"Kate Smith's Bandwagon" Makes Bow September 17

Kate Smith will bring to the airwaves an elaborate new hour show, entitled "Kate Smith's Bandwagon," featuring star studded entertainment, numerous radio novelties, human interest features and colorful personalities coupled with "page one" news of the day.

Beginning September 17, the series will be heard on the WABC-CBS network, Thursdays, at 8:00 p.m., AST, sponsored by A. and P., opposite the spot occupied by Rudy Vallee on the NBC network.

Perched atop the "Bandwagon" will be Jack Miller's orchestra, augmented to 25 pieces, to furnish the musical background for the popular singer.

Kate, borrowing the "trailer" idea from the movies, will come before radio audiences in advance of "The Bandwagon" Thursday evening, September 10, at 7:30 p.m., AST, over the Columbia network—to make her first announcement of plans for the radio tour.

When the series is inaugurated, the enterprising star will offer a continuation of many outstanding innovations which she introduced on her previous hour show, including champions of various sports and remote-control pickups of timely and exciting news events.

The only feminine entertainer to head her own hour show, Kate previously ran a successful "Matinee Hour" for Columbia, with a run of 40 weeks. Aided by her announcer-manager, Ted Collins, she staged the programmes at the request of the CBS President, William S. Paley, who wanted to bolster the daytime entertainment schedule of his chain.

So popular were the shows that eventually they moved to a night-time spot. The informality, timeliness and unusual aspects of Kate's broadcasts made them distinctive in radio circles.

Kate presented more than 50 champions of various sorts, ranging from the nation's greatest puzzle-solver to the Yale graduate who caught the biggest fish ever hooked with a regular line. She brought to the microphone on-the-scene word pictures of such dramatic events as floods, aviation endurance flights, swimming meets, and back-stage interviews with actresses in a Pulitzer prize play.

Kate wound up the series with an "All-Smith" programme, on which every person was, like herself, named Smith.

Three Violins in Feature Arrangement

TORONTO, September 9—A special arrangement of Del Riego's beautiful composition, "Homing," will be heard as the introductory number on Samuel Hersenhoren's programme, "Lullaby Lagoon," scheduled for tonight at 11.30 p.m., AST. Three violins will be featured in this arrangement and in "The Love Nest," by Hirsch; "Jennie With the Light Brown Hair," by Foster, and "Alohe Oe," the beloved Hawaiian song.

Solo instruments will be featured in Al Jolson's old favorite, "Me and My Shadow," in "The Merry Widow Waltz," by Lehar, and in Carrie Jacob-Bond's "Just Awearyin' For You." Seymour Ginsler's arrangement of "Blue Moon," by Rodgers, will feature the full ensemble.

T. F. Murphy and E. S. White of Newcastle are in the city for a few days. They are staying at the Waverly Hotel.

B. K. SANDWELL TO OPEN RADIO COMMISSION'S NEW "BROKEN ARC" BROADCASTS

TORONTO, September 9 — B. K. Sandwell, distinguished lecturer and writer, will return to the Canadian air on a regular Canadian Radio Commission broadcasting feature tonight at 7.30, AST, when he resumes his addresses on "The Broken Arc" series in association with Dr. Stanley Russell. Mr. Sandwell, whose influence has distinguished "Saturday Night" since he assumed the editorship three years ago, is widely known as a gifted and entertaining speaker.

The return of "The Broken Arc" to the mid-east network programme listings again will enable the radio audiences to hear Mr. Sandwell and Dr. Stanley Russell in characteristic vein on a number of subjects of universal interest. Mr. Sandwell, for his opening broadcast, will speak on "A Long Way From Europe."

Dr. Russell will be the speaker on Wednesday, September 1, at 7.30 p.m., AST.

Author Involves Self in Thriller

CHICAGO, Sept. 9—When Arch Oboler, author of Lights Out, asked his friend, Maury Balkan, young Chicago artist, what he thought of a Lights Out plot which involved Oboler, himself, in a life and death struggle with a terrifying monster, the artist declared that it was not only a good plot for a radio script, but a good idea for a painting, too.

Two days later Balkan, who has had his work hung in the Art Institute of Chicago, presented Oboler with a painting named after the script, "The Author and the Thing." A hideous green monster is depicted standing behind Oboler and clutching the writer by the shoulder.

Oboler's plot idea will be used in the broadcast over the NBC-Red Network at 12.30 a.m.

Miss Ruth Fisher, Mrs. Mabel L. Crapon, and John L. Fisher of Providence, R. I., are guests at the Waverly Hotel.

Hollywood News Despatch

Frances Langford, of the Hollywood Hotel broadcasts, who scored a hit in "Broadway Melody of 1936," and will be starred in the new picture, "Born To Dance," was strolling down Hollywood boulevard. Frances felt gay, and burst into song as she walked along.

Suddenly a stranger loomed in her path—a very excited stranger who cried, "Wonderful voice, personality, good-looking! Say, I'm going to put you in pictures!"

"That—that's very nice of you," stammered Frances. "But you don't understand. My name is Frances Langford."

"Oh, that's all right," he responded comfortingly. "We can easily change it to a better one." But that's Hollywood!

S. Close and G. Burrell of Halifax are staying at the Waverly Hotel for a few days.

FRANK PARKER TO BE STARRED IN NEW SERIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 9—A new radio team will come to NBC networks on Wednesday, September 9, when Frank Parker, well known radio tenor, and Ann Leaf, popular young organist, begin a new series of weekly programmes devoted to melody in the sophisticated manner. They will be heard over stations WEAF, New York, and WMAQ, Chicago, every Wednesday from 7:30 to 7:45 p.m., AST, under the sponsorship of Proctor and Gamble Company.

Parker, one of radio's most eligible bachelors, has been engaged in network broadcasting as long as the networks themselves. Back in 1926, he was drafted to pinch hit at the microphone for a sick friend, and has been a headliner ever since. Frank was born in New York City in 1906, and although thoroughly American in looks and manner—he is actually of Italian descent.

After a musical education at the Conservatory in Milan, Italy, and some informal studying in the public and high schools of New York, Parker began his career as a chorus boy in the Greenwich Village Follies. Following a few years in musical comedy and several vaudeville tours, his radio "break" established his future. Among the programmes that have lifted Parker to stardom are the A & P Gypsies, Cities Service, the Jell-O programme, and more recently, Paul Whiteman's Musical Varieties.

Little Miss Leaf, who is scarcely more than five feet in height, is celebrated for her mastery of the giant console. Like Parker, Ann is a radio veteran and enjoys a large audience following.

J. Webber of Saint John is a guest at the Waverly Hotel.

Miss Lois Day, a patient at Victoria Public Hospital, is making a good recovery after her recent operation.

A light company's inspector called on the busy housewife to repair a defect in the lighting apparatus.

"You're not always troubled with poor light, are you?" he asked.

"Oh, no," replied the housewife, "not always."

"Ah," murmured the inspector, "I thought so. It's only at certain times, eh?"

"Yes, only after dark," came the retort.
