Beavers Beat Oaks; St. Croix Take Senators

SAINT JOHN TEAM DOUBLES SCORE ON OAKS IN GAME OF HIGH FEELING — BORDER TEAMS PLAY BEST GAME OF YEAR AT ST. ANDREWS.

A Win For St. Stephen
ST. ANDREWS, N. B., Jan. 23.—The luckless St. Andrews Senators went deeper into the cellar of the Southern New Brunswick Hockey League here last night as the visiting St. Stephen-St. Croix aggregation scored a 4-3 victory to mark the finest exhibition of hockey seen at the local rink this season.

The first period playing of the border town team was responsible for the win as two goals were pushed into the cage behind the veteran net-minder, Bill O'Neill. The second period was even as far as territorial play but the visitors managed, despite the stiff opposition offered by the St. Andrews team, to keep a lead which stood at 3-2 at the end of the verse. Early in the final frame the locals pulled up on even terms by scoring the tying marker but late in the frame Lowe, on an unassisted attempt, drove home a well-directed shot to turn the tide and to give his team the narrow margin of victory.

A capacity crowd witnessed the affair and while they were somewhat disappointed in the loss, they showed their appreciation of the smart hockey by cheers and applause. In the opening period "Boof" McIntee, star defence ace of the St. Stephen club, suffered a cut on his head and was forced out of competition.

Beavers Still Winning
SAINT JOHN, N. B., Jan. 23.—Saint John Beavers added another victory to their already long and perfect list last night at The Forum by defeating Rothesay Oaks, 8-4 in a league encounter. The victory gave them another pair of points which placed them further out in front of the Southern New Brunswick Hockey League.

While the game did not consist of sparkling hockey throughout the entire periods, flashes of fine form were shown and interest was at high pitch. Feeling among the players ran high and a climax was reached in the middle verse when McCabe and Hunter sparred for a few minutes then a free-for-all took place, but before any damage was done order was restored and the two leaders in the fray were sent to the penalty box for five minutes.

Beavers did not play the brand of hockey against the suburbanites they have displayed in former games, but the match was well received by the small number of fans. Rothesay players seemed disorganized in their attacks and the majority of the plays rested on individual attempts. Players of both squads found it impossible to work smooth combination and passing plays on account of the playing surface which was rough and grooved.

Athletic Commission Flourishes in Ontario
TORONTO, Jan. 23.—A clean financial sheet, following payment of a $11,500 debt, was presented at the first 1936 meeting of the Ontario Athletic Commission here today. Under the chairmanship of Hon. J. A. Faulkner, the commission welcomed its new vice chairman, Dr. F. P. Moore of Hamilton.

The commission decided to conduct the summer camp at Lake Couchiching as usual this year and to invite the Olympic committee to use the training facilities there before the team goes overseas.

Grants of $500 were made to the Ontario Secondary Schools Association for the furtherance of sport in the high schools of the province; the Ontario Baseball Association for development of junior players and the Ontario Lacrosse Association for development of young players.

A resolution of sympathy was passed to the family of the late vice-chairman, Harris Ardiel of Windsor.

McADAM HIGH WON
McADAM, Jan. 23.—McAdam High defeated St. Andrews High School hockey team 6-4 on Friday night here. The ice was good and the game was fast with good hockey and hard checking at the defences, with the locals having a slight edge as the score shows.

FREDERICTON AND NEWCASTLE ARE TIED FOR SECOND
CAMPBELLTON, Jan. 23.—Campbellton's three rinks competing in the provincial bonspiel here were undefeated as the second day of the big annual event came to a close this morning at 2.50 o'clock.

In the singles the home rink won all three matches adding to Tuesday's total for a record of six wins and no losses to date. The doubles rinks, after winning two matches on the opening day of the bonspiel, added another victory for a total of three victories and no defeats.

Early this morning Campbellton was picked by rinks already out of the race to take honors in both divisions this year.

