Three applications for electric signs were ordered granted at last night's meeting of the city council. One of these requests was from C. P. Fielding for a sign at the Phoenix Apartments, another was from Modern Tailors, Queen street, and the other from Charles E. McCutcheon, the latter being for a tourist sign on his lawn. Permission was granted to all three, but in the case of Mr. McCutcheon who had already placed the sign, he will be notified that permission should have been obtained before the sign was placed.

FALL PAVING PROGRAMME

The city council at its meeting last night ratified a programme of roads and streets construction outlined by Ald. David McCaughey, chairman of the roads and streets committee, which is to be carried out this fall. The programme includes the paving work about the Cenotaph, and blocks on Church street, Charlotte street, and several others. The cost of this work is in the vicinity of $10,000. Ald. Ray Forbes urged that the Cenotaph paving be made to include the third side of the triangle.

RELIEF FOR SEPTEMBER

The Fredericton city council last night decided to continue direct relief for fifteen or twenty families in the city during the month of September. Ald. F. S. Mundle, chairman of the municipal home committee, said that it was expected the government would pay their share of relief. At the present time there are only twelve or fifteen families in the city on relief. Ald. Forbes thought there was no reason to worry. September, he believed, should be a bright and hopeful month, and there seemed to be lots of work on hand. On motion of Ald. Ross, seconded by Ald. Doohan, the municipal home committee was given authority to deal with relief as it saw fit.

LAXITY IN COLLECTION OF PEDDLER FEES

Aldermen Ross and Doohan Crack at Pol. Commission

"No Teeth in Law"

No Systematic Way of Collecting Fees at the Present Time

More justifiable criticism was levelled against the Police Commission by members of the city council last night at a special meeting, Ald. Dr. B. R. Ross being the head gunner in the attack, and Ald. T. Earle Doohan being an able lieutenant.

The matter arose over the question asked by Ald. Ross as to whose duty it was to collect licenses in the city, and if it were being done, as it should be. "The license law, respecting out-of-town peddlers has no teeth in it," charged Ald. Ross.

Aldermen Ross and Ald. Doohan wished to know if this was another matter for the Police Commission.

"The Police Commission is responsible to no one, and things have been running this way for years," Ald. Doohan asserted.

"Well then let's start one ourself," said Ald. Ross. "We could deputize the city marshal to start with. We should either do something about collecting fees from peddlers or wipe the law off and forget about it," he declared.

One Collector At Present

City Treasurer Hayland told the council that at the present time there is no licensed inspector, the city treasurer being the collector of fees. The procedure in cases where peddlers have been apprehended for selling without license, is to have them reported to the city treasurer, who gets a summons served through the city marshal.

"Is it nobody's duty, then to look after peddlers, and see that they are forced to pay or get out," asked Ald. Ross. He knew of instances where peddlers were in the city, without
