PLANT FINGERLINGS
A total of 50,000 salmon fingerlings are being planted in the Nashwaak river today it was announced today by Allan R. Menzies, chairman of the fish stocking committee of the Fredericton branch of the N. B. Fish and Game Protective Association. These fingerlings come from the Florenceville hatchery.

WAS REAPPOINTED
At the July committee meeting of the Fredericton city council last night F. Leslie Wood was reappointed to the Board of School Trustees. His own term of office as a member expired on June 30. His appointment is for four years. His reappointment was made on motion of Ald. David McCaughey, seconded by Ald. Doohan.

MAJOR DEGREE EXEMPLIFIED

William Simcock, Grand Knight, presided over the proceedings, and visitors were present from Saint John, Woodstock, Chatham and Moncton.

AUTO ACCIDENTS.
R. C. M. P. investigated two automobile accidents which occurred yesterday. J. B. Prince, of Ottawa, driving a Chevrolet truck, was injured about the head and knees when the truck struck a pothole at Upper Mangerville and plunged into the ditch. Another accident occurred on the Jemseg flats last night, when a head-on collision occurred between the automobiles driven by George Graham of Halifax, and Don Taylor of Saint John. No one was injured.

ROAD TO BE CLOSED
The prospects of the closing of the road, at the east end of the city, which leads off Waterloo Row and over the Ketchum property, were discussed last night by the city council and the advisability of such action was discussed. A petition had been sent to the council asking that this be done. It was pointed out that the road was in bad shape and served no special purpose. The matter will be investigated.

DENIAL OF REPORT
Speaking to The Daily Mail today one of the Fredericton aldermen gave an absolute denial to a report published elsewhere that any action was to be taken by the council in regard to the proposed airport. He said that the report was a "figment of someone's imagination." George Wakeman, district inspector of Eastern Airways for Canada has been making a survey of this district for some time, as stated in The Daily Mail a few weeks ago. But absolutely no further action has been taken in the matter and the council will not consider the situation until a report has been presented to Mayor Kitchen by Mr. Wakeman and even then it is doubtful if an immediate action will be taken.

CITY FACES THE PROBLEM OF UNWANTED BABY

Growing Practice of Placing Children in Local Homes

Identity Unknown
Most of Them Become Public Charges Says Miss Cooper

The growing practice of placing illegitimate children in the homes of the city, most of them having no registration of birth, and identity unknown, and most of whom eventually become public charges, was brought to the attention of the Fredericton city council last evening. Miss Jean Cooper, agent of the Children's Home told a story of many such cases in this vicinity and scored the practice severely. She wished the council to take some action. Mayor G. Willard Kitchen promised the consideration of the council and to take the matter up with the city solicitor.

Miss Jean Cooper, agent of the Children's Home, appeared before the council in connection with certain welfare cases where children are in homes and whose "keep" is not being looked after. She requested that definite domiciles be made for children who are "charges."

Miss Cooper asked the city to pass a by-law whereby the parents of the child be made to apply and give references, so that the board can be guaranteed and the child not be a public charge.

"In the last few months we have been surfeited with children who do not belong to us," said Miss Cooper. She noted that domestics only get $2.00 for working—not enough to pay the keep of a child. Some of the cases are from outside the country.

Ald. Mundie suggested that the matter be taken up with A. J. Thompson, poor commissioner, or the magistrate.

In many cases children born out of wedlock are not registered. She thought these illegitimate children should be registered and there should be more information on these children and their domiciles.

It is necessary at present to have full registration in order to get such children into the provincial homes.

Ald. Doohan thought there should be some way that the province and city can look after these matters and arrange for their protection.

"In many cases the parents are not fit to look after these children," Miss Cooper pointed out.

Ald. Doohan thought we should accept it as a responsibility and co-operate with other municipalities to find some general solution.

Miss Cooper said she thought that the children should be reported by those who take children.

Ald. Hagerman said there was no doubt that there was laxity somewhere in the matter of these children.

