LEGAL DECEIT

NEW YORK, Jan. 2—It's perfectly legal for a process server to represent himself to be anything from a messenger boy to the Emperor of Ethiopia to serve a summons, if persons try to evade them, the appellate division of the Supreme Court has ruled.

PRESIDENT OF C. N. RAILWAY REVIEWS YEAR

Hungerford Lists Some of Achievements by Railway System

MONTREAL, Dec. 31—"The year 1935 has witnessed a further improvement in Canadian business conditions which has been reflected in additional revenues on the Canadian National Railways, said S. J. Hungerford, president, in a year-end review. For the second year in succession, revenues of the all-inclusive system will show an increase, 1935 gross revenues being approximately $8,100,000 greater than those of 1934. Operating expenses will be approximately $6,800,000 greater than last year, so that the improvement in net revenues will be about 1,300,000.

"The revenues and expenses for 1935 and 1934 are as follows:

	1935	1934
Revenues ..	$173,000,000	$163,900,000
Expenses ..	158,700,000	151,900,000
Net operating ..	14,300,000	13,000,000

"As a result of negotiations between all Canadian railways and organized railway labor in Canada, a portion of the deductions from basic rates of pay was returned to the employees during the year. For the greater part of the year 1935 wages of Canadian employees were generally on a basis of 10 per cent below those in effect in 1929 as compared with wage conditions in 1934 which were 15 per cent below the 1929 level. The effect of this was an increase in the operating expenses of the Canadian National Railways of more than $4,000,000. In spite of this additional payroll expense the net revenues have shown an improvement over the previous year . . .

"Some measure of the improved operating performance of the Canadian National may be obtained from a comparison for the past two years and for 1928, the all-time traffic peak, of a generally recognized by North American of the more important indices of operating efficiency.

Freight Train Performance
1935 1934
(10 months)
Gross tons per train mile 1,544 1,538
Gross ton miles per train hour .. 24,800 23,900
Pounds of coal per 1,000 gross ton miles .. 116 119

"These figures reveal a steady improvement in operating efficiency which has played a considerable part in reducing the railway's financial requirements.

"The contributory pension plan made effective on Jan. 1, 1935, has been very favorably received by the employees; the contributors to the plan now number more than 18,000.

Competition

"Throughout the year, the railways have continued to study different methods of coping with competition from other forms of transport. As a measure of meeting that from commercial highway motor vehicles, freight train schedules have been greatly improved, so that overnight delivery by freight between the larger centres up to and in some cases exceeding 300 miles is now available for shippers. In experimental territories, rail charges have been revised so that they include the cost of collection and delivery of shipments. Through the extension of their radius of pick-up and delivery services, it may be said that the railways themselves are to a limited extent engaged in highway trucking, but a greater participation by the railways in this form of transport is precluded under the present unstable conditions surrounding commercial highway operations."

PEN, BUT NO INK

Stratford Beacon-Herald: Remembering the statement of Premier William Aberhart during the Alberta election campaign last summer that all he needed to put Social Credit dividends into force in Alberta was a fountain pen, the people in the little town of Czar subscribed to a Christmas fund, and have sent a fountain pen to each of Mr. Aberhart's Cabinet ministers. So says a despatch from Edmonton, and a paragraph at the end adds that the folk out there are not sitting back waiting for the pens to be put to work.

The people of Czar have a sense of humor, if they have nothing else, and it is well that people should be blessed with such a thing these days. They are apt to need it so much. But we have reason to doubt that the Cabinet Ministers' new pens will ever be put to the use for which they were intended. We feel quite certain Mr. Aberhart will have an answer up his sleeve. "What good," he will ask, "are fountain pens when we have no ink?"

Mr. Aberhart is using, of course, what we used to call in school "a figure of speech." By ink he merely means money. And he ain't got none.

It pays to advertise in The Daily Mail.

AXE HIS START TO NEW RICHES

STONEWALL, Man., Jan. 2—Emil Krueger has what it takes—courage plus! On a small farm north of here he laughs at adversity that has cheated him of two fortunes, and is busily engaged in building a new life for himself and five children out of nothing. What is more, he is making a success of it.

An agriculture student at Wittenberg University, in Germany, Krueger was attracted to the New World early in the century. In 1911 he took up a homestead near Kindersley, in Saskatchewan. Fortune favored him with good crops. He married and prospered. Then came misfortune.

Black blizzards, hail and drought cut down promising grain stands year after year. Four years later what was once regarded as a model farm resembled little more than a desert. Meanwhile his wife died, leaving him five children to care for. At a family council it was decided the only way out was to seek greener pastures.

Placing the children in charge of their grandmother, he came here. His total wealth on arrival, after paying back taxes on a municipal farm, was $4.00. With this he invested in an axe and set out to cut wood. He lived with a neighbor and, in time, built a small cabin. The following spring he returned to Saskatchewan, recovered a team of horses long reported stolen and drove them to his new farm.

The following year he planted grain and the next summer, a dry one, he had the best potato crop in the district and an acre planted to vegetables on which he and his children lived. Last year he planted 400 raspberry canes and this spring 200 strawberry plants. He still remained in the "wood business."

Twice a week he hauled wood to Stonewall and walked practically the entire round trip, twenty-six miles. Last fall, when the wood market failed, he and his children gathered 2,500 pounds of cranberries in the bush that sold for $50. Most of the house furniture is hand-fashioned. The eldest girl and two small boys attend school. The others do the housework and help outside.

Tall, strong and active, Krueger has defeated adversity in admirable fashion. He has chickens and plans to buy a cow. Next year he wants to build an addition to his home. Asked if he found it harder than prairie farming, he replied: "This is easy, in the bush country; I could tell you of hardships around Kindersley."

CARRYOVER OF CANADA'S WHEAT STILL LARGE

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 31—The Canadian Wheat Board estimates the amount of Canadian wheat available for export as at December 14, at 290,373,703 bushels.

In a survey of the general wheat situation the board pointed out heavy exports of wheat each week from now until the end of the crop year would be necessary to reduce the carryover to normal.

The carryover of old crop wheat at July 31 was 215,000,000 bushels, which combined with the new crop from the whole Dominion makes a total of 488,000,000 bushels.

From this figure, 115,000,000 bushels were deducted in the Wheat Board's survey for home requirements, leaving, as at July 31, an exportable surplus of 373,000,000 bushels.

From August 1 to December 14 the export of Canadian wheat and flour including sales to the United States, was 82,626,297 bushels, leaving at the latter date 290,373,703 bushels on hand.

Shipment of 4,000,000 bushels weekly in the last thirty-two weeks of the crop year would reduce this total by 128,000,000 bushels and would leave a carryover of 162,373,703 bushels on August 1, 1936. The board said it was evident that to bring the Canadian carryover down in the neighborhood of 50,000,000 bushels, average weekly shipments of 7,500,000 bushels would be required.
