton's abattoir and cold storage plant has reached the financing stage of preparation it was learned today from Ald. F. S. Mundle, chairman of the city council abattoir committee.

A sketch of plans have been prepared by the architect, Kenneth Campbell, and have been submitted to the provincial government. At the present time the matter is in the hands of Hon. A. C. Taylor, minister of agriculture, it was stated today by Ald. Mundle. Since Hon. J. B. McNair, K.C., Attorney-General, is at present in England on legal business, the matter is in the hands of the minister of agriculture, it is learned. Hon. Mr. McNair is chairman of the general committee working on the abattoir and cold storage plant for this county.

It is understood that the provincial government has approved of the abattoir for this county and are interested in financing the project, according to Ald. Mundle.

Ald. Mundle states that a certain percentage of the funds for the project will be obtained from the federal government, as well as free meat inspection. The provincial government also is expected to lend assistance.

Ald. Mundle while in Moncton last week conversed with J. A. Ford, general manager of the Swift Canadian Company, Ltd., in the Maritimes. Mr. Ford had said that an abattoir and meat inspection would be of assistance not only to his own business but to the province generally. It would mean a greater meat production. At the present time this company is only able to secure 20 per cent. of its meat supply in the province. The rest is imported here. A greater meat production in the province is necessary at the present time. An abattoir would mean an increase in meat production.

the plaintiff's attorney, P. J. Hughes, K.C., of Fredericton, and was received several days ago by J. Starr Tait, K.C., city solicitor and W. A. V. Anglin, counsel for A. E. McBrien. Home of the Good Shepherd, in the suit against the city, through the former police matron, Annie Adams and former Detective McBrien and through her best friend George Boyd, is said to be the claim leading illegal arrest.

Since the first part of the case, last winter, when the matter was brought before Commissioner E. D. Walsh, he sat in the committee of one of the investigations of the affair. It was then that Chief of Police Slader resigned, when instructed to dismiss the two members of this department. When his resignation was turned down by the city council, Chief of Police Slader was then discharged by the commissioner, E. D. Walsh.

COMPENSATION APPEAL FAILS AT OTTAWA

Mrs. J. W. F. Gilman's Appeal Thrown Out by Supreme Court

Husband Electrocuted

Canada Supreme Court Upholds N. B. Decision

According to word reaching here today, an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada by dependents of J. W. F. Gilman, of this city for compensation arising from Fred Gilman's death by electric shock, has been thrown out. The Supreme Court affirmed decisions of the Workmen's Compensation Board of New Brunswick and the Supreme Court of New Brunswick that Gilman's work as radio service man at radio station CFNB, in this city, where he came in contact with a live wire, does not come within an industry covered by the New Brunswick Workmen's Compensation Act.

The Supreme Court of New Brunswick, Appellate Division, has dismissed the appeal in June last on the same grounds, that the work of the deceased did not come within an industry covered by the N. B. Workmen's Compensation Act.

W. J. West, of this city, acting for the appellant was heard in argument at Ottawa this week before the Supreme Court. He is expected to return here either today or on Monday.

Fred Gilman met death from electrocution last winter, while at work at the power station of CFNB.

Appeal Court Delivers Judgment in Restigouche Case

The New Brunswick Appeal court adjourned yesterday afternoon until Tuesday, when it will continue with its November docket. Before adjournment yesterday court delivered judgment in the case of Julius Litwin vs. The Municipality of Restigouche. Hon. H. F. G. Bridges of Campbellton supported the appeal, and E. B. McLatchey, of Campbellton, argued for the respondent. Court dismissed the appeal with costs. The appeal was from a judgment handed down by Judge J. L. Ryan and a jury in favor of Litwin, ordering that the county pay for goods to the value of $266.37, said to have been bought from the respondent. Court is considering in the case of King vs. William J. Currie, a Carleton county case.