HARTT'S POOL SALMON DINNER FOR PRESIDENT

George W. Jewett of Worcester Hooks Big Salmon

Weighed 37 1-2 Pounds

A large salmon from Hartt's Island Pool may within a few days decorate the dinner table of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at the White House. Yesterday George W. Jewett, of Worcester, Mass., an old Fredericton boy, who is on his annual visit to this city landed a 37 1-2 pound salmon and is making arrangements today to ship it as a gift to the president at the White House.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Jewett in company with Edward O'Neill of Lynn, Mass., who is also spending his vacation in this city, and A. C. Fleming, and Councillor J. F. Doherty of Springhill went to Hartt's Pool to try their luck at fishing. It was not long before Mr. Jewett connected up with the large salmon. He did not however, succeed in landing the salmon all at once. The game fish put up a fight and it took an hour and a half to bring him under subjection and land him into the boat.

In the meantime "Ed" O'Neill, who is another game old sport was busy removing a large quantity of pulpwood which had drifted down the river and had got in between Mr. Jewett and his big fish. Mr. O'Neill who is a truthful man, states that no less than ten cords of pulpwood had to be removed before the fish could be landed. The big fish which was game to the last splashed away in the water and made the pulpwood fly at the end of his powerful tail.

Sandy Fleming and Jack Doherty rendered the necessary assistance and were present at the landing of the salmon. They decided that the salmon was one of the best specimens of its kind that has been taken out of the water this season.

The salmon was one of the biggest, if not the biggest, ever caught in this vicinity. Lionel Hitchman, manager of the Boston Cubs, caught one which weighed 27 pounds in 1932, and in 1927 Raymond Currie of this city, captured a 28 pound salmon. All these were caught with a fly.

PROTECTION OF BEAVERS URGED BY WARDEN

Col. H. H. Ritchie, Chief Game Warden Declares New Policy

Special Trapping

Beavers Making a Last Stand to Establish Themselves in N.B.

In line with a policy of Beaver Conservation, plans have been made by Col. H. H. Ritchie, Chief Game Warden, for live trapping of beaver which have established themselves on certain streams in the province. In localities where these animals have caused inconvenience to farmers by water in their dams back-flooding meadows and wood lots, primary consideration will be given. The beaver will be taken by live traps to be transferred to different game refuges where they may be given adequate protection. The Daily Mail had an exclusive story on this feature several weeks ago.

Specially constructed live beaver traps and crates for transporting beaver have been provided for this purpose. The first experiment in this programme was carried out a few days ago when an adult beaver was trapped on Yoho Lake, Hanwell Road section, near Fredericton, which was sent to the Becaguinec Game Refuge.

MAN on the STREET

(By W. T. Whitehead)

Man Sits in Gloom

A man with an air of great and mysterious knowledge and a far-away look in his eyes, lacking only a long grey beard to be the true picture of a philosopher, came to an indecisive pause and made dissertation as follows:

"One of the greatest pleasures that is left to me in life is the time I spend in cemeteries. However, the pleasure is not melancholy. On sunny evenings in Spring and Summer, I walk among the graves of the departed and wonder where they went and why they had to go. Yes, and whether they would return now if they could. I am comforted then, as I consider my own fast approaching day for, though man must die alone there will be many there to greet him. As the shadows lengthen and the cool night breeze rustles the leaves and the grass upon the graves, I realize that death is nothing but the cool surcease of night, a time of well earned repose after the cares and tribulations of the day.

And the Purpose of His Existence

"As the stars appear in all their mysterious and heavenly beauty there comes the sound of swift music and ethereal voices. Surely these years have been but a little day of preparation for the life to come."

The man with the far-away look in his eyes started to leave by a second-story window. He was guided gently to the stairs and was seen no more.

Is a Mystery

But his attitude of resignation made an impression. If only lesser men could practise it. But the mind leaps off like a startled hare at the thought of one's own death. It is like refusing to look at the clock to stop the passage of time.

They are alike implacable and inevitable, time and death. Poor Richard said, "Time is the essence of life." True, and death is the reward of time.

No Civic Dinner For Visit Here of Gov.-General

There will be no civic dinner here on the occasion of the official visit to the capital of Lord Tweedsmuir, the Governor General of Canada, and his party on July 25. At the city council meeting last night it was declared that there will be a large parade on the occasion, with the Great War veterans and possibly the militia parading. The police are expected to take part in the parade also. One of the features of the Governor General's visit will be his laying of a wreath on the local Cenotaph.

A motion was made by the council leaving the arrangements for the governor general's visit in the hands of Mayor G. Willard Kitchen and Major T. C. Barker, official secretary of the lieutenant governor of New Brunswick.
