SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

At the three-table Bridge given yesterday by Mrs. H. H. Ritchie in honor of her mother, Mrs. W. P. Jones who has lately taken up residence in the city, the winners of the prizes were Mrs. Walter Limerick, Mrs. Joseph Dolphin and Mrs. Frank Murchie.

Miss Louise Sterling was the winner of the prize yesterday at the charming Bridge given by Mrs. Harold R. Babbitt in honor of Mrs. Bernard Sisam.

Mrs. A. L. Gerow was hostess yesterday and today at her home at two charmingly arranged luncheons. Covers were laid for twelve. The decorations were in keeping with the New Year and in green and silver. The table was appointed with a lace cover artistically centred and with green and silver tapers in silver candelabra at each end. The favors were old fashioned corsages.

Wedding Anniversary

About thirty friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wade last evening to celebrate the twenty-fourth anniversary of their wedding. Games and dancing were enjoyed and refreshments served by the bride of 24 years ago, assisted by some of the ladies present. Several lovely gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. Wade and K. S. Goodspeed thanked those present. A mock wedding featured the surprise of the evening. The bride was summoned in a hurry, a lace cover from a sewing machine being used as a veil. She carried a bouquet of wax flowers held in a pickle bottle. The Wedding March was played by Miss Clara (Toots) McFarlane. Mrs. Allan Woodworth acted as bridesmaid while Fred Galloway supported the nervous bridegroom. The ceremony was performed by Stanley Goodspeed who took a sales catalogue and read a text amidst much laughter from those present and had just begun when some one snickered from the rear of the audience and off went his cotton mustache. After the ceremony the couple were introduced as Mr. and Mrs. Huffle Scuffler of Turtle Island. The party broke up at midnight wishing Mr. and Mrs. Wade many more years of happiness after a most pleasant evening. The "pastor" for the ceremony wore a long tailed coat, white vest, old fashioned specks, cotton mustache and whiskers and with his collar on backwards.

The Bliss Carman Memorial Chapter, I.O.D.E., held their January meeting last night at the home of Miss Margaret Scott. Miss Rhoda Young, Regent, presided. Christmas activities were reviewed and letters read from families assisted at that season. The report of the treasurer, and that of the welfare committee was given. Those chosen for the nominating committee were Miss Jean Staples, Miss Eleanor Bartlett and Miss Irma Mawhinney. The names of three prospective members were submitted and one new member was welcomed into the order. A bulletin was read in connection with the Endowment Fund, giving the members a clearer understanding of this undertaking. The hostesses in the social hour were Miss Scott and Miss Rhoda Young, they being assisted by Miss Margaret Clarke.

Division "B" will be made up of Model, Devon, and York-Vocational.

Tomorrow morning games in the school league will be played at the Arctic rink as follows: 8.30, Model vs. York-Vocational; 9.15, St. Dunstan's vs. Smythe. Any boys who want to play and have not yet been signed up on some team should get in touch with Ralph Albrant of the Y.M.C.A. or the principal of their school.

Those present at last night's meeting were: R. K. Nevers, R. J. Murray, E. Skene, E. C. Close, C. Murray, F. H. Wetmore and R. J. Albrant. A meeting of captains and managers of the school teams is being held tonight to discuss the changes made and the completion of the schedule. Mr. Albrant is giving a chalk talk on the playing rules of hockey at this meeting.

Week of Prayer

Last evening was the fourth of the week of prayer and was observed by two services, one in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and one in the Reformed Baptist church. The fine attendance which characterized previous meetings continued.

Rev. G. W. Guioi delivered the address at St. Andrew's church. Christianity has always met world crises with just what was required. Mr. Guioi began and asked, "Is Christianity still competent to meet the world's need?" Missionaries in the field today are confronted by obstacles never before encountered. Flaming nationalism, communism and militarism have made the work of the missionaries inestimably harder. Particularly in the east it is so. In China the gospels of Jesus Christ and Carl Marx have joined issue. Mr. Guioi then spoke of missionary work at the home base. He said it is something to be ashamed of that financial support of foreign missions holds such a minority in our lives. The matter does not involve an interest in missions as much as an interest in Jesus Christ. We are missionaries in spirit only when we share with Him the vision of a redeemed world.

