Olympics Score 8-5 Win

N. B. ALL STARS SWARM OVER OLYMPICS IN FINAL PERIOD - VISITORS LACK "PUNCH."

MONCTON, Jan. 15 — Moncton's youthful homebrew Maroons, bolstered by the addition of Vince Livingstone, Bill Gulliver, Jerry McCabe and Bill Walker of Saint John Beavers and Rollie Robertson of Mount Allison, tonight threw a scare into Canada's Olympic hockey team here. The Olympic squad just managed to come through with an 8-5 win in a game that kept upwards of 1,000 fans on edge until the final gong.

The first period gong found the Olympics leading 2 to 1, but in the middle session they ran wild through the New Brunswick youngsters and when the 40-minute mark was reached the count was 7 to 2.

In the final canto "Dud" James forced his charges and they hemmed the Port Arthur-Montreal collection in behind their own blue line for fully 12 minutes of the 20 and but for the sensational work of "Jumping" Jackie Nash between the uprights they might have copped the contest.

The Port Arthur-Montreal players possess neither the "punch" of the old Moncton Hawks nor the ability of last year's Wolverines. Their showing here was one which left those who attended the game with a feeling that the upholding of Canada's hockey supremacy at the Olympics may be seriously challenged or even lost this year.

Had "Buz" Barton, local goalie, played the brand of hockey he displayed in the final period in the middle canto the story might have been considerably different for the Olympics rapped home five markers in the middle 20 minutes. Three of the goals were practically "gifts". In the last period Barton played stellar hockey and pulled off several fine saves on what appeared to be goal-labelled.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 16—Eddie Gerald, 21-year-old shortstop in the Toronto Major Amateur Baseball League, will try out with Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League at Haines City, Florida, this spring. Six feet tall and 168 pounds in weight, Gerald led his league in batting last season with a .471 average.

SENATORS AND YORKS MEET HERE TONIGHT

The St. Andrews Senators arrived here on the noon train to play the York All Stars in a regular Southern League fixture in the Arctic Rink tonight. Travelling at full strength, the Senators hope to get in the win column by avenging the 1-0 defeat they suffered at the hands of the Yorks in the St. Andrews Arena Monday night. The Yorks, playing their third game of the week, will present their ball lineup tonight and if the strain of too many games does not take effect, they should manage to still further strengthen their second position standing in the league.

With mild weather threatening, it looks as though the game will be played on soft ice which will be a disadvantage to the home team, because of their flare for fast combination. If the ice is soft, however, it will tend to make the game a little closer than former games here between the two teams have been.

The probable lineups tonight will be, Yorks, goal, Young or Staples; defence, Chalmers, Minue and Pickard; forwards, Mills, Steen, Lifford, Keenan, Haining, McIntyre, and Haining.

ROTHESAY OAKS WIN FROM ST. STEPHEN 9-5

SAINT JOHN, Jan. 15 — Rothsay Oaks strengthened their position on third rung of the Southern New Brunswick Hockey League ladder last night by chalking up a 9-5 victory over the fourth place St. Stephen Croix entry in a free-scoring contest at The Forum.

Starting off cautiously the teams opened up in the second period with a wide open brand of play and carried the same tactics into the final session. The first period ended 2-0 for the suburban entry but a wild scoring spree in the second gave them a 7-1 lead. The Border Town team rallied late in the final verse to collect four goals while the Oaks could only cage a pair. Only a small number of spectators witnessed the match which produced some sparkling hockey. St. Stephen considerably strengthened since their last appearance here put forth a fine game but failed in their attempt to dispose of the Oaks again and lost out in the race for third position in the standing.

Oaks play a return game at St. Stephen tonight.

U.N.B. Marksmen Hold Indoor Shoot

Last night the U.N.B. Rifle Association held its first indoor rifle shoot of the season, in the Armouries. About 15 men turned out to shoot in the Canadian Industries Limited indoor competition. Scores also counted in the competition for the Cameron Shield, emblematic of the interclass championship.

The following scores are out of a possible 100:
H. R. Giberson 98
E. M. Nason 95
C. Chapman 92
A. R. Hubbard 88
M. E. Wilson 86

"Flash" Hollett Bought by Bruins

BOSTON, Jan. 15—Bill (Flash) Hollett, 21 year old defenceman, was purchased from Toronto Maple Leafs today by the Boston National League Hockey Club, General Manager Art Ross announced.

Hollett, who had been suffering from a broken hand, was ordered to join the Boston Cubs of the Canadian American League until he is in condition to join the Bruins. He will play with the Cubs against Providence Saturday.

Tommy Gorman is Now Getting Better

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 16—Dr. Gordon C. Booth, physician, Tommy Gorman manager of the Montreal Maroons, of the National Hockey League, said yesterday his patient would leave hospital at the end of this week, cured of an attack of influenza which has confined him to bed for more than three weeks.