This morning Bathurst was the only singles in the running for the championship with five victories and one loss, unless Campbellton drops two today. Fredericton and Moncton and Newcastle were tied for third with four wins and two defeats. Fredericton and Newcastle were deadlocked for second in the doubles.

Disposes of Border Rink
Bathurst, with Nick Thibodeau at the helm, had little trouble in disposing of the border rink from St. Stephen, 21-8 and the other match, Thistles of Saint John went down to defeat at the hands of Fredericton four. Thistles put up a stiff battle although they failed to break into the winning column.

Campbellton singles rink kept its winning streak intact in afternoon and early night games with a 16-12 victory over Fredericton.

Campbellton doubles rink was also victorious in the early evening fixtures by defeating Dalhousie 36-13 and Fredericton took two, one from Moncton 22-20 and another from Bathurst 21-22.

Two rugged battles featured the matches on the card between 8 p.m. and 10.30 p.m. Campbellton was forced to 13 ends to take an 11-10 match from Newcastle and St. Andrew's lost in another 13-end battle with Fredericton. C. A. Beatey skipped St. Andrew's for an eight and W. Limerick of Fredericton piloted his rink to a nine.

Jack Doyle Reserves Opinion
NEW YORK, Jan. 23 — Jack Doyle, back on roadway after a short rest, was looking over the pugilistic scene. Jack has been looking over the pugilistic scene for forty years, and you were interested to know what he thought of it right now. What, for instance, did he think of Joe Louis and the negro's chances to wrest the heavyweight championship crown from James J. Braddock come next September?

"Louis may be the great fighter that nearly everybody thinks he is," he said, "but I will have to see him lick Braddock before I will believe it."

But he liked what he had seen of Louis so far, didn't he?

"Sure I do," he said. "I'd be hard to please if I didn't, wouldn't I? The way that fellow tore down Carnera and battered Baer was something to see. Mind, I don't say that Carnera and Baer were great fighters. Far from it. But Louis did a workmanlike job on both of them. You had to like him for that. But you don't—or, at least, I don't—have to go all the way with him yet."

Well, then, what did he want to see Louis do?

"That's easy," he said. "I want to see him beat somebody who isn't afraid of him. The fellows he has beaten so far were beaten before they went into the ring, weren't they?"

You agreed that they were.

"Well," he said, "when he meets Braddock he will be meeting a fellow who will not be afraid of him. I am waiting to see what happens then."

JACK MARKLE JOINS LEAFS
TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 23 — Just about the time Jack Markle was figuring he parted his hair on the wrong side and International League netmen were ready to throw up jittery hands in despair, the highest-scoring player in minor league hockey joined Toronto Maple Leafs.

Markle, king-pin of the Syracuse Stars, the "hottest" forward in the International circuit, was ordered yesterday to report to the Leafs for his first tryout in the National League. He will make his debut here tonight against Montreal Canadiens.

Eight years and a half the black-haired right winger toiled in the International Hockey League and all but three of these with the Syracuse club. He jumped to professional ranks in the fall of 1927, a few months after he helped Owen Sound Greys win the Canadian Junior championship. And he showed more for a big league tryout than most of them.

He neared the 20-goal-a-season mark back in 1931, without getting even a nod from the big league bosses. The following season he banged an even 20 goals and contributed 12 assists to the Syracuse cause. But the National Hockey League men still were looking the other way and it seemed Markle never would go up.

Last season he led International Hockey League pointmakers with 43 — 23 goals and 20 assists. He was placed at right wing on the league's all-star team and Syracuse fans voted him the most valuable and popular player on the star lineup. The only honor Markle really wanted—a chance to make good higher up—didn't come his way.

So the sharpshooter picked up his artillery and surrounded by a fast and eager group seeking berths with Toronto Leafs, he outshone them all. He bagged his 30th scoring point of the season last night against London Tecumsehs—30 points in 26 games he scored. He led the league when the Leafs got him.

