Russia is Playing Soccer

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., April 30—First introduced in Russia in 1906 by English owners of textile mills, football has made great strides in the Soviet Union since 1923 when the Government gave the game official encouragement. Yesterday it is the country's favorite sport and more than 1,000,000 players were registered last year. In most districts it is played from May to October.

Giants Beaten by Former Hurler—Simmons Hits Homer to Spoil Appleton's Performance.

NEW YORK, April 29—In the longest game of the Major League season and one of the most perfectly pitched games in the majors in years, St. Louis Cardinals defeated New York Giants in 17 innings today.

Leroy Parmelee, Giants' pitcher last year, gave the Giants six hits and won over Carl Hubbell, who gave up 11.

In one of the season's finest pitching battles, Chicago Cubs, behind Bill Lee, defeated Van Lingle Mungo and Brooklyn Dodgers at Chicago today 1-0.

Both pitchers allowed only four hits and Mungo was denied at least a tie when his single with two out in the fifth caught Berres in the leg and retired the side when Jimmy Bucher was on his way home from third with the tying run.

NEW YORK, April 29—Al Simmons banged a home run in the ninth inning at Washington today to spoil Pete Appleton's hopes of becoming the first pitcher to hurl a one-hit game this season, but the 31 year old 'rookie' nevertheless turned in his third victory for Washington, 7-3.

Except for a double by Gehring in the fourth, the world's champions Detroit Tigers were unable to touch Appleton's offerings for eight innings until Simmons in the ninth drove one into centre field bleachers.

Washington scored four runs in the eighth on five hits.

Hank Greenberg, the Tigers' heavy hitting first baseman, was hurt in the sixth inning as he reached to the left for a wide throw and got in the way of Powell who was racing toward first base. Powell barged into him, badly injuring the first baseman's left wrist.

Pitching his best game of the season Lefty Gomez set Cleveland Indians down with three hits at New York and Yankees won 6-1. The defeat dropped the Indians from first to the third place.

Age Has Caught Up With Me, Says De Mar

DANVILLE, N. Y., April 27—Clarence Demar, perennial marathon runner, after finishing 16th in the Boston marathon admits that "age has caught up with me" and said he was a candidate for the Olympic walking team.

The Keene, N.H., school teacher, who had won the Boston event seven times, may be the oldest Olympic performer if successful in the tryouts. He took part in the games in Stockholm in 1912, placed third in the Paris marathon in 1924 and again appeared in Olympics in Amsterdam in 1928.

STILL SKIING AT MONTREAL

MONTREAL, P. Q., April 29—Skiing conditions at Mount Washington were reported nearly ideal yesterday by Montrealers who spent the week-end testing the slopes of the New Hampshire mountain.

The first "corn" snow of spring, which provides one of the best skiing surfaces, has now appeared, it is stated, and snow is plentiful. Repeated snowfalls during the last month have assured a good spring season. Balfin Meredith, who was among the Montreal skiers who visited Tuckerman's Ravine, reports the skiing on the trail to the Little Headwall to be excellent. The Ravine, Meredith states, was filled by a heavy avalanche last week.

Want the Minor League Games Seen, Not Heard!

CHICAGO, Illinois, April 30—Prohibition of major league game broadcasts into minor league territory will be demanded of Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball.

Contending that minor league fans listened to descriptions of major league games rather than attend contests in their own city, the minor leagues protested to Commissioner Landis. He called a meeting for today to which W. I. Branham, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, William Harbridge, president of the American League, and members of the National Association executive committee were invited.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30—Bobby Jones yesterday offered the Works Progress Administration his free services in advising WPA in its golf building and improvement programme.

FEW RUNNERS ON CONTINENT FOR LONG RUNS

U. S. Has Little Chance in 10,000-Metre Grind Gruelling Event

In 1912 the 10,000 meter run was added to the Olympic programme. The race was won by Hannes Kolehmainen. Paavo Nurmi won in 1920 and 1928 and, between his victories, Willie Ritola was the victor in 1924. In 1932 Janusz Kosciński, of Poland, snapped this string of Finnish successes. The United States has never been a factor in the Olympic races over this distance.

