

N. B. RIFLE SCHOOL OPENS ON MONDAY

SUSSEX, N. B., July 9—On Monday the 63rd annual meeting of the New Brunswick Rifle Association will open on the ranges here and will continue until July 17. Just how many marksmen will be gathered here will not be definitely known until Saturday but it is expected that the number will be in excess of last year.

Tents will be erected Saturday so that the military shots may move in immediately on the conclusion of the army camp. All matches in the meet will be conducted on standard time. Outstanding will be the service rifle team match, open to four officers or men from any military unit, over the 200 and 500-yard distances—seven shots on each range—open sights and no slings. Coaching in this event will be allowed.

Benheim, sire of Mahmoud which won the Epsom Derby this year will be put to stud, probably at Hancock farm.

Mid - Summer Races At Woodstock Attract Fans

HOOF PRINTS

The pins now seem to be set for the best half-mile tracy meeting ever seen anywhere. Twilight Song, Farr, Schnapps, Harvere and a galaxy of other fleet two-year-olds are entered in the opening event of the meeting on Tuesday, July 21. This is the twelfth renewal of the E. H. Harriman Challenge Cup race, won in past years by such cracks as Peter Maltby, 2:06; Ruth M. Chenault, 2:03 3/4; Holyrood Robin, 2:03 3/4, and Sturdy, 2:04 1/4. It has been won twice by E. Ronald Harriman, and if Farr scores a victory this year the trophy will become his property. The flower of the field eligible to start for The Hambletonian Stake on August 12 at the mile track in Goshen will meet in the Tuxedo Stake for three-year-old trotters on Wednesday at the half-mile track, while Greyhound, Tara and Calumet Evelyn are among the entries in the free-for-all trotting race on the same day.

Harness horses that race only on mile tracks will now have a vacation of three weeks pending the resumption of sport at Old Orchard, Me. The Grand Circuit meeting there is scheduled for the week beginning July 27. In the mean time, however, trotters and pacers that can negotiate the sharper turns of the two-lap tracks will find engagements this week at Canfield, Ohio, and next week at Goshen's first Grand Circuit meeting in the historic half-mile oval where William Rysdyk, at a horse fair in 1862, put a saddle on Hambletonian and rode the great progenitor of trotters in an exhibition of speed, or lack of speed, as some horsemen said. Contrary to the common belief, this will not be the first Grand Circuit meeting of the Orange County Driving Park. A break in the succession of mile tracks some twenty-five years ago made a place for one there, and it was on this occasion that Uhlan, 1:53, set the record at 2:02 3/4 for trotters on a two-lap course.

MIDSUMMER RACES A TREAT AT WOODSTOCK

Budwenger Wins Free-For-All in Good Time

WOODSTOCK, N. B., July 10—A large crowd of midsummer race fans saw the Woodstock Island park record beaten twice today in the most sensational free-for-all racing on a Maritime track since the historic battle at Fredericton in 1923 between Single G., Sir Roch and Margaret Dillon. Budwenger, wonder horse owned by T. V. Holdway of Houlton, supplied the big thrills of the day. Pressed by a fast field the speedy bay stepped the first mile of the feature event in 2:54 to beat the old record in competition by a full second. As he went away a bad last and coasted home easily, fans are confident that he will better the time made by the big three at the Capital 13 years ago, before the season ends. Budwenger also bettered the old mark in the second heat which he stepped in 2:06 3/4.

The start of the first heat was not an ideal one. Budwenger well back at the word, but all the horses were flat and reasonably well up and with such a fast and temperamental field, starter Webber was taking no chances and sent them away. Mildred May and Zombro Hanover set a terrific clip for the first half which was clocked in 1:01 1/4, in suite of which the Houlton horse rapidly closed the gap. The field was well lunched at the start of the second half, but at this point the winner unleashed a sustained burst of speed which carried him into the lead just before the three-quarter pole.

ATHLETES MAY HAVE TO PAY OWN EXPENSES

Plenty of Athletes But Not Much Money For Olympic Competition.