DANNO IS TOPS IN RING PROFITS
Earned Quarter Million in 1935, and 1936 Looks Like Good Year
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Danno O'Mahoney and Joe Louis were probably the biggest money makers of any of the outstanding sports figure during the year just closed, and the wrestling champion is probably the richer of the two on what each has to show for his earnings over the year. Danno, it is estimated, grossed not less than a quarter of a million dollars in 1935.

Incidentally, George Hackenschmidt, from whom a belated card of season's greetings has just come to hand from the Riviera, was the only mat champion, with the exception of O'Mahoney, who fought his way up to title honors with defeat.

Of course, the Russian Lion's task was much more difficult than that of the Irish Bear. Feature mat engagements in Hackenschmidt's day were usually for the best two out of three falls. The same condition applied when such noted grapplers as Frank Gotch, Freddie Beel and Tom Jenkins were in the limelight.

The Crueltest Mat King
Gotch, as a matter of record, lost falls and the match to both Beel and Jenkins, when he first came to New York. Later, Gotch, who was one of the cruellest men in the game, re-venge himself on both Jenkins and Beel. When he reached the top and Jenkins and Beel had passed their prime, they were terribly manhandled by the then champion.

Old time wrestlers, to whom the name of Gotch is aathema on account of his cruelly revengeful nature, will tell you that fate meted out its own punishment to Gotch. Anyway, Frank came to a dreadful end.

While still champion he retired and joined a circus venture with which he travelled for a year or more. During one of his exhibitions he suffered an injury which he neglected too long. When he did place himself in the hands of doctors poisoning had already been contracted in the blood stream. The check for uremic poisoning had not yet been found at that time and Gotch was carried back to his home, where he soon passed away.

Jack Curley, who attended the funeral, says the change that had come over the once fine athlete was almost unbelievable. From a grandly built figure of manhood weighing over two hundred pounds he had fallen away to an unrecognizable being of less than half his normal weight.

Hack And Danno
Getting back to the more modern mat giants and their record, Jim Lond-Strangler Ed Lewis, Jim Brown-ing and Joe Stecher and all the champions were beaten one or more times on their way up. Hackenschmidt and O'Mahoney alone stand out as men who had never had their shoulders pressed to the mat during their climb, and Hackenschmidt reigned supreme for some years until Gotch proved his master, but under conditions which many contend did not permit a fair test of the ability of the Russian.

Chief Little Wolf, if you will take his word for it, will see to it that

When the York All Stars take the ice tonight against the Rothesay Oaks they will have one of the most prominent coaches in the Maritimes directing them from the players bench. He is Larry McLean, who took over the duties of coach Tuesday night. Although the University team has first option on big Larry, he has expressed his willingness to attend to the Yorks long enough to beat the Saint John Beavers, top place team in the league

When the Oaks appear here tonight the fans will see many old faces that they once saw on the one time top ranking Sussex Dairy Kings. Such men as John LeClair, Nutter, Harmer and Hunter appear on the team. When one casts his eye over the familiar names it is remindful of the Old Southern League days.

Tomorrow night the Yorks go to Saint John where they will play the Beavers in what will be the last meeting of these two teams before the playoffs. The Yorks are out to win this one, having gone down to defeat at the hands of the fast-skating Beavers three times this year. Last night the Beavers put an 8-4 lacing on the Oaks and seem to look just as good as ever. So if Larry can coach the Yorks into beating the Beavers, he is doing something worth while.

The Fredericton curlers got away to a bad start in the Provincial Bonspiel at Campbellton yesterday, but today they are showing some class in the doubles competition, having put themselves in second place standing with the Newcastle rink.

The U.N.B. Senior basketballers defeated Marysville Maple Leafs 27-21 in the College gym last night in one of the roughest games ever played there. Play all through the game was ragged and there was not much opportunity for the Collegians to show much of the class they have been showing in inter-class games. Scotty Donaldson, who is captain of the Varsity team, played a good game for the Seniors, garnering twelve of his team's points. Sullivan of the Leafs was the next high scorer with nine points. Page of the Leafs also played a good game.
