LIQUOR STORE NOT TO OPEN IN EVENINGS

R. G. Fulton, Commissioner Announces the Change For Tonight

Close at 6 p.m.

Experiment Has Not Proved Satisfactory It is Decided

The announcement was made by R. G. Fulton, commissioner of the N. B. Liquor Control Board, that commencing tonight the Fredericton liquor store will close at six o'clock. Speaking in regard to the matter, Mr. Fulton said that from the time the liquor store was opened in this city up to a couple of months ago, the closing hour in the afternoon was 5.30 p.m. In the early summer it was decided to try an experiment and to extend the hours of closing until 9.30 p.m. This experiment has not proved satisfactory and the commission has decided to close at six o'clock. Mr. Fulton had no further statement to make in regard to the matter.

It is understood that the idea of keeping the store open in the evening was considered because the Commission had had several complaints regarding the sale of bootleg liquor. It was contended that large quantities of liquor had been on sale in Fredericton during the evening hours after the liquor store had closed and (Continued on Page Five)

Fredericton's 1936 Exhibition will be officially opened this evening at eight o'clock with a programme to be carried out in the Amusement hall of the main exhibition building. Premier A. A. Dysart will deliver the opening speech and other speakers will be Hon. A. C. Taylor, Minister of Agriculture; Mayor G. Willard Kitchen, W. G. Clark, M.P. for York-Sunbury, and Parker H. Currier, president of the Fredericton exhibition, who will act as chairman.

Weather prospects were none too bright today with a steady rainfall all during the day, but as one of the directors pointed out today many of Fredericton's most successful exhibitions have been inaugurated on opening night by a downpour of rain. The directors and the constant followers of the capital's fall fair are more optimistic for this year's attraction than ever before. And for good reason.

Biggest Show Yet
Secretary C. L. Sypher announced today that the entry list of exhibits is more complete this year than for a number of years. There has been a persistent cry for more space. The Ben Williams' Midway is larger this year and is excellently arranged with more games and a wider variety. It has been necessary to set up more poles and three extra transformers for added lighting. The midway is already taxed to capacity. There are many new rides for the fun-minded exhibition fans. The setup for the 1936 show is ready and more attractive than ever.

At tonight's official opening there will be musical selections by George Olts and his orchestra, as well as solos. An added feature tonight will be an exhibition of acrobatics by the Fearless Flyers troupe, who are part of the openair attractions this year. The acrobatic display will be put on in the Amusement hall.

Children's Day
Monday will be observed as Children's Day. All children up to twelve years of age, or those from grades one to eight inclusive in the city schools will be admitted to the grounds free of charge, and without tickets. There will be special reduced prices for the kiddies on all rides and shows on Monday. The exhibition directors will devote the day to the children's holiday. Bicycle races and games will be part of the attraction to the children. In the evening one of the best fireworks displays will be put on at the race track.

Night-Life

Fredericton has definitely gone Metropolitan. Added to its numerous night-life is now the midnight show. The city turned out in goodly numbers to attend the spook party. That is the result of boredom with higher flights of living, the gay, hot spots, the feverish round of pleasure at last becomes a grind—one eventually seizes any opportunity to return to the simpler things that once he scoffed at.

For some days Fredericton has been agog over the coming midnight show. Parties were arranged, groups formed on the streets to talk about it, one was questioned as to his plans regarding it, greeted at meals with allusions to it. It seems almost incredible that such wholehearted delight in simple, unassuming pleasures still exists.

Round of Pleasure

In small villages far from large centres, when a show is coming there may be a great deal of stir beforehand, but Fredericton is not in this category. Just look—there are two moving-picture theatres, numerous restaurants, some of them open all night, band concerts from time to time, dances not infrequently, and this summer alone there have been a couple of carnivals and a regatta with water sports, all right here in the city. There hasn't been a circus, it is true, but today the exhibition starts, with livestock in plenty, a merry-go-round, Ferris wheel, games of chance and all the paraphernalia for amusement.