Lefty Grove Signs

BOSTON, Jan. 16—Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove, lanky Boston Red Sox pitcher, signed his 1936 contract in New York today, General Manager Eddie Collins here.

Grove, leading pitcher in the American League last year, signed for his third season with the Boston team. He was reported to have received a salary increase.

U.S.A. PLANS EXTENSIVE TRACK CARD

Meets Scheduled For Boston, New York and Chicago

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—The Amateur Athletic Union last night announced virtual completion of a banner indoor track schedule which should aid considerably in preparing U. S. athletes to maintain Olympic supremacy at Berlin this summer.

Eight major undercover meets are included in the schedule which the A. A. U. secretary Dan Ferris described as "the most elaborate ever arranged." In addition, a big midwestern meet is under consideration for the Chicago Stadium on Jan. 29.

The major indoor season will be inaugurated officially Jan. 25 in the Knights of Columbus games at Boston.

Garden Meet

Then most of the big-timers will start swinging into action at important meets that will close with the New York Knights of Columbus games at Madison Square Garden March 14. Secretary Ferris said he expected competition in the 1,500 meters sprints, middle distance races and high jump to feature these meets.

Although Bill Bonthron, erstwhile Princeton powerhouse, will not compete during the indoor season, the mile and its metric equivalent—the 1,500 meters—are expected to provide plenty of thrills. Glenn Cunningham, world record title holder for the indoor mile, probably will run in most of the major meets. Also Gene Venzke, Joe Mangan, Sam Romani, Norman Bright and Frank Nordell.

Bonthron plans light training during the winter, after which he will re-enter competition and try out for the Olympic team. He, Cunningham and Bright give the U. S. plenty of strength in the 1,500 meters, but the foreign competition over this distance is expected to be unusually formidable at Berlin. Lovelock of New Zealand; Wooderson, Reeves and Stothard of England; Becali of Italy; Schaumburg of Germany; and Normand of France turned in impressive performances during 1935.

Sprinters Keen

Competition in the sprints during the winter should be particularly torrid, with Jesse Owens, Eulace Peacock, Ralph Metcalfe and Ben Johnson—four Negro flashes—trying to withstand the challenge of a new white sensation, young Eddie O'Sullivan of the New York Curb Exchange Club. A week ago Saturday, O'Sullivan showed his heels to Peacock in the 80 and 100 meter sprints in Brooklyn. And Peacock is the lad who beat Owens last summer.

Star Jumpers

Two black grasshoppers should furnish plenty of thrills for indoor fans in high jump competition; Cornelius Johnson of Compton Junior College, Calif., and Al Threadgill of Temple. Last summer Johnson approached Walter Mary's indoor record of 6 ft 8 3/4 in., and now Threadgill threatens to beat Johnson. Marty is out of competition, temporarily at least. Threadgill leaped 6 ft. 7 3/4 in. Saturday night at the 69th Army, a record indoor jump without spikes. When he uses spikes at the Garden, Threadgill is expected to go at least an inch higher.

In the middle distance races, chaps like Hornbostel, Ray, Sandler, Beethem, Robinson, Wolf and Borck are expected to command the spotlight. Ben Eastman, Pacific Coast ace will not compete indoors but is expected to be out for the Olympic team. Summing up the Olympic situation, Secretary Ferris said he expected U. S. athletes to do well in all track and field events at Berlin excepting the javelin throw, long distance runs and the hop-skip-and-jump.

pital at the end of this week, cured of an attack of influenza which has confined him to bed for more than three weeks. Dr. Booth said Gorman's temperature had been normal for the last four days and that he was rapidly recovering his strength.

U. S. DAVIS CUP PLANS

Six Players Told to Get Ready for Competition in May

NEW YORK, Jan. 16 — If United States Davis Cup players fail to fare well in this year's competition, it won't be because they are neglecting to plan for the campaign.

With five months yet to elapse before the competition gets under way, the United States Lawn Tennis Association's Davis Cup Committee has notified six players to get ready for the competition that starts in May. They are: Wilmer Allison, Donald Budge, Byron "Betsy" Grant, Frank Shields, Gene Mako and Johnny Van Ryn.

Pro. Services Secured

Tommy Stow, San Francisco professional, has been engaged to see what he can do about ironing out the defects in the play of the red-headed Budge, considered to be the most promising young player in the land at the moment. The association indicated it also stood ready to provide individual instruction for Grant, who downed Budge at Forest Hills last year, Shields, who now is in the movies, and Mako, should these players feel that such instruction would appreciably improve their games.

The association officials indicated that Arthur Hendrix, unranked Floridian who recently downed both Allison and Grant, would be watched as a possible candidate for the team. The association was mindful of the cry for development of young players after the United States team was whitewashed by the British in the challenge round last year.