Apparently there was no exaggeration to the reports of the United States Olympic Committee's financial distress. Latest word is to the effect that the objective of $227,000 will have to be cut by a matter of $150,000. That means, as in Canada, many of the athletes will have to provide their own funds for the trip to Berlin or secure the money privately. Perhaps they have more opportunity of doing so, especially in cases where they represent wealthy clubs, than do the Canadians, but that does not alter the depleted condition of the Olympic Committee treasury.

An example of the situation across the international border is provided by the news that the women's track and field team will be restricted to five, which is exactly one-third of the number the officials originally had intended to select.

Helen Stephens, the Fulton, Mo., sprinter; Annette Rogers and Tydie Pickett of Chicago, and Mrs. Annie O'Brien will be the competing athletes, while Dee Boeckman of St. Louis will undertake the triple duties of manager, coach and chaperone.

News despatches yesterday stated that Jimmy Braddock, world's heavyweight boxing champion, had started light training. According to private advices, Braddock has been doing that for some time "on the quiet," and now has commenced public training. That he has been preparing himself for competition long before this seems reasonable. He and his manager, Joe Gould, know boxing well enough to realize that a long layoff is detrimental enough to a boxer without an entire absence from training for too lengthy a period.

Pictures of Braddock, taken during the past six months, show very plainly that he is overweight. Some critics have referred to this as though it should be counted against his chances in his next bout. The opinion of experienced trainers of athletes is likely to be different though. They know that a man facing a long training grind is better to have superfluous flesh to work off, and that if such is the case he is not so liable to burn up his energy.

Braddock, like many of the English athletes, includes beer on his regular diet and that, plus absence from intensive training, may account for his added weight.

GREAT BRITAIN—Baldwin and Churchill appealed for a stronger League, the latter contending that any Covenant which did not contain a clause providing for military sanction would be a sham.

Can. Cricketers Meet the King

LONDON July 10—Wearing flannels and sporting the team's colors, Hon. R. C. Matthews' Canadian cricketers will be received by the King at Buckingham Palace at noon July 14.

Following this visit the Dominion players will be the guests at a luncheon tendered by the Royal Empire Society, presided over by the Earl of Bessborough, former Governor-General of Canada.

The visitors arrived in England June 26 and have been practicing at Lord's and The Oval since. They were guests of the Marylebone cricket club throughout the first cricket test at Lord's between England and India.

First official game of the tour will be played next Saturday against Rugby School at Rugby.

UNITED STATES—Five men were arrested in New York and $200,000 or the $1,456,000 in United States Treasury bonds stolen from the Bank of Manhattan in 1935 were recovered in a raid by "G-men."

U. S. SPORTS BUY BLENHEIM FROM AGA KHAN

PARIS, Ky., July 10—A group of United States sportsmen yesterday bought Blenheim, winner of the 1930 English Derby, from the Aga Khan and will bring him here from France by the end of this month. The sale was closed in London.

A. B. Hancock announced the deal here. All he would say about the price was that it was "pretty big." Those in the syndicate were Hancock, William Dupont and Mrs. T. H. Somerville of Wilmington, Del., John Hertz and Warren Wright of Chicago and John Hay Whitney and R. A. Fairbairn of New York.

What's the News?

MR. PICOBAC had been giving some thought to the news of the day while waiting his turn in the red plush chair. He turned his attention now to a matter of more immediate concern.

"Can anybody tell me what in heck I've done with my tobacco?" inquired he.

"What kind of tobacco was it?" asked his friend the barber, bending over his work.

"It was Picobac, of course. What else do you think I'd smoke?—Picobac, the pick of Canada's Burley crop, ripened and matured for three years in the wood."

"Was it in a seal-tight pouch or a handy pocket tin?"

"What's that got to do with it—as long as it was Picobac?"

"Because there's a tin of Picobac under your chair", replied the barber.

Picobac comes in the handy pocket tin, the "SEAL-TIGHT" pouch or the half-pound "Lok-Top" tin which is the most economical way to buy it. It is always a mild ... cool ... sweet smoke.
