Says Italian

Mr. Mazzuca has three nephews who took part in the Ethiopian campaign and who are now settled in Ethiopia under the Italian programme there. A week or two before the Fredericton man returned here he saw Il Duce in Naples. "But he whisked past in a car so fast that I didn't get a good look at him," said Mr. Mazzuca.

He actually has a copy of the Fascist.

Mr. Mazzuca left a small farm in the province of Cosenza, which yields two crops a year. It was here that he spent the last twenty months. He had no intention of remaining in Italy? "No, I come back to be with Bill and his family. I like it here, too, and besides I've been in Canada for over forty years, you know."

fur-clad child had completely captured. Her tiny bow and unassuming exit created a scene in this hardened outdoor theatre that will be long remembered.

VISITORS ARE LEAVING

The greater number of race fans and exhibition visitors who have been in the city for the past few days have gone to their homes. It is generally thought that more money was spent this year in the city than for some time.

Ald. F. S. Mundle, chairman of the Municipal Home Committee, and Ald. Mayor Kitchen will be absent in New York at that time. Fred I. Haviland, city clerk and treasurer, also is to attend the convention.

Fredericton is not greatly interested in the matter of home construction around which centers no problem in this area, as in Saint John and Moncton, but as to relief the city is bent on having its share of relief monies. Ald. Mundle and Ald. McCaughey will debate these two points at the convention in the interests of the capital city.

various clauses of the Credit House Act and the covenant; that is to say, the executive wants to co-operate if co-operation is feasible.

"The Alberta Credit House Act, Section 4, enacts that applications for registration shall be made at any time in case of persons who are producers, manufacturers or dealers in commodities, so that nothing will be lost by waiting until the Government furnishes information."

Several Alberta manufacturers have signed covenants to participate in the Social Credit basic dividend plan. Hon. E. C. boys' and girls' farm clubs who are the guests of the exhibition were entertained again yesterday and last night at the fair grounds, and most of them left for their homes today. Judging has been completed in all departments. Hon. J. E. Michaud, federal minister of fisheries, was a visitor to the fairgrounds last night, and conversed with the directors, congratulating them on this year's fair.

The booths in the main building were the object of much attention from visitors last night. One of the booths which received considerable attention was that of the M.M.A. booth on the lower floor of the building. It is in the nature of a model grocery store, equipped with all the necessities and specialties that these home-owned stores offer the public from time to time. Jack Watson of Devon, is responsible for the decorative touch.

presenting the popular Minister of Fisheries with a totem pole and a gala cloak of gaudy colours, which he wore during the ceremonies accompanying the reception. He was decorated by the Indian Chief.

En route to the Pacific Coast, Mr. Michaud visited different points in Southern Alberta, and everywhere met New Brunswick people. At Pincher Creek, near McLeod, Alberta, he found a whole colony settled by people from Madawaska County. One of the school districts was called "Cyr School District," a well known Madawaska name. He also visited Jasper Park, Banff, Lake Louise, and crossed the border to visit Glasier Park in Montana. He also paid a visit to Missoula, Montana where many former New Brunswickers, including many Fredericton people, are located. The secretary treasurer of the city of Missoula is a gentleman from Andover, and the leading grocer is a gentleman named Wardle, who belonged originally to Queensbury, York county and is a relative of Dr. G. C. Vanwart of this city.

At Vancouver, Mr. Michaud was the guest of Mayor McGreer, and was also given a dinner by the men engaged in the fisheries industry. At Vancouver Hon. Mr. Michaud found that Editor Brown of the Vancouver Times, was a York County boy, who belonged in the vicinity of Pokiok, and who had married a Miss Roberts, of Tobique, an aunt of Hon. F. W. Pirie, our Minister of Lands and Mines. All the New Brunswickers whom Hon. Mr. Michaud met in the West seemed to be prosperous.

Woodstock

The Woodstock races are always popular with the fans, the attendance from across the line being especially good. Possibly one reason for this is that the races are run promptly without undue delay between heats, or long breaks, to enable the pari-mutuel machines to sell tickets indefinitely. Starters are employed who know how to get their fields away without unnecessary scoring, and an endeavor is always made to look out for the comfort and enjoyment of the race patrons.

The race track and plant form one of the best in Eastern Canada, and the track is exceptionally fast. The remarkable time recorded this year has been made in spite of the fact that the horses are on this course compelled to travel several yards longer than the half mile. When the track was laid out the half mile was measured directly along the rail, instead of around the pole horse position as is customary. As a result, according to the experts, the horses actually cover about 40 yards extra in the mile.

When it is figured that Budwenger at his best travels about 14 yards a second, it can be seen that almost three seconds is thereby added to his time, or in other words that he is actually covering the mile in about 2.03, said by the experts to be equivalent to two-minute time on a mile track.

When it is taken into consideration that several other horses are giving the great Holdaway horse the stoutest kind of opposition, some idea of the class of racing being given down-East fans this year is readily gained.