Italy Withdraws

ROME, Jan. 16—Italy will not participate in the 1936 Davis Cup tennis matches, it was announced yesterday by the Italian Tennis Federation, because of sanctions which the League of Nations has imposed upon Italy.

The Federation also announced that it would not invite any players from sanctionist countries to participate in future Italian tournaments.

It pays to advertise in The Daily Mail.

The smack of leather striking yielding flesh once more resounds through the U.N.B. gym as the Red and Black pugs train for the Maritime Intercollegiate Boxing Tournament, to be held about the middle of March. The first workout was held Tuesday night. Although the turnout was not very large, more are expected to contest the positions on the team.

The boxers did some pre-season training last fall, not with the express intention of getting into condition, but to get more practice in the fundamentals of the game. Coach "Bill" Lasky has some good material at his disposal this season. Besides the comparative old-timers at the game, such as "Cec" Coveney, ex-New Brunswick Amateur featherweight title holder; Lloyd Bartlett, 1935 Maritime Intercollegiate lightweight champ; Captain Ken Corbett, runner-up in the light-heavy division last year; Frank Gordon lightweight, and "By" Fisher, bantam; some of the newcomers who turned out for practice regularly last fall seem to have what it takes. Bob Chalmers, with more coaching in the technical points of the manly art, may develop into a valuable point winner for the Red and Black squad in the heavyweight division. Chalmers is fast on his feet and packs a hard punch in both fists. Several newcomers to collegiate boxing circles, notably Don McKinnon and Rupert Brabin-Smith, also show promise.

The team was hard hit in the welterweight department by the graduation of "San" Guimond, a veteran of four years of scrapping for the U.N.B. club. There are several candidates who will endeavor to fill his boots, but all are inexperienced. The services of Frank Dale, middleweight, were also lost to the team when he failed to return to college. Dale will be hard to replace owing to scarcity of material in this division.

Present plans are to stage the Maritime Intercollegiate Tournament at Fredericton this year. It was U.N.B.'s turn to hold the meet here last year, but the mitt-slingers were not able to finance the proposition. If the scraps are staged here it will be the first time that the Intercollegiate tournament has ever been held at Fredericton. Last spring it was held by St. Francis Xavier at Antigonish, N.S., with only three colleges represented—St. F. X., Nova Scotia Tech and U.N.B. Dalhousie is expected to enter this year, and there is also the possibility that Mount Allison may also enter. Boxing was inaugurated on the Garnet and Gold campus last fall. St. F. X., the 1935 Intercollegiate champs, are expected to give the local squad the stiffest opposition in the coming tournament.

The elimination tournament, also known as the Interclass meet, will be approximately a week before the Maritime bouts. Everyone is eligible, the Varsity team being picked on the various showings the boys make.

Tonight the York All Stars meet the team that gave them the toughest opposition on their recent trip to the American Border—the St. Andrews Senators. The Senators, according to their showing against the Yorks in St. Andrews Monday, have improved greatly, and the fans here are expecting a bang-up game tonight.

It is hoped that the Yorks will play better hockey than they did against the Saint John Beavers here last Thursday night when they suffered a 7-2 defeat. If they are not playing any better than that tonight it will be too bad for them.

The Red and Black hockeyists have been out a few times under the direction of Larry McLean, coach of many U.N.B. championship teams. They look good too—almost as good as the Yorks, and it would not be surprising if the U.N.B. team would give the Yorks a good run for their money before the season is out. It is almost lucky for the Yorks that the Red and Black men are not in the Southern League. That is, judging by their appearance at present and the material they present. Teams and their ability have a faculty of changing quickly.

Ev. Staples, who has been playing with the Yorks, and Wally Wilson, former Bishop's College School and McGill freshman goalie, are trying for the job of kicking out the rubber. So far neither has shown his superiority over the other and it is a close race for that position.

Already Larry has boiled the candidates down to two teams and the practices have taken on a more orderly aspect than formerly. A probable first line is, Garnet Copeland, from last year's squad, at centre, John Kilburn, freshman who played with Fredericton Juniors last year, at left wing, and Cecil Coveney, freshman, who also played with the Juniors last year, at right wing. Coughle, one of last year's first stringers, has been playing on the second line with Owen Sleep and Jack McGinnis. Albert Theberge, who played the first game of the Southern N. B. League with the York All Stars in Saint John, was out for the first time with his alma mater yesterday afternoon. Since returning from his home in Rimouski he has been suffering from an injured knee and has not been out to any workouts. The doubt as to eligibility to play with the University has been cleared up and he will, in all probability, be wearing the Red and Black this year. Deak Palmer, rookie last year with the Red and Black, is showing great improvement on the defence and will likely hold down that position with Captain Bob Chalmers.
