Uncle Ezra Realizes a Life Dream

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Pat Barrett (Uncle Ezra) and his wife, Nora Cunningham, who also is heard over Uncle Ezra's Radio Station EZRA, may have drought worries to look forward to, now that they have bought a 167-acre dairy farm near Lake Geneva, Wis., but right now there isn't a happier man in the world than Pat. For 30 years the Rosedale sage has dreamed of a "place in the country" where he could fish and hunt to his heart's desire. Now he has such a place, and although his modern 11 room home is anything but rural, it is situated in one of the happiest hunting grounds this side of Canada. Uncle Ezra already has bought his hunting license and is prepared for the autumn hunting season. Meanwhile, he is fishing in nearby lakes and broadcasting each Monday Wednesday and Friday over his powerful little five-watt, EZRA, under the sponsorship of the Miles Laboratories, Inc. The programme is heard over the NBC-Red Network at 7.17 p.m., EST.

Edward Everett
Horton Joins the Shell Chateau

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 10.—Edward Everett Horton, film comedian, has few idle moments in his new role as a permanent member of the Shell Chateau programme, broadcast on Saturdays over the NBC-Red Network at 9.30 p.m., EST. With Smith Ballew, master of ceremonies, Horton selects the guest stars, introduces the performers, and their acts and interviews the celebrities. But that isn't all, Edward Everett also takes the spotlight in dramatic sketches. And just to show what he can do, the tall, somber-faced comedian on Oct. 3, played the lead role in a scene from "The Doctor in Spite of Himself," a play Moliere wrote in 1666.

Horton recently returned from London, where he made a picture. Before going to England, he made several appearances on Shell Chateau as interviewer and actor. Ballew and the sponsor arranged for him to continue his Shell Chateau performances as soon as he finished his picture assignments abroad.

Born in Brooklyn, New York, and graduated from Columbia University, Horton began his stage career as a member of a Gilbert and Sullivan chorus when he was 20 years old. After 13 years on the stage Horton was signed for a part in the movie, "Too Much Business." His outstanding characterization in this role established him as a comedian. Since then Horton has had few idle days, for Hollywood producers found that almost every scenario had a role that could be appropriately portrayed by the wiry-faced comedian. Almost unprecedented is Horton's record of playing in nearly 50 feature-length films and shorts within a period of eight years.

Paul Recommends
10 Favorite Books

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—In a recent episode of One Man's Family on NBC, Paul Barbour recommended to Hazel a list of "must books for her library. Not a day goes by now but what some fan writes in for the list. Here it is:

"Mexican Interlude," by Joseph Henry Jackson; "San Francisco, A Pageant," by Charles Caldwell Dobie; "The Nigger of the Narcissus," by Joseph Conrad; "An Ocean Tramp," by William McFee; "Constantinople," by Pierre Loti; "The Forsythe Saga" by John Galsworthy; "The Great Hunger" by John Bojer; "Jurgen" by James Branch Cabell; "Classic Myths" by C. M. Gayley; "The Way of All Flesh" by Samuel Butler; "The Peasants" by Ladislav Reymont; "I Go A-Fishing" by W. C. Prime; "The Innocent Voyage" by Richard Hughes; "The Three Musketeers" by Alexandre Dumas; "Over Bemmerton" by E. V. Lucas; "The Haunted Book Shop" by Christopher Morley.

Needless to say, the list represents the literary taste of Author Carlton E. Morse. These are books which he believes no library, however large or small, should lack.

CONDITION OF
CHINESE LEPCERS
TO BE STUDIEDWood Memorial Head
Plans Two-Month
Tour

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Perry Burgess, president of the Leonard Wood Memorial, is planning a two months' tour of China to inspect conditions among lepers there.

With the possible exception of India, Mr. Burgess said, no nation has so many lepers as China and he quoted estimates to the effect that as much as one-tenth of the population of Southern China is afflicted with the disease. "Often," Mr. Burgess said, "the few whom they attempt to care for are kept under the most wretched conditions."

"It is very depressing to see these pitiful groups of men, women and children standing listlessly about, robbed of all hope, in the advanced stages in which most of them find themselves. Medical science is their sole hope. This organization, to the extent of its financial ability, is leaving no scientific step untaken that holds any promise of finding a solution to this age-old curse."

RADIO IN BRIEF

MELODIC STRINGS

"Night Music" from "Serenade" in four parts, by Mozart, will introduce Alexander Chuhaldin's programme "Melodic Strings" to the national network audiences on Monday, October 12, at 9.00 p.m. The famous string orchestra will play from the Toronto studios of the Canadian Radio Commission and will again feature two special arrangements by the celebrated conductor. These will be "Largo" by Handel, and Rimsky-Korsakov's "Flight of the Bumble Bee," which will be played as a request. The programme will conclude with "Babillage," by Gillet.

STRIKE UP THE BAND

Glamorous music and music that the whole world loves will be heard over the national network of the Canadian Radio Commission from the Toronto studios on Monday, October 12, at 10 p.m. when Geoffrey Waddington again takes the baton for his colorful new programme, "Strike Up the Band." Lovely Jean Haig and James Shields, sensational young Canadian tenor, will be the featured vocalists, with the presentation orchestra under Waddington. "Music for everybody" is the motif behind this weekly feature which selects the highlights from musical scores, light operatic and musical comedy.

On the above date Jean Haig will be heard to advantage in one of her own great favorites, "Alice Blue Gown," by Tierney, and in Kreisler's lovely song "You Are Free," James Shields will sing "Tell Me Tonight," Spoliansky's song from the picture of the same name, and "Song of Songs" by Moya.

The orchestra will be featured in "Jerico," Espana, Tales from Vienna Woods, by Strauss; Annie Laurie, as played in a variety of tempos and selections from "The Desert Song" by Sigmund Romberg.

PERRY STILL FIRST

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Fred Perry of England and Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Cal., rule the tennis world, in the opinion of A. Wallis Myers, British authority, in his "first 10" rankings for 1936.

Perry retained the No. 1 position without dispute by holding the all-England title and recapturing the United States championship.

Miss Jacobs was elevated to the spot for winning the all-England crown after eight unsuccessful attempts—and despite her loss of the United States title.

The year's rankings saw red-headed Don Budge, of Oakland, Cal., pull up from sixth to third behind the German, Gottfried von Cramm; Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., 1935 United States titleholder, drop from fourth to seventh, and Bryan (Betsy) Grant, jr., of Atlanta admitted to the exclusive set for the first time at No. 8.

MIDDLE CLASSESScheme is Inevitable,
Croll Tells
Druggists

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—State health insurance, which he declared to be "inevitable" in Ontario, will be designed to help the middle classes, Hon. David A. Croll, Ontario Minister of Labor and Welfare, said at a meeting of the Co-operative Drug Trading Company last night. He told the 600 druggists from all parts of the province the Ontario Government is at ready studying the matter.

When such legislation eventually arrives the insurance plan will be built upon the framework already provided by the medical relief system said Mr. Croll.

As the situation stood at present only two classes of society could count really adequate medical attention—the well-to-do with the money to pay for it, and the unemployed, who receive it through the medical relief system.

"What about the man in between," he asked, "the low wage-earner, who is too proud to ask, too poor to pay? To him any illness is a difficulty and a serious illness is a catastrophe. He's the one, the man earning up to $2,000 a year, who would be helped by State health insurance."
