Brings Song, Cheer to Canada's 'Shut-Ins'

Don Copeland, one of the most likeable and sincere personalities of the Canadian air, and Wishart Campbell, a singer of songs, whose voice is beloved by thousands, will join their talents and energies to provide a programme over the Commission's Eastern network this season for those who particularly need "good cheer."

For the world of "shut-ins," the Commission presents "The Friendly Corner," which will offer its first broadcast on Wednesday, September 30, at 6:00 p.m. Songs grown sweet with memories surrounding them, poetry and philosophy to brighten the day for those who cannot seek a wider horizon than the sick-room affords, little intimate messages from one shut-in to another—these will be the salient features of "The Friendly Corner" with two fine, understanding artists to make it a rendezvous of cheer.

The programme will originate in the Commission's Toronto studios each Wednesday evening throughout the fall and winter and Don Copeland and Wishart Campbell want every listener to help make it a meeting place of stout hearts and willing spirits. Requests will be in order. "The Friendly Corner" will do its best to present the favorite verse and songs of those who listen in.

Radio Commission Will Carry World Series Broadcasts

The Canadian Radio Commission announces that again this year it will carry on its coast-to-coast network broadcasts of the World series baseball games in the United States. The Commission began three years ago bringing these broadcasts to Canadian listeners.

Arrangements for securing the broadcasts have been made by the Commission with the Ford Motor Company, which controls the rights to the broadcasts. In Canada the broadcasts will not be sponsored by the Ford Motor Company but will be offered to all stations on the network as a sustaining feature only. Stations have been advised by the Commission that no sponsorship of any kind must be attached to the broadcasts.

Play by play descriptions of all the games of the series will be broadcast except those played on Sunday. The Sunday broadcasts will not be carried by the Commission.

The broadcasts will commence with the opening of the series on September 30. The first broadcast will begin at 1:15 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

The Music Hall Show

The Commission is retaining its Music Hall Programme in its fall schedule and it will be heard from Toronto on Wednesdays at 9:00 p.m. The lineup for September 30 is: Geo. Patton, singing George Formby's hit, "Playing the Game in the West;" Yvonne Miller singing "Cheer Up, Buller;" George Young, himself, in person doing a Harry Lauder, "Safest o' the Family;" Larry Burford, timid like Wilkie Bard, singing "The Leith Police;" the director again featured in "It's a pity to Waste the Cake," and the Three Waiters doing the finale, "A Little Pat of Butter."

D. A. Macaulay, Saint John, and W. E. Nickerson, Halifax, were registered at the Queen Hotel today.

HUMORISTS RENDER GREATEST SERVICE

The monument to Will Rogers, whatever form it may take, will not be the one he deserved, and few of the gifts that made it possible were prompted by his deserts.

The motive of the givers was sympathy and love for a homely, genuine, altogether wholesome character. But the quality that so richly deserved the tribute of a monument was the rare and mysterious genius that enabled him to make millions laugh.

It was that talent, more than any other, that made Mark Twain the greatest and best loved of all American writers.

The Bible, fountain of wisdom, declares that a merry laugh doeth good like medicine. And your modern physician, learned in science, will tell you that the therapeutic value of a diaphragm-stirring chuckle is no less real than the value of vitamins.

The motion picture stars who have the most devoted following and receive the most fabulous salaries are the handsome, masculine lovers and ladies with the most luscious lines, but the ones who deserve most of a grateful and rejuvenated world are Frank Morgan, Hugh Herbert and Patsy Kelly.

"This is a wonderful suit I'm wearing."

"It looks very ordinary."

"But the wool came from Australia. English merchants sold it to an Irish factory, it was woven in Cork, made into a suit in Dublin—"

"Nothing wonderful about that."

"No, the wonder is that so many people can get a living out of something I've never paid for."

The Problem

Eddies in Other Cities

Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton and Hamilton, a few centres in the north country might have small eddies of the movement but these other centres were the gathering heads, and they were equipped with numerous "flophouses" where a man could get a bed at 10 cents the night and no charge for the extra bedfellow, or rooming houses where the quieter, more stable man, could stay the winter through, while many cheap restaurants catered to the trade.

There were also missions, shelters and hostels making a nominal charge for those who could pay, giving free service to all others. With the spring most of these men thronged to the fields, forests or roads again but each year more of the old or broken stayed in the cities or came back for longer periods, until the old age pension or the old man's home was in reach.

They were of all ages and types and nationalities, wandering unattached men, homeless, womanless and many of them, fortunately for Canada, asking of life no more than what the open trail or the camp or odd job would give. We had no plan for them, no way of handling them other than by this haphazard seasonal sheltering, and the "handout" of the warm-hearted citizen or "easy" housewife, as they trekked and pandered from place to place. If they died, there was the mission, or the indigent burial provisions of most municipalities; if they were sick, the infirmary, or the indigent ward of the hospital.

Breaking Up the Problem

From that time to today we have tried various emergency measures to deal with a serious situation with it actually upon us, when we should have planned constructively for it long since. The organization of employment and the reduction of unemployment to the minimum through decasualization measures is the proper approach, but not one that can be effectively applied in times like these. The best one can do is to attempt to deal with the immediate phases of the situation. The relief camps were one answer which was abandoned. Now, the problem is being analyzed and being broken down into its various phases.

'SALADA' TEA

There are the old and broken men and the wanderers; there are the trained and semi-trained youths and young men; there are the unskilled laborers in vigorous middle life. Different methods and facilities will have to be provided for the constructive solution of these different phases of a common problem. Highly technical considerations of reciprocal residence and maintenance agreements enter into the picture as well. The analysis of the problem and the setting up of our immediate measures to deal with it must be constructively developed from the point of view of a problem of long standing that will not disappear even with moderate recovery in employment.

FREE! Complete Shorthand Course

In these days of so-called depression and general business stagnation, the man who makes himself more valuable to his employer is the man who is most likely to remain on the job after the pay-roll has been pared down . . . Now, as never before, the man who can do a certain thing quicker—and better—is the one who can demand a premium upon his services.

In business, professional and social life, the ability to write rapidly is an asset; a result of the present-day urge for speed and efficiency. All of us, at times have had occasion to take down telephone messages, class-room lectures, political speeches and notes or fresh ideas for future transcription.

This system of Shorthand which we offer you ABSOLUTELY FREE is acknowledged to be easier to read, write and remember than any other system known.