It does not seem that the American runners available for the team this year can do much to remedy this situation. All of the 1932 entries, Tom Ottey, Lou Gregory and Elno Pentti, are still running, but it has been proved they are not up to international standards. Gregory and Pentti, moreover may try the marathon.

In addition to these men, there are not many others of real talent. Frank Nordell has shown a disposition to move up to the longer races because while he has strength, he hasn't great speed. Ed Veysey, of Colby, has run well in cross country events around six miles, which is approximately the 10,000 metres distance. The veteran Paul Mundy, best at about ten miles, also may try the marathon.

Two Hoosiers Stand Out
It is probable that the greatest success would be achieved by moving up several men who can run well in the 5,000 metres. Don Lash, and Tommy Deckard, of Indiana University, should prove excellent runners at this longer distance. Both have great strength and are fast, as they have shown in cross country running. Lash is the senior national champion and Deckard holds the national junior title.

Floyd Lochner, who won the National Collegiate two-mile last year, is not much at the two miles, but his strength would make him a good man at the longer races.

Great Distance Coach
It would seem logical to expect the remedy for American weakness in distance running to come from Indiana. Coach Billy Hayes has had several great distance runners at Bloomington in recent years and the longer runs are specialties for high-class men there.

It is probable that Lash and Deckard will try the 5,000 metres, but at the present time they are certainly America's brightest hopes in this longer race.

CITY MANAGER SYSTEM GAINS

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 30—Seven of the eleven American cities which in 1935 changed their forms of government became council-manager cities, and now for the first time the number of municipalities operating under a city manager exceeds the number of those whose affairs are directed by a commission.

This and other numerous changes occurring in the governmental habits of cities are recorded in the 1936 Municipal Year Book, published by the International City Managers' Association. Information on new trends in finance, police, housing, planning and other functions is given on the 960 cities with more than 10,000 population.

Governmental data on these cities show that more than half operate under the mayor-council plan. The council-manager cities, operated through a city manager, number 462, an increase of 15 during 1935. The town meeting continues to function as the form of government in thirty-six New England cities and in one city in New Jersey, the tabulation shows. Cities under the mayor-council plan most often have seven persons in the Legislative chairs. Under the commission and the council-manager forms of government, the number of members is most frequently five.

An analysis of the voting in municipal elections in 760 of the cities shows that only a little more than two-fifths of the population over 21 participated in the last council election. The remainder stayed away from the polls because of lack of citizenship, lack of interest, illness or some other reason, according to the report. This number is 14 per cent. under the approximate percentage of the qualified voters in the United States who cast their ballots in the 1932 presidential election.

MONTREAL UNEARTH'S A WHITE HOPE

MONTREAL, Quebec, April 30—Additional entries have been received for the White Hope tournament Playfair Brown, in affiliation with Canadian Arena interests, will stage at the Forum May 14. This gripped the continent and is attracting large crowds everywhere these tournaments are staged had its second Toronto presentation this week. Under the promotion of Playfair Brown, noted Queen City promoter, who operates the Queensberry A. C., two successful shows have been run, with 17,000 attending the first and 7,000 fans witnessing the second. Brown expects to operate in Western Canada as well and will work through a series of eliminations towards an all-Canada final at some central point.

From all points of the province entries are coming into the Forum evincing the interest shown by ambitious youngsters lured by the bait of riches and fame which a successful career in the heavyweight division of boxing would bestow.

Practically every trade and occupation is represented in the growing entry list and it is figured that at least 50 boxers will figure in the tourney here May 14.

The latest to file his name is Paul Boisjoli, a lumberjack from Labelle County, Quebec. He is 20 years of age, weighs 180 pounds, stands 5 feet 10 inches. He is known as the "bully of the camps", and has a reputation as one of the best scrappers among the timber drivers. Boisjoli is reported to have had the best of it in a wild brawl when he was ganged by six men.

Another Montrealeur in the lists will be Hubert Comtois. Hubert weighs 190 pounds and towers 6 feet one inch. He is only 19 years of age.