Rev. Dr. Ross presided at this service last evening. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. J. W. Bartlett. The choir of St. Andrew's church, directed by R. C. Bailey, A.T.C.L., led the singing. An enjoyable feature of the service was the soprano solo "The Lord is My Refuge" by Miss Marion Edney.

St. Paul's W.M.S.

The monthly meeting of St. Paul's W.M.S. was held Thursday afternoon in the Fraser Memorial hall with Mrs. Telford presiding. Following the regular business and devotional meeting the president appointed various committees to act for the coming year. A feature of the meeting was the reading of annual reports by the different officers. The treasurer, Mrs. R. A. MacMillan reported that $547.48 had been forwarded to the Presbyterian secretary. This report was particularly gratifying as it showed an increase over the allocation of $525. Mrs. Telford announced that all the missionary societies of St. Paul's had raised the amounts to meet their allocations. Other reports submitted were: Christian Stewardship and Finance, Mrs. W. M. Kesson; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Ernest Bell; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. H. A. Watson; Strangers' Secretary, Mrs. Harry Smith; Associate Helpers' Secretary, Mrs. T. A. Belmore; Supply Secretary, Mrs. J. M. MacKinnon; Missionary Monthly Secretary, Miss Helen Everett; Baby Band Secretary, Mrs. J. H. Malcolm.

The study period was in charge of Mrs. J. E. Sewell, who gave a most interesting talk on "The Faiths of Africa." Short discussions of this topic were read by Mrs. J. M. MacKinnon, Mrs. T. A. Belmore, Mrs. A. Benson, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. E. D. Green, Mrs. R. A. MacMillan and Mrs. E. A. Skene. There was an excellent attendance at the meeting. Several new members were welcomed into the society.

McAdam High School Named Writing Point

McAdam High School has been named as a point for writing high school leaving and matriculation examinations, it was announced last night by Dr. A. S. McFarlane, chief superintendent of education. The decision to have McAdam as a writing point for these examinations was made yesterday at a meeting of the Board of Education for the province. Several other matters taken up at the board meeting have not yet been announced and the information will not be available to the public until probably tomorrow, it was intimated by Premier A. A. Dymally today. The government is meeting today, but no announcements were made previous to this afternoon's meeting. The cabinet will conclude its business for the week this afternoon, it is thought.

The fact that students will be allowed to write matriculation and high school leaving examinations at the McAdam High School will be a great convenience to students in that section of the province, who in former years have had to travel to Fredericton to write their examinations.

Sittings Conclude at Bathurst

BATHURST, N. B., Jan. 10.—The Board of Review under the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act with Mr. Justice Richards, W. A. McLellan, E. A. Baker and Paul C. Quinn in session, concluded its sittings here yesterday morning when the hearing in the matter of the application of Marcell Legacy of Green Point was completed. Decision was reserved. The board left for Moncton, where it will sit tomorrow and Saturday.

Brother and Sister Arrested in Case

They cited several instances of persons with fractured skulls exercising this much if not more physical effort. Medical testimony at the inquest in Moncton Wednesday was to the effect that it would be impossible for the woman, with such an injury, to have struggled on more than a few feet.

Trail Of Blood

Police also repeated that spots of blood had been found at intervals along the road over which the woman is believed to have fought her way, trying to reach Lutes' house with her young son. The scuffle of footprints at the spot where the two bodies were discovered were believed explained by the woman staggering around in circles before she finally fell, dead. The footprints leading off the road through the woods started several feet away from this area.

At Moncton police headquarters last night, Arthur Bannister was under a 24-hour police guard. Following the taking into custody of his sister, he was transferred today from the women's ward to the empty juvenile ward. Frances being held in a cell in the downstairs section of the jail.

In a statement to the press at Moncton last night, Clarence Cormier and Alfred LeBlanc, released after questioning, claimed that they had been at a party in Moncton Sunday night. Both denied that they had ever seen Arthur Bannister, until taken before him for 'identification.' They said Bannister's description of two men had tallied evidently with theirs. They claimed that when they were taken before Bannister a second time yesterday morning, Bannister stated they were not the men he meant. Shortly afterwards they were released, on instructions of Harry W. Hickman, Moncton, clerk of the peace who, with G. F. G. Bridges, Moncton, will probably conduct the prosecution.

Only two members of the Bannister family, the mother, Mrs. May Bannister, 40, and a daughter, Marie, 13, are now at their humble home on Berry's Mills Road, broken-hearted.
