DO YOU REMEMBER?

When Billy Jones and Ernie Hare, the "Happiness Boys," were the rage of radio and their Friday evening broadcasts were marked "must listen" on every family calendar? (Recently they returned to the air briefly for a guest appearance on the "Cap'n Henry's Showboat.")
When a youthful musical comedy graduate made her debut on the airwaves and audiences predicted she'd be a "sensation"? (Kate Smith, more than five years after that historic occasion, continues to maintain her supremacy as radio's Number One feminine singer of popular songs.)
When the dialect team of Burbig and Ross convulsed CBS listeners, nearly five years ago? (Today, David Ross is one of radio's outstanding announcers, winner of the annual Announcers' Diction Award and spokesman for the Andre Kostelanetz bi-weekly broadcasts.)

When a girl named Gracie Allen appeared as one of radio's first guest stars on Eddie Cantor's Sunday evening programme and scored such a hit that thousands of letters came pouring in, demanding to hear her again? (Today the baby voiced Gracie and her partner, George Burns, are among the brightest stars in the firmament, unchallenged by competitors in their own unique line of comedy talent.)
When a young cartoonist occasionally bobbed up in the John B. Kennedy "Collier's Hour," on the NBC network, to tell interesting facts about people and things? (Robert "Believe It Or Not" Ripley will resume his own series of novel "Believe It Or Not" dramatizations on Sunday, Oct. 4.)
When a tenor named Paul Oliver was the star of an early broadcast series called the "Palmolive Hour"? (That same tenor, under his own name — rank Munn — is doing very well these days, singing on "The American Album of Familiar Music," and other programmes.)

UNITED STATES—Ethel Barrymore, veteran actress and sister of John and Lionel Barrymore of the movies, announced her retirement from the stage. "I live in the country, and I never want to live anywhere else," she said.

Jean Dahl, young radio actress, a graduate of Carnegie Tech., and native of Minneapolis, is honeymooning with Neill O'Malley, who is "Tex" to the Bobby Benson fans, and who played one of the leading roles in "Bury the Dead" on Broadway last season.

Singin' Sam, always noted as one of the best salesmen of his sponsor's product, has devised a new selling method which fits his character perfectly. He will introduce it this fall on NBC. It will be entertaining as well as productive.

GRACIE ALLEN

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 21—George Burns and Gracie Allen, the only topnotch radio comedy team to continue broadcasting without interruption throughout the summer months, will be heard from Honolulu over station KGMB and the Columbia network on their regular Wednesday evening spot, at 8.30 p.m., AST, during the last two weeks in August. Theirs will be the first commercial programmes ever aired in a transcontinental broadcast from Honolulu.

Though they will be spending their vacation in the tropical city, their "work" will go on as usual during the holiday, keeping their record of summer radio appearances unbroken. Because of the necessity of arranging the schedule to fit in with motion picture commitment, the exact dates of the broadcasts have not yet been set. However, the Honolulu programmes are tentatively slated for August 19 and 26.

Gracie's hilarious inanities and George's helpless replies will be conveyed to radio listeners from the grand ballroom of the Royal Hawaiian Hotel in the capital of Hawaii. Harry Owens' orchestra, which currently furnishes music for dancing at the hotel, will occupy a share of the Burns and Allen programmes.

The comedy pair intend to make the trip to Honolulu by boat, embarking at Los Angeles for the five day journey. Friends suggested a plane trip, but the idea was promptly vetoed by Burns, who explained:

"It wouldn't be any novelty—Gracie's up in the air most of the time, anyway!"

Tex Ritter, famous cowboy singer and "Diogenes" to the Bobby Benson listeners, listened to the call of the pictures and flew to Hollywood on Monday, August 17, there to star in a series of western pictures for an independent producer.

HELEN SAYS TENNIS IS A GREAT BUILDER

MANCHESTER-BY-THE-SEA, Aug. 21—One of the women's tennis classics of the country, the 12th annual Essex Country Club Tournament, put on here this week, had its share of odd angles during the opening round today. A hot sultry morning found the earlier players near exhaustion from the scorching sun and the humidity. At lunch time it began to look like a washout when the heavens opened to drench the more optimistic of the fans, and those players in matches not yet finished.

Indeed the rain did such a thorough job and then returned once more, that the tournament committee decided that it would be all for the day and so advised the players at the clubhouse. But the decision had hardly been made when the sun peeked through the gray clouds and lent encouragement for a continuation. After some scurrying around the players were informed of the newest plans with the result that the whole first round was eventually completed and one match played in the second round.

The rain did provide for an opportunity to become better acquainted with Miss Helen Jacobs, number one ranking player of the country and first seeded player of the tournament and recent champion at Wimbledon. The Berkeley girl who only recently returned from England and had hardly got her bearings as yet, was wild when she was questioned relative to her reported intentions of turning professional, and denied emphatically that there was any truth in the rumors.

"I'm sick and tired of hearing stories about my turning professional. Since my return to the States there

4 New Stakes

On Grand Circuit

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 20—Four new stakes with a total value of $70,000 will be raced on the Grand Circuit next year, E. Roland Harriman, president of the Trotting Horse Club of America, announced today.

Two of the stakes will be worth $25,000 each while the other two will have a value of $10,000 each. The events will be open to trotters of all ages, furnishing for the first time stakes for older horses rivaling the Hambletonian in value.

A new departure in trotting is being adopted with the $25,000 races. They will be dashes of one and one-half miles each, instead of the usual two-out-of-three mile heat. The $10,000 stakes will be decided on the two-out-of-three basis, however.

The $25,000 trot will be known as the All-American; the $25,000 pace as the Pacing Derby, the $10,000 trot as the Champion, and the $10,000 pace as the Single G. Stake, in honor of the famous sidewheeler of 10 years ago.

Where the four new events will be raced has not been decided. Entries close Oct. 10.

have also been stories circulated that I am too ill to play tennis any more. I don't know who starts these whisperings but none of them is true.

No Heart Trouble

"They say that I have heart trouble and that I'm all through. Well, I never felt better in my life, and you can quote me on that. I am not suffering from any heart ailment nor any other illness and such rumors are deliberate falsehoods."

It is Miss Jacobs' opinion that tennis is a coming sport, one not destined to remain strictly a country club sport, one to be played more universally throughout the country, more on the style of baseball, although she is certain it will never replace the national pastime.

In Arrears

The vicar was addressing a mixed social gathering in the village hall—speaking a short sermon on "Motherhood." "And, my friends, I invite any one of you to tell me," he said, pursuing the course of his lecture, "to what woman do any one of you owe more than you can ever pay?" Expecting, of course, the orthodox reply, "My mother, sir," the parson was astounded to see a stout woman who took in boarders stand up and, obviously turning towards a young man farther along the row, shout: "Nar then, Jim Higley, 'ere's yer chance to give me a bit of an advert!"

Tender-Hearted

The Market Man: "I have some very fine shell oysters, all fresh and alive."

Mrs. June Bride: "You may send me enough for my husband and myself and have them killed and dressed. I couldn't bear to chop their heads off myself."
